

ANOTHER BRITISH SHIP SUNK BY THE GERMANS

ANOTHER GERMAN SHIP SLIPS INTO U. S. PORT

The North German Lloyd Liner
Kronprinz Wilhelm, Daring
Raider Dashes Into Norfolk

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 12.—The German converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, the second of the elusive commerce raiders of the seas for German arms, lay at anchor off here today after a spectacular dash through the line of British and French warships which have been hovering off the Virginia Capes waiting for the expected seaward dash of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The Kronprinz Wilhelm occupies an anchorage in the James river at almost identically the same spot selected by the Prinz Eitel when she reached here March 10.

Coal and provisions. The Kronprinz Wilhelm was being coal and provisioned today. Although Commander Thierfelder of the Kronprinz Wilhelm had asked for 300 tons of coal and supplies for three days the federal authorities allowed him 150 tons only. Before she began taking on coal and supplies, the Kronprinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scanty provisions for the crew of 500 men and sixty-one prisoners from British merchant ships destroyed by her in the South Atlantic.

Captain Thierfelder had been given 24 hours in which to leave port unless he needed coal, provisions and time to make repairs.

It is generally believed that Commander Thierfelder will intern his ship in this port.

Tales of Sea Raids
Officers and crew of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm recounted today thrilling tales of sea raids and destruction that rivalled those of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. During her long voyage through the southern seas since she slipped out of New York harbor August 3 last the Kronprinz Wilhelm sank 14 ships, which with their cargoes were valued at $7,000,000. Nine of the vessels were British, four French and one Norwegian. Nearly a thousand prisoners were taken. This was accomplished with only four guns, two taken from the German cruiser Karlsruhe and two captured from a British merchant vessel.

The Kronprinz Wilhelm was forced to come into port because of an outbreak of the dread beri-beri, and for

RUSSIANS BEGIN THE INVASION OF HUNGARY

Russians Advancing—Austrians Routed in the Dukla Region—Rumors of Another Naval Engagement Off the English Coast—Other War News

The bare announcement was received in London today that the British steamer Wayfarer had been attacked and sunk by a German submarine. The fate of the crew is unknown.

Russians Invade Hungary
From Russian sources it is reported that the invasion of Hungary has begun. A despatch from Lemberg, Galicia, says that the Russians are advancing successfully along a long front between Bartfeld and Uzsok, descending the southern slope of the Carpathians and pressing back the Austrians. In the Dukla region also the Russians are said to have routed the Austrians, forcing them to abandon stores and transports in their retreat.

Fighting in West
The Meuse-Moselle region is still the scene of the principal contest in the west. Although the French attacks have been made with increasing vigor Berlin reports that virtually nothing has been accomplished by these tactics. An official review of these operations contains the statement that the Germans have regained all the positions lost earlier in the fighting with a few unimportant exceptions and that the French have sustained extremely heavy losses.

Naval Battle Off English Coast
London heard rumors today of another naval engagement off the English coast. It is said heavy firing was under way off Scarborough, one of the coast towns attacked by the German squadron in its raid of several months.

FIRING OFF COAST OF SCARBOROUGH—BATTLE REPORTED OFF COAST OF NORWAY
LONDON, April 12.—No official information yet has been vouchsafed concerning the naval engagement reported to have taken place off the coast of Norway. While awaiting details of this action, the British public has been kept interested by the news of sounds of firing off Scarborough on the east coast, the scene of one of the most sensational of the German raids.

French Report Progress
France continues to report progress in the Argonne and beyond the Meuse. At the same time the French authorities admit that the German counter attacks have been exceedingly fierce and that one result is in the capture of a trench. At Eparges the French have not advanced beyond the positions captured by them April 9. Paris admits also that the Germans have recovered some ground temporarily lost by them between Pont-A-Mousson and St. Mihiel but even there the French claim to hold most of their gain.

Germany to Invade Serbia
Interest in the near eastern situation has been stimulated by the receipt in London of two special despatches, one of which declares that the recent mission to Berlin of Field Marshal Von Der Goltz was instigated by the Young Turks, who have declared that Germany must send a strong force to invade Serbia and threaten Bulgaria in order that munitions of war might be sent to Turkey, while the other quotes the prime minister of Bulgaria saying a new situation has been brought about by the action of the allies in the east in which Bulgaria seeks a possibility of realizing her national aspirations.

Belgian Relief Ship Sunk
The sinking of the Belgian relief ship Ilarypce on her return voyage has created much comment here but the American relief commission is awaiting official confirmation of the report that this ship was sent down by a German submarine before making a protest.

Interest in Prohibition
Interest in prohibition in England continues unabated with the latest material for discussion supplied by a morning paper which asserts that the government is prepared to take over the industry of manufacturing high.

BOYS FLEE FROM FIRE INSTRUCTOR IS MISSING

Dormitory at Cushing Academy
Burned Causing Loss Estimated at $75,000

ASHBURNHAM, April 12.—Ashburnham house, a boys' dormitory at Cushing academy, was burned early today, causing a loss estimated at $75,000. The fire started in the basement of the four story brick building. One of the students smelled the smoke and the other boys with the four teachers who lived in the dormitory were quickly aroused.

The flames had not reached the stairways but the corridors were so full of smoke that the occupants were forced to leave the building by the fire escapes. It was believed that all had made their exit in safety until several hours later when it was learned that Frank L. Hardy, director of athletics, was missing. Mr. Hardy was seen soon after the outbreak of the fire and it is believed that he might have been overcome by smoke while trying to reach a telephone booth in a corridor on the first floor.

The cause of the fire is not known. The dormitory which was built three years ago was at some distance from the other buildings of the academy plant which were not endangered.

LOCAL PARISH MISSIONS

SEVERAL TO BE HELD HERE IN THE NEAR FUTURE—YESTERDAY'S SERVICES

The celebrant of the parish mass at St. Michael's church was Rev. Francis J. Mullin, while the sermon on the gospel of the day was delivered by Rev. J. J. Lynch. The annual retreat for the women at this church will open on Sunday, April 25 with Dominican fathers in charge. The retreat will last one week and the following week the men's mission will take place.

St. Peter's
A meeting of the members of the Holy Name society was held last evening, a brief instruction being given by the spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Keleher. The meeting closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

At all the masses announcement was made that the annual mission will open on Sunday, May 3. The first week will be devoted to the women and the second to the men. Oblate fathers will be in charge of the mission.

St. Margaret's
At St. Margaret's church the members of the Children's sodality received communion in a body at the 9 o'clock mass. A meeting of the parishioners for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the May party to be held under the auspices of the parish.

St. Columba's
It was announced yesterday at St. Columba's church that the sacrament of confirmation will be conferred on a large class of children in June and instructions will be given on each Sunday to the boys and girls who expect to receive this sacrament. At the 7 o'clock mass the members of the Holy Name society received communion in a body, while the monthly communion of the members of the Children's sodality took place at the 8.30 o'clock mass.

Sacred Heart
The members of the Holy Name society received communion in a body at the 7.30 o'clock mass, which was celebrated by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I. The monthly communion of the Infant Jesus sodality took place at the 8.30 o'clock mass.

FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

STATE COMMISSIONER OF HEALTH
BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO WIPE OUT
THE DREADED WHITE PLAGUE

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 12.—Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin, state commissioner of health, has inaugurated a new campaign to help exterminate and perhaps wipe out the dreaded white plague in textile and other manufacturing communities in Massachusetts. The commissioner plans to cooperate with the immigration authorities and through them keep a record of every alien coming into this state from abroad whose physical condition is below normal.

This record will contain the destination of each of these aliens and the health officers in the various districts will be instructed to keep a close watch upon them with particular reference to the conditions under which they are living. In this manner the commissioner hopes to discover and check the first trace of consumption that occurs from these sources.

Aliens suffering from tuberculosis are not admitted into the United States but many aliens are certified as having poor physique, flat chest, underweight for age, anaemia, and other rather hygienic defects are admitted. These aliens are excellent subjects for tuberculosis if they are exposed to slum conditions.

Dr. McLaughlin, some time ago, requested the commissioner general of immigration to furnish lists of aliens destined for Massachusetts cities and towns having such defects, and J. B. Densmore, acting United States commissioner of labor, has agreed to cooperate with Dr. McLaughlin insofar as the appropriation of his department will permit.

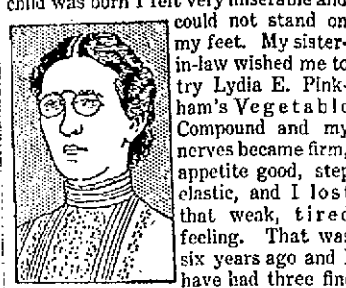

When these lists are received, the commissioner of health can notify the local boards of health, and the tuberculosis dispensary will be able either to prevent the development of tuberculosis or to arrange for deportation of the alien at the earliest possible moment, if the disease should develop.

Dr. McLaughlin says it is not generally known that aliens who are suffering from a dangerous contagious disease, insane persons, and others who have become a public charge may be deported to Europe at any time within three years after landing, provided their condition is due to causes prior to landing.

Testifies She Was Restored
to Health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KREMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The members and visitors present. Grand Warden Clifford L. Mahoney of Boston was called upon for an address, and he spoke briefly on the record of the lodge and of its high standing at the present time.

The historian of the lodge, John P. Bateman, P. G., next gave a well prepared history of the lodge, going back to the day of its founding in 1845. He spoke of both Highland and Veritas lodges, as the present organization is the result of a consolidation of the two. Wynnan O. Bateman, president of the association, took the $500 mortgage and placing it in a receptacle touched a lighted torch to the document, and amid a chorus of over 300 voices, singing "America," the mortgage slowly burned and then there were cheers given for Highland lodge and its members. The scene was impressive and touched the hearts of all present.

Among those called upon for brief addresses were: Grand Chaplain A. David, Grand Herald Justin Duncan, Grand Instructor W. M. Weber, all of Boston, and District Deputy G. M. John R. H. Ward and suite from Lawrence.

"IRISH NIGHT"

The "Irish Night" to be held at Highland hall on Wednesday evening of this week is sure to prove a source of pleasure for all who attend. The committee in charge has completed arrangements and has done all possible to make the affair a success. The dances that were so much enjoyed some years ago, and the pipers and the fiddlers will all contribute to the pleasure of the evening. Prizes will be given for the best step dancing, and a special invitation is extended to the older people to come and share in the genuine enjoyment of the evening. Modern dancing will be allowed from 8 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

The hall never looked prettier than on Saturday night. Streamers of red, white and blue hunting extended from the centre to all parts of the hall while American flags were placed in front of the stage and at intervals about the sides and rear. The electrical effect was also striking.

At 7 o'clock a bountiful banquet was served by Highland union. Daughters of Rehoboth, in the lower hall. During the dinner music was furnished by Highland's orchestra and by the Mendelssohn quartet, composed of Messrs. F. N. Smith, A. T. Munro, Charles H. Howard and Harry C. Needham.

When the banquet was over W. G. Bowen, P. G., toastmaster, called to order and extended a cordial welcome to

LADY LOOKABOUT

The project of a school in citizenship has much to recommend it, not only to the alien seeking naturalization, but also to the large class of our women who are seeking their enfranchisement. The old objections to woman suffrage—that woman's place is in the home, has been so successfully combated that to give utterance to it at the present time is to hold one's self up to ridicule. There is one objection, however, which it seems to me has yet to be removed. This is that women themselves do not want it. And it is the logic of this does not apply to those who are so enthusiastically working for suffrage, but it does most assuredly apply to the rank and file of women—those who make up the great majority.

A school for citizenship, with women for the pupils, would accomplish much for suffrage, and in less time than is now being consumed in educating men by the "direct method."

One-Hundred Chauffeur

That automobile operator who is going about town with one arm in a sling and running his machine with a single hand, has the finest courage I have met with in a long time. I have always felt that the average person—woman, at any rate—have a hand too few and a foot too few to ever become real proficient chauffeurs. Yet this operator worms his machine in and out of the worst spots in the city, and I have yet to hear of an accident. It is coming to him, though. Only for the cool head and swift action of a Lawrence street motorman a few days ago the operator would have had trouble. The machine dashed directly across the track and the motorman brought his car to such a sudden standstill that the passengers were severely jolted. The automobile stopped before it cleared the tracks and there were not more than six inches between it and the car. Do you remember the old song we used to hear at minstrel shows years ago, "The One-Man Band." Well, Whistling Rufus could not have held a candle to the one-armed chauffeur as his pool hand flew from brake to spark, to gasoline, to wheel, as he hustled to start up and get out of the way. A man with courage like that is wasting his time in a tame town like Lowell. He should be at the front, or at least challenging Mr. Willard.

Streets Made for Autos

Judging by the large number of nuts, bolts, washers, and other bits of machinery to be seen scattered about on the city streets, the machines passing over many of them must be subjected to great shaking. A block paved street without a smooth over coating is sure to shorten the life of usefulness of any machine, however strongly built. The advent of the automobile has not brought about the change in city streets which it has in many country roads which have been rebuilt mainly for automobile traffic. Owners of machines are heavily taxed in order to provide these roads, and if none of that money is paid back to the cities from which most of it comes, there is an opportunity for some ambitious young statesman to become a hero.

Mail Carriers' Uniform

The recent ruling of Postmaster General Burleson affecting the summer uniforms of mail-carriers must have been received with joy by the carriers. The hot weather costume may be of cotton, wool, or cotton and wool, providing he color is not changed from that in present use. I am glad they are to continue the soft cadet blue we have grown accustomed to associate with our carriers, and I am sure that with the lightweight hot weather outfits they will appear jaunter than ever.

It would seem that in Lowell, a city over 100,000 inhabitants, and embracing as many nationalities as it does, any person wishing to change in business of almost any kind would find a ready market for his goods. It would seem also, that a local firm would find larger profits in catering to local needs, than would an outside firm doing business here, in retail trade at least. Yet every day from my window I observe a large, expensive commercial automobile with two men, a chauffeur and one other, all the way from East Cambridge, doing a house to house business in baker's goods.

Surely, if a firm of bakers in East Cambridge can find it profitable to send each day a high-priced automobile and two men to Lowell to conduct a house to house business, there must be a greater profit in it for a local firm. This is only one instance. Others readily suggest themselves—cases of strangers walking into our cities and carrying off money which should go to local merchants. It is another example of outsiders coming in here to make the most of business opportunities our own people either fail to see or lack the enterprise to grasp. It remained for an out of town firm to see an opportunity for profitable investment in Central street a few years ago. I presume that had the Hamilton Bros. the old Hamilton wall with its array of bill board literature would still be an eyesore to the public.

LADY LOOKABOUT.

LOWELL WELL ADVERTISED

BY MEANS OF ED. CONANT'S BIG SALES ALL OVER THE UNITED STATES

Talk about Lowell being widely advertised abroad, perhaps Edmund B. Conant, the well known auctioneer, isn't doing his share of that advertising. He has become a national character on the auction block and he never fails to put in big type on all advertisements. "Under the management of J. E. Conant & Co., auctioneers of Lowell, Massachusetts."

On April 20th, anyone desiring to meet Mr. Conant will find him, rain or shine, in front of the mammoth plant of the Falls City Wagon Co., in Louisville, Kentucky, where he is going to sell out the entire plant with all its machinery and appointments to the highest bidder and he will have for an audience some of the biggest manufacturers of the country, who will go there from all over the United States.

The sale is being advertised in every manufacturing centre in the country by means of a neatly printed 10 page pamphlet (made in Lowell), on the front page of which appears the firm name and its location, Lowell, Mass. The property includes half a dozen brick buildings and appurtenances with all the equipment of a first class mill. The lots are divided up for convenience and description into over 500, all of which are to be sold to the highest bidder without restriction or reserve and regardless of any condition of the weather. Mr. E. B. Conant is a specialist in the sale of manufacturing plants that he has no equal in the entire country. His familiarity with realty, machinery and mechanical equipment is astonishing. He is an expert in advertising which enables him to get the highest price for every plant he sells.

Comparative Food Values

1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

Comparative Cost per Pound

1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

It would be difficult to find a food that affords the same abundance of true nourishment, at so low a cost, as does the famous wheat and malted barley food—

Grape-Nuts

At three-fifths the cost, a package of Grape-Nuts supplies nearly one-third more nourishment than a pound of rib roast beef. And besides, in buying a roast you pay for about 20% refuse, and there's a shrinkage in cooking.

Grape-Nuts food comes ready cooked and every particle in the FRESH-SEALED package is good to eat. Its rich nutrient includes the 'vital' salts that are necessary for brain, bone and sturdy muscle. Grape-Nuts is delicious—easily digested—economical.

Thinking people everywhere are more and more adopting Grape-Nuts—

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Quality counts. It may be more expensive at the start, but it is economy in the long run, for the average man, woman or child, appreciates refined, high class entertainment. That is why the Lowell Opera House has had four of the most successful weeks in its history.

Beginning this afternoon, the Opera House will put on the same excellent Paramount production that it has had since its reopening, and Miss Betty Bellairs will have the leading role with "The Spanish Jade" as the vehicle. Miss Bellairs first achieved distinction as an actress when she became leading woman for Mr. Pres Terry in England, since which time she has engaged in dramatic work of the highest order. Her appearance on the Paramount screen marks the introduction of a woman who is bound to become a picture favorite. Under the arrangement with the Paramount people, only genuinely "Famous Players" series, so that even though you may not have seen a Paramount performer on the screen, you may rest assured that approximate perfection is reached whenever a Paramount film is completed. Take, for example, Rita Johnson, who made her picture debut at the Lowell Opera House last week. Nothing finer was ever seen in picture plays than this young woman, destined to be as popular as any picture favorite, and her triumph, moreover, was emphasized when it is considered that she appeared in "The Spanish Jade" with a measure of romance and dramatic action enhanced by scenic effects known only to the Paramount studios.

Then there will be other films, the products of Mutual, Majestic, Keystone, Tanhauser and Princess picture companies, embracing variety, quality and the most exacting. The music feature, of course, will add abundant appreciation, with Dr. Edw. DeLantoni at the pipe organ, the Opera House orchestra, under the direction of Emil J. Bosker, and Miss Constance Rees, Boston soprano, contributing to its excellence. Reservations may be had on application. Tel. 261.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

In "Surgeon Louder, U. S. A.," the very funny travesty, which will be produced in Imhoff, Conn & Corneille, at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, patrons of the theatre may rest assured that they have offered to them one of the best drawing cards on the circuit today. This trio of entertainers first sprung into renown through their work in "The Doings of Dr. Leader." That act was considered to be very funny, but when "Surgeon Louder" was concocted and produced it made an instantaneous hit, and for three seasons it has had uninterrupted triumph over the country. Roger Imhoff will have the part of "Private Casey," the wounded soldier, who is doing his utmost to get a further trial from the surgeon, who tells him his troubles, and is promptly turned down. He continues his appeals, with no success whatever. The conclusion of the act is most remarkable. Jack Ryan and Harry Tierney, who have just returned from a big success in Europe, will bring to the front their polished comedy, and will add thereto some of their original songs. These men who are billed just as is the ordinary talking and singing duo, are distinctly in advance of most of their fellows, for they have hit upon a line which has not been explored before, and their work is so well done that they never fail to create a most positive impression. Ryan and Tierney have for several years made trips to the continent, and they have conquered wherever they have appeared. They will conquer here.

Boomerang throwing is not an easy thing to do, but when it is accomplished with ordinary headgear, it becomes decidedly more difficult than as if carried out with the ancient weapons of the Maori. Moran and Wiser will compel an endless number of hats to describe all sorts of figures in midair. And the hats will sail out over the heads of the audience, and will then come back again. These boomerang hat throwers have only just come to America from a continental tour, where they achieved much renown, the difficulty and accuracy of their work being thoroughly well appreciated.

La Petite Mignon is a charming young woman, whose powers of mimicry are unparalleled, and who will offer character representations of many persons who are now on the American stage. Mignon is a dainty miss, and she has bundles of ability. She was discovered a year ago, meekly submitting her repertoire of impersonations. She had a "different air, a personality in her work, which is nothing if not pleasing."

Ethel Sinclair and Frank Griffiths will present "Fancy Dressing," a very pungent skit written by Jean C. Havez, the man who cooked up all of Lew Dockstader's fun. Miss Sinclair and Mr. Griffiths are most competent players, who will get all the fun out of Mr. Havez's lines. The Lelands are a man and a woman who are painters and who offer an exceptionally pretty array of their paint marine scenes and a village scene. The Clairmont Boys are dare-devil revolving ladder performers. Their act has all of the thrills possible to it. In addition the Saturday rehearsal of "The Girl From Home," which is the week's offering at this popular theatre. "If it plays anything like it rehearsed, it will be one dandy show," he added. That's just what everyone else will say after seeing it.

Written by an American author, and containing most all the elements which have gone so far toward making American plays what they are today, it also affords the different principal members in the cast excellent opportunity to display their versatility. First performances this afternoon at 2, this evening at 8 and twice daily thereafter. Seats for all performances are now on sale at the box office, or may be reserved by phoning 2053.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The motion picture program offered at the Academy of Music the first three days of this week is headed by "The Typhoon," an entertaining and amusing drama of Japanese life. This great picture unfolds a story that is full of exciting incidents and is sure to thrill the audience from beginning to end. Another number that will close the program is "The Typhoon," an episode from "The Black Box" serial, describing another event in this high-class and always pleasing drama. Billy Ritchie, known as the funniest comedian in the motion picture world, will be seen in a two-part comedy picture, making three features on the bill for today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

THE OWL THEATRE

This theatre will offer a wonderful array of wonderful productions for this week. On Monday and Tuesday, Zangwell's "Children of the Ghetto" will be featured. Wednesday and Thursday, "The Deep Purple" with Winsome Clara Kimball Young. Friday day and Saturday will star Charlie Chaplin, Francis X. Bushman and Florence Turner, in three distinct features.

Today and tomorrow's feature, Israel Zangwell's "Children of the Ghetto" will show Mr. Wilton Lackaye in the leading role of "Reb Shmuel," an old Hebrew rabbi, who persists in believing in his forefathers' creed, in spite of changing times and conditions. Mr. Lackaye brings to this part prominent ability, a reputation as the greatest character actor on the stage, and a depth of emotional appeal and human understanding that will warm the coldest heart. The story itself, is Zangwell's masterpiece, and he has given every bit of assistance he could in order to complete a production that would ring true of his own conceptions of the play. The producer has turned out a masterpiece that will give you an insight of what photography and genius can do—when both are intelligent. This will be shown in connection with the regular performance, which will contain such plays as "A Tragedy of the Hills," a two-act drama; "Sagebrush," a one-act play; "The Master in His House," a Vitaphone play and "The Other Man's Wife," another Vitaphone offering. Of course you know there is no change in price—It's the Owl policy to give the biggest value for the money.

THE JEWEL THEATRE

Get the Monday "blues" today? The Jewel theatre offers the greatest cure. Emerson Deacon, Jr., Dr. Deacon, a fine Doc in Comedy, will drive them away as the jealous husband in "The Punny Side of Jealousy," a riot of fun and laughter produced under the big brand. Say you should not deprive yourself of this treat—it's one that will live long in your memory. "The Punny Side of Jealousy" is a two-act offering with Anna Little and Francis Ford. "The Pinch," a two-act drama; "The Oakland Handicap" are some of the others shown. Is it dawning upon you that the Jewel is offering about the biggest dime's worth in Lowell? It does look that way, doesn't it? Just you keep your eye on the little adv. The Jewel News, and read it.

ROYAL THEATRE

In the mythical land of Bavaria, there lives a King Louis, who comes to realize that love of the little dancer means more to him than anything else in his life. The little dancer is left alone in the world when her father dies and the king's secretary is able to protect her, and make her a mistress of the arts of dancing. Soon the king feels her charm and she becomes his favorite. She is able to do much for the people and in doing so inspires the hatred of a villain. They conspire against the king, but their plots come to naught through the loyalty of Lola, the dancer. Cecil Spooner, the famous romantic ingenue, is featured in this Blaney production which is the second of the Blaney series to be released through the World Film corporation. As an actress her fame is secure, and in the photoplay world, she is not a novice. Her ability as a directress is fully displayed in "The Dancer and the King," and she has made sure every trick that holds the interest of the audience.

It is said that the relations between the young monarch of a minor power on the continent and a beautiful dancer, suggested, the writing of this feature to Cecil Spooner. When played by her on the stage it was one of her greatest successes, and it was the play in which her devotees preferred to see her rather than in any other play that she had in her repertoire.

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. With advancing age people are disposed to restricted activity and exercise, which is responsible for the constipated condition of most old folks. The digestive organs are more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly.

A mild, effective remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of elderly people, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

PETE McNALLY DEAD

WELL KNOWN BOSTON NEWSPAPERMAN AND SWIMMER DIED SUDDENLY

Pete McNally, assistant curator of the Franklin Park Zoo, in Boston, former newspaper writer and long distance swimmer, died suddenly at Gloucester Saturday afternoon.

McNally, accompanied by Charles S. Gardner, his assistant at the Marine Park Aquarium, went to Gloucester to get the schooner Teaser. The schooner had been caught on an ice floe off the Newfoundland coast. He was to superintend bringing it to the aquarium.

While on the boat he dropped to the deck and died almost instantly.

Pete McNally was well known in the city especially to the newspapermen. He visited here quite frequently and in recent years came as the press agent of the Buffalo Bill and other shows. He spent the last few summers at Hampton beach.

He was a member of Elm Hill Council, K. of C., and of the Order of Alhambra. He is survived by a wife and a daughter about five years old, also by four brothers and two sisters.

The brothers are John J. McNally, the playwright of Brooklyn; Hugh P. McNally, one of the editors of the Pilot; Dr. William J. McNally of Charlestown and Daniel McNally, an artist, of New York. The sisters are Mrs. Charles Cooper of Wintthrop and Mrs. John Quinn of New Haven.

He was at one time long distance champion swimmer of the world. His mother, Mrs. Bridget McNally, 56 years old, resides at Wintthrop.

DIED SUDDENLY

James Ford Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital—Death Due to Natural Causes

James Ford, a man of middle age, died at St. John's hospital yesterday after being confined there but a short time, death being due to natural causes.

He was living at 75 East Merrimack street and was employed at the Massachusetts mill. He did not work the first three days of the week, but Thursday and Friday he attended to his daily duties. On Saturday he remained at home, stating he was not feeling well.

A physician was called and the man's removal to the hospital was ordered. The man gradually grew weaker, and a short time after his arrival at the institution he passed away. The police were notified. It was found that Ford died of natural causes. It is believed deceased has some relatives in this city.

FIRE ON LIGHT POLE

Box 62, Lakeview avenue and Cornhill street, at 10:20 o'clock last night called the department to Lakeview avenue where a transformer box on an electric light pole had caught fire. The department had been instructed not to apply water or chemical to the pole, so a crew of electric light corporation men was sent for to remove the box.

Fire in a tree near the corner of Bennet street and Lakeview avenue caused a telephone alarm at 6:52 o'clock last evening. No damage.

POISONED FISH

Fish and Game Society Offers Reward for Detection of Culprit

A reward of $25 has been offered by the Lowell Fish and Game association for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who placed time in several of the nearby ponds which were recently stocked with fish. The wanted deed is one of the most detestable forms of fish destruction that there is. Lime causes the death of the fish and then brings their bodies to the surface of the water where they can be readily picked up. The members of the association are highly incensed over the matter.

THREE BOYS ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO STORE AND STEALING THEREFROM

Three youngsters, Patrick Gleason, John Diers and Cyril Davis, were making merry in an empty tenement on Wall street early Sunday morning in celebration of a successful breaking and entering and a successful expedition which the trio had made in a David street store. The three boys suddenly dropped asleep on the floor of the tenement surrounded by the fruits of their crime—cigarets, cigars and candy.

Officers Kennedy and Fanning were making the rounds of their beat and noticed that the tenement appeared to be occupied. The two officers decided to investigate with the result that the three youths were brought to light and also the police station.

At first the boys said that they bought the spoils strewn about them on the floor, but later admitted taking it from the store. The boys are 14 years of age. They were booked for breaking, entering and larceny and will appear before the juvenile session next Friday.

CHELMSFORD

A fire in the brush-along the roadside, just beyond the Roper place in Perham street, on Saturday morning gave rise to the report that the ruins of the Roper house were again on fire.

The smoke was first discovered by Ralph Knowlton and Clifford Hilbreth who sent word to Forest Warden Perham, but before the latter's arrival a number of boys had succeeded in putting the fire out. The cause of the fire is not known.

The play, "The Arrival of Kitty," given by the young people from the Howe high school last Thursday evening netted about $15 for the members of the class of '15.

Trout fishing has become quite popular and a number of fishermen were out Saturday in quest of the finny tribe placed in the ponds and brooks some time ago by Fish and Game Warden Morse and Peck.

Now Is the Time to Examine Carefully Your Heating Equipment

Of the thousands who tried Lowell Coke this winter, over 99 per cent. found it a perfectly satisfactory, money-saving fuel. A few failed to get good results because of defective heating apparatus.

Why not have your heating plant examined now? A few dollars spent in repairs during the summer may enable you to save 5 or 10 times that number in fuel.

One of our coke experts will be glad to look at your equipment and tell you what is needed, if you wish. Telephone.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Wally Lyons of the Hamilton Manufacturing company says the South End team this year will be faster than ever.

Morton Walker, advertising manager of the J. L. Chaffoux store, will manage the store baseball team this season.

William Walsh, a prominent young man of this city, formerly employed at the Merrimack Manufacturing Co., is now with a Lynn shoe concern.

The annual dancing party of the Bohemian club will be held the 28th of this month, and the affair gives promise of being an unprecedented success.

The P. & Q. clothing store will furnish the uniforms for the South End team this season and the team will reciprocate by calling itself the "P. & Q. South Ends."

President Frank Warnock of the Trades and Labor council will be the presiding officer at the mass meeting to be held in Associate hall tonight by the labor forward movement.

The regular meetings of all labor organizations will be suspended tonight in order to let members take part in the parade and mass meeting which is to follow at Associate hall.

Henry Sullivan of the J. L. Chaffoux shoe department will start in training in a few weeks for a number of aquatic events he expects to enter during the next few months.

Although some excitement prevailed due to the walkout of the common laborers at the South Lowell plant of Contractor Robinson held his head and succeeded in averting trouble and the laborers left the grounds peacefully.

Invitations have been sent out by the trustees of the Lowell Textile school for the graduating exercises of the evening classes to be held next Wednesday evening, and present indications point to a large attendance. Several prominent mill officials will be the speakers.

TEXTILE SHUTOUT

Defeated by Lawrence Academy—Pitching of Murray a Feature

Lowell Textile met its first defeat of the season Saturday when they met the strong Lawrence academy team on the campus of the local school, going down to a 7-0 shutout.

The main factor in Textile's defeat was the pitching of Johnny Murray. Lawrence academy's crack batsman proved invincible. On several occasions in the first few innings Murray was wobbling and Textile looked dangerous but on each occasion the visitors' pitcher lightened up and retired the local team without a score.

Sturtevant started the mound work for Textile and went along for four innings in fine style. Errors behind him put him in a bad way in the fifth and timely hitting by Lawrence academy netted three runs in this inning.

Harris relieved Sturtevant in the seventh and succeeded in holding the visitors safe to the last session, when they showed two more runs across. Textile's work in the field was poor, a half dozen misplays being committed.

Baker at first base was the bright shining light of the locals. His work at the initial sack was all to the good. On several occasions Baker scooped up bad balls for put-outs and cracked out a double as well as a single. The score:

CROWN PRINCESS CECILE

FIFTH CHILD BORN TO PRINCESS WHO MARRIED FREDERICK WILLIAM IN 1905

The first open meeting of the labor forward committee will be held in Associate hall tonight, and the heads of two great labor organizations, John Golden of the United Textile Workers and John P. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union will be the principal speakers.

As previously stated a parade will precede the meeting and it is expected that over 1500 labor men will turn out. The parade will be headed by a band composed of members of the Musicians' union, and the band will also furnish the music in the hall.

The members of all labor organizations are to report at 22 Middle st. at 7:15 o'clock where formation will be made and the parade will start at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

BERLIN, April 12.—A fifth child has been born to the Crown Princess Cecile. It is a girl. Mother and child are reported doing well. The crown princess, who is a daughter of the late Friedrich Franz III. of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, married Frederick William, the German crown prince, in June, 1905. They now have four boys, the eldest being nine years of age, and one daughter.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES
In order that the boy or girl who goes to a store to make purchases should do so intelligently and with an eye for honest weight and measure, the Lowell schools of weights and measures, is intent upon carrying into the public schools the agitation for honest weights and measures. It has written a letter to that effect to Supt. Molloy.

Reserve Stock - Room Sale

A CHANGE OF POLICY

We have decided to do away with reserve stock rooms. Hereafter new merchandise coming into the store will be checked and hurried down to the departments where it will be marked and placed on sale at once.

This means vastly larger stocks in the various departments. It means greater variety.

Everything will be out in the open—nothing held in reserve.

Our stocks will be constantly under the watchful eyes of our entire organization.

More complete stocks will be another important result.

The sale starting Monday is unique.

We do not recall any instance in the history of merchandising wherein a store has abolished its stock rooms and offered the entire reserve stocks at mark-down prices as we do.

And not only is it a NEW sale, but it is one that we shall never be able to repeat if our experiment works out to our satisfaction.

Reserve stock-room goods are new—our latest arrivals—never on sale before.

Newest spring merchandise at mark-down prices right at the height of the season.

It means that over one hundred thousand dollars' worth of new Spring merchandise will be sold here this week at sixty-five thousand dollars or less.

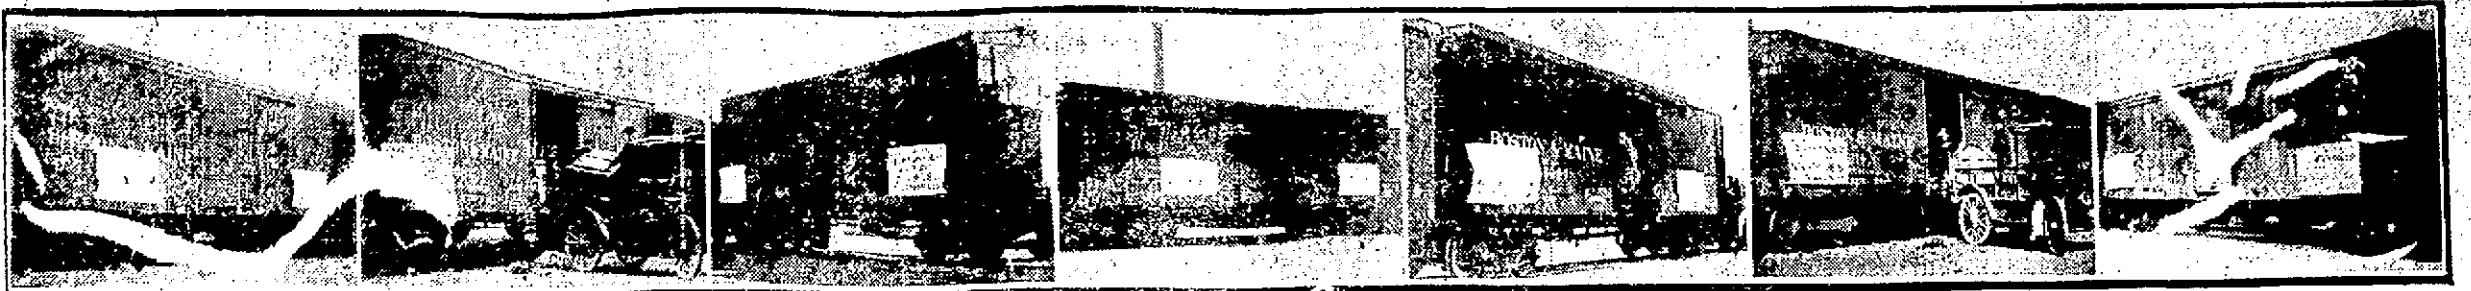

The sale is certain to be a huge success. Boston has never had anything like it, and Boston is quick to respond to new ideas.

Everybody who attends this event will be self-congratulated on the bargains they secure.

The circumstances are so unusual that we have planned for an extra large business.

Sale continues entire week. As lots are closed out others will take their places.

From the Bankrupt Stock of the Royal Furniture Co., 53 Portland Street, Boston

THIS, INDEED, IS AN EXTRAORDINARY SALE. IT ISN'T GOING TO BE ONLY A ONE-DAY OR A WEEK'S SALE, BUT

Our Position in the Furniture Market Is Absolute for This Season

As Ten Carloads of Furniture, Art Squares, Linoleum, Ranges, Refrigerators, Pictures, Mirrors, Dinner Sets, etc., cannot be sold in a month or two. Nor is it possible for us to display this immense stock all at once, as many cars had to be unloaded into the storehouse. So we shall have bargains for you for some time to come, but on many of the finer goods there are no duplicates, and the sooner you secure them the better for you, as when they are gone, we, or no other furniture dealer can pay the full price and sell them to you at one-third discount. No, these windfalls do not come every day, and you must do as we did when opportunity knocked at our door. We didn't say: "There is plenty of time," or "I am not quite ready to buy." If we had, opportunity would have gone to the other fellow. No, we quickly grabbed opportunity by the forelock and hauled it into our camp. And that's why we are doing and are going to do four times our normal business this spring. Save you one-third on your purchase and make money ourselves. We have left the original price tag of the Royal Furniture Co. in plain figures on every article, and they sold too cheap for their own good. That's the reason they failed. And from those prices we deduct one-third.

INDIAN RANCHER HERE TO SOLVE LABOR TROUBLES

LON WOLFE, TEXAN CHEROKEE, WANTS WORK ON A FARM—HE TELLS OF MEXICAN BORDER

Lon Wolfe, a young rancher from Texas, arrived in this city Friday night and Saturday appeared on the streets with his full uniform, which consists of a khaki suit with a large leather belt, a large black slouch hat and hip leather spoked boots. He attracted considerable attention.

The young man is a full blooded Indian of the Cherokee tribe and hails from Dallas, Texas, where he was born and brought up. He said he came up north in order to secure employment because he is tired of the ranch life and wants to see the world. He speaks fluent English and hopes to get work on some farm in the vicinity of Lowell.

In conversation with a Sun reporter Saturday afternoon Lon said in the south on the Mexican border all the Indians are armed and in order to get rid of the Mexicans, who are always looking for trouble they are forced to shoot them. He said the khaki uniform he wears is the regulation dress for the Indians in the south and they are forced by law to wear it.

Lon will remain in Lowell but a few days unless he finds work, for he says he is stranded and will have to do something for a living. He is not fussy about entering the mills, but says he can do anything in the line of outside work—his specialty being farm work. This afternoon the police had all they could do to keep the newsboys away from him for they kept following him around the streets.

WOMAN WAS IDENTIFIED

BODY FOUND NEAR TEWKSBURY LINE WAS THAT OF SUSAN SHUBERT OF BIDDLEFORD, ME

The woman who died from exposure near the Tewksbury line a few days ago and whose body has since laid at the morgue at the state infirmary, has been identified as Susan Shubert of Biddleford, Me. She escaped from the town farm at Biddleford some weeks ago. She had been there for about five years and was mentally deranged.

LEAVE THEM TO PUBLIC, "WHICH IS ALMOST ALWAYS RIGHT," SAYS RAILROAD LEADER

CHICAGO, April 10.—Julius Kruttschnitt, first assistant to the late E. H. Harriman and himself, one of the leading railroad authorities of the country, today expressed to the United States commission on industrial relations the opinion that the only solution of labor troubles was the designing of a vehicle through which the public "which is almost always right," shall decide the merits of controversies.

"One of the duties of this commission," said Commissioner James O'Connell to Mr. Kruttschnitt, who was the first witness at today's session, "is to ascertain the causes of industrial unrest and to recommend a remedy if possible. What is your opinion?"

"I have observed a great many strikes and in the end public opinion decides, just as a rule," replied the witness. "No strike that I recall ever succeeded with public opinion against it. The great American public settles them all. The older I grow the more I am convinced that the task of settling labor troubles is the task of keeping the public informed."

BRITISH CASUALTY LIST

FOURTH ISSUED THIS WEEK ADDS 1,238, MAKING TOTAL FOR WEEK 4,323

LONDON, April 10.—The fourth British casualty list issued by the war office this week showing 1,238 additional losses, was given out today. Of the total 403 were killed and the others wounded.

These losses were due largely to fighting last month which resulted in the capture by the British of the French town of Neuve Chapelle. Today's list brings the total of casualties announced this week up to 5,323, of which 1,734 men were killed.

ELEVATOR IN POSTOFFICE

Work of installing the new elevator at the postoffice has been completed and it is probable that Postmaster Meehan will have the mailing division of the office transferred to the second floor of the building very shortly. The elevator is modern in every way and runs from the basement to the top floor.

CLEANING THE STREETS

COMMISSIONER PUTNAM BELIEVES THE CITY COULD SAVE MONEY BY OPERATING MOTORS

Commissioner Putnam is somewhat of the opinion that Lowell could save a little something by doing its street cleaning by motors. There is a combination sweeper and sprinkler that the commissioner has in mind which he believes could be operated here economically and successfully. There is considerable dissatisfaction relative to the car sprinklers. The sprinklers should have been in operation in Lowell the first day of April, but Lowell people have had to eat an extra peck of dirt because of some hitch between the street railway men and the sprinkler company. There are other things against the car sprinkler including the alleged water disturbance which they create, it being claimed that the filling of the car sprinklers so fills the water in some sections of the city as to render it unfit for use.

Commissioner Putnam says that street cleaning by motors is carried on successfully in Houston, Tex. He has seen a copy of the figures on the operation of the street sprinkler and sweeping gangs for the year ending Feb. 28, 1915. The sprinkler is used eight hours during the day to keep down dust, and eight hours at night sprinkling ahead of the motor-drawn brooms. The motor trucks are also used both day and night, each pulling a street broom at night and picking up sweepings by day.

CHANGE IN POLICY

The prices and policy of the Merrimack Square theatre will be changed this week. The stock company in tabloid form will present one-act dramas and feature pictures of an educational and instructive nature will make up the balance of the bill. For week of April 12, the wonderfully interesting photo play, "Ireland, a Nation," by Walter McNamara, will be the feature. Comedy films will also be shown. The prices will be 10 and 20 cents in the orchestra and 10c in the balcony.

MATRIMONIAL

Achilles Athos and Miss Maria Knutars were married at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's brother, James Knutars, 75 Fenwick street. Rev. Hariton Panazol officiated. The witnesses were years, and two above 50 per cent. for Messrs. Athanasios Hondrogianis and George Zidipsali. After an automobile tour, a reception was held at the bridegroom's home, 158 Market street, where the young couple will reside.

GREEK LIBERTY

Independence Day Observed by Mass Meeting and Speeches

The members of the local Greek community celebrated the anniversary of the Independence day of their country in a fitting manner yesterday. For certain reasons, however, the celebration was confined to a church service and patriotic meeting, the parade of former years being set aside. The guest of honor was Rt. Rev. Bishop Germanos of Syria, who is touring this country, and he was one of the principal speakers at the patriotic meeting.

Th regular Sunday mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock and the service was attended by thousands of faithful, including representatives of all the local Greek societies and the Holy regiment. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, both the exterior and interior of the temple being covered with American and Greek colors. The celebrant of the mass was the pastor, Rev. Nestor Soulesides.

At the close of the service a patriotic meeting was held with the president of the community, Peter Tavoularis, as the presiding officer. Those who addressed the large and enthusiastic gathering were Bishop Germanos, Rev. Nestor Soulesides, and others. The Greek orchestra of 35 pieces rendered excellent music during the meeting. In the afternoon the bishop visited the Syrian colony in company with Peter Tavoularis and Michael Ansara, the latter a prominent Syrian of this city.

WESTFORD

The senior class honors of Westford academy have been announced: Miss Helen M. McCoy is valedictorian, with an average rank of 91.5 per cent. for the four years. Miss Persis Wright is salutatorian, with an average of 88.8 per cent. Miss Gertrude Codrey and Miss Lennie Kimball each hold a rank of over 85 per cent. Eight of the class rank above 82 per cent. for four years, and two above 80 per cent. for three years. In point of numbers the class is one of the largest that the academy has graduated for some years. There are 14 members, 12 girls and two boys.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At a special meeting of the officers of Court Merrimack, 11, Foresters of America, held yesterday afternoon, plans were discussed for the outing to be held in July. The matter of conducting a large class initiation with a list of prizes to be awarded to the members bringing in the most candidates between July 1 and Oct 1 was also taken up and referred to the regular meeting of the court which takes place this evening. It was announced that a series of lectures will be held during the months of September and October.

NONPAREIL MINSTRELS

The people of Lowell will have an opportunity to hear an hour of old time minstrelsy tomorrow night, when the Nonpareil songsters will hold forth at Associate hall in their first annual minstrel overture and dance. Although this is the first appearance of the club, the participants in the show are well known to the public through their many successful appearances during the past few years. The club has been fortunate in securing the services of Hon. James B. Casey, as interlocutor. Mr. Casey is no stranger to Lowell audiences, being known as one of the city's most graceful extemporaneous speakers. Among the soloists who will appear are John J. Dalton, Andrew Doyle, William O'Donnell, Master Arthur Hiley, Joseph M. Donoghue, John C. Wilby, John F. Gleason and Linwood Knapp. On the ends will appear four men whose antics and singing will tickle the audience. "Dick" Donoghue, "Billy" Carr have already won themselves a niche in the hall of fame as comedians and all around entertainers. Wm. Gilbride is the musical director. The management of the show is in competent hands and everything points to a big success.

DYE STUFF SITUATION

TO BE CONSIDERED AT CONVENTION OF AMERICAN COTTON MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 12.—Delegates from all the cotton spinning centers of the United States are expected to attend the 19th annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, which will be in session here April 13-14. Matters to be considered include the present dye-stuff situation, the so-called Duke warehouse plan and a general discussion of business efficiency in connection with the management of cotton mills.

The opening session Tuesday morning will be devoted principally to the address of the president, T. J. Hickman of Augusta, Ga., the reading of committee reports and an address by Frank Nasmith of Manchester, England. Officers will be elected Wednesday.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

CARE OF BUTTER AND CREAM

"Well, our cream went bad this morning, for the first time this winter. We will have to begin taking care of it," remarked Marjorie.

"We take it here all winter," Marie answered, "but I hardly think it necessary in your home, as there are many ways to keep food fresh without ice. I think, too, that special care should be exercised in keeping food stuffs clean."

"Butter and cream require special care in the summer time. It is rather difficult to skim the cream from the top of the milk bottle, yet it is sometimes necessary. A little implement can be purchased for a quarter that will lift every particle of cream from the milk bottle, leaving the skimmed milk in the bottle."

"This consists of a little dipper with two handles inserted in the central portion. There is a ring at the top which is held in the left hand while a bar is held in the right. The upper part of this dipper is raised by the ring about an eighth of an inch, this leaves an opening into which the cream flows gently. When the cylinder is inserted into the cream it is dropped into the original position. In this way cream is collected in both the bottom and the top of the cylinder or dipper and none is lost," continued Marie.

"Yes and the butter should be taken care of, too; I notice that it gets rath- er strong when it stands about," Marjorie suggested.

"In the warm days it is hard to keep the butter attractive. There is a simple compact little cutter on the market that serves well for cutting butter into neat, clean individual serving pieces. It can be quickly operated for with two strikes in two seconds of time a standard one-pound brick of butter can be divided into from twenty-four to twenty-eight pieces, leaving no waste at all," replied Marie.

"How could we make butter at home?" asked Marjorie.

"A unique little butter curler can be purchased for a small sum. The curl can be quickly dropped into ice water where it will be delightfully hardened and fresh looking when served on the table. Of course there are the old-fashioned butter pats of wood that are small enough to make individual servings. Balls or dainty and attractive little molds can be made with these."

"There is a butter pan on the market that enables one to make butter without churning. This pan consists of an absorbent cloth, a separating pad and a butter pan. The separating pad and the absorbent cloth must be placed in close contact to each other and held securely in place by the clips upon the sides of the pan."

"One quart of heavy cream is poured in the assembled pan. It must remain there not more than twelve hours nor less than twelve. Cream from the separator must stand ten hours before being placed in the pan. The product must then be rolled from the separating pad into a wooden bowl, worked dry or until the buttermilk is dis- lodged, then when the buttermilk has all been washed out it is washed and salted if desired," concluded Marie.

glowing. Rinse all the soap off and dash with cold water and dry well. When the face is very red dis- continue the application of hot cloths and with finger tips work in some good cold cream. Use plenty of cream. Then take a soft towel and wipe out the cream and dirt which will come with it. Finish the treatment by rinsing with hot water and then with cold.

We are all prone to consider our eye-brows sufficiently taken care of when the washcloth passes over them in our morning ablutions. But we are en- tirely mistaken. Turn back the hairs of your brows, says Hortense, and see if you cannot find infinitesimal little flecks of scaly skin. You may feel entirely reassured because they are apparently so insignificant, but let me impress upon you that those tiny scales are your most deadly enemies.

Get your little eyebrow brush at once and carefully and thoroughly scrub the brows with warm soapy water. As soon as you feel convinced that they are thoroughly clean, rinse them several times in warm salt water, says Hortense.

Do this once or twice a week, preferably at night, and you will soon find that the dandruff has yielded to the treatment. Of course in the meantime you must be careful to brush them thoroughly with your eyebrow brush, not only every morning but every time you apply powder to the face.

The odor of perspiration is unpar- donable, says Hortense. When bat- hing dissolve a tiny bit of ordinary washing soda in the water. After using the bath towel dust well with a powder made of 105 grains of salicylic acid, 350 grains of powdered boric acid, and seven ounces of powdered talcum. The liquid preparations for this pur- pose are powerful, astringents, per- fectly safe to use, but not the sort of applications that can be compounded at home, since they contain very strong ingredients.

To stimulate and give elasticity to the skin, put some of this mixture into your bath each morning, have the wa- ter just tepid, not warm, the cure of campfire, one ounce; tincture of bent- zoin, one-half ounce; cologne water, six ounces. You can purchase both pow- ders and pellets, which, while more ex- pensive, are delightful in their effect.

Wrinkles are often the result, says Hortense of bad habits, such as re- peated drawing of the eyebrows which forms small lines between the brows. Lifting the eyebrows useless- ly results in long transverse lines on the forehead, and adds at least five years to the real age. Ill health, eye strain and ugly thoughts will also cause the face to become lined.

The cure lies in the breaking of the habits. It is also helpful to massage the face daily after applying a liberal amount of cocoa butter. Rub the line in the opposite direction from which they run.

Exercises will help to fill out the neck and give it beautiful lines. Bend the head slowly forward until the chin touches the neck, and then slowly raise the head to its normal position. Then bend the head as far backward as possible. Sitting erect in a chair, bend the head from one side to the other, and then roll the head to the right, left and forward.

To make a shampoo, Hortense says dissolve half a cake of white floating soap in a quart of boiling water. Let it simmer half an hour over a slow fire. Dissolve a tablespoonful of washing soda in a quart of boiling water.

Add it to the soap mixture. Stir together and let cool. Use as a shampoo. Rinse the hair always in four or five clear waters after using a shampoo mixture. She advises that you massage the scalp and brush the hair thoroughly for a few minutes every night and morning.

Daily brushing of the hair will do much to make the hair attractive. It removes the dust from the scalp and hair and makes the hair smooth and glossy. It also stimulates the cir- culation of the blood through the scalp, thereby giving the hair sufficient nour- ishment. Brush the hair night and morning, continuing the brushing each time until there is a feeling of life in the scalp. Do not use a brush that is so stiff that it irritates the scalp.

Hortense says oatmeal is excellent for softening and whitening the hands. Mix some finely powdered oatmeal with water and spread on the skin in a paste. As it dries rub off the flakes, removing the last traces with lukewarm water.

An oatmeal bag may serve the pur- pose if one does not care to rub the flakes directly on the hands. Pour some of the raw oatmeal into a silk handkerchief, tie the four ends to- gether at the center and rub the bag over the hands when they are washed. The skin will become cream white if the oatmeal treatment is faithfully fol- lowed.

If the benzoin in the rinsing water for the face bath has caused small pimples to come out on the skin, it is evident that it does not agree with it. You may have employed too much ben- zoin in the water. Just a few drops are required, enough to make the wa- ter cloudy.

Here are some suggestions for caring for the face by Hortense. Wash the face daily in very hot water. Use plenty of soap, lathering the face and neck with soap jelly and rinsing it off afterward with a bath hose. Let no soap remain upon the skin, but be sure that it is removed by using as many waters upon it as one has pa- tience to apply.

After a thorough washing, the skin must have a little cream or a little skin food massaged into it. Each night before retiring take a bowl of warm water, a cake of pure soap, preferably unscented, and a soft complex- ion brush and wash upward and out- ward until your face feels fresh and

SUMMER FASHIONS ARE FASCINATING—FABRICS AND DESIGNS
INDICATE REFINED TASTE—DESIGNS FOR YOUNGER FOLKS

Fashions and fabrics both are fas- cinating this season. In spite of the fact that we started out with some apprehension as to what effect the war might have upon the supply of the fabrics and the supply of designs, the season has proven to be one of ex- ceptional fascination and of infinite charm. We made something of a sudden jump from narrow skirts to very wide ones, but already there is a tendency toward moderation and the really smart costume is the one that shows extremely becoming and graceful lines. The suggestions that are made in the picture are all good and it will be noted that there is a certain picturesque element to be

SUCCEEDS THE CREEDEN SHOP

The millinery business established on the second floor of Wyman's Exchange by the late Katherine A. Tancred and more recently conducted as The Creeden Shop, has been purchased by Miss Margaret McGrath, who will conduct an up-to-date millinery business under the title of THE BONNET SHOP.

Miss Annie L. Rourke, employed by the previous owner, will remain with the new management.

WHAT THE COOK SAYS

Many kitchen floors are covered with linoleum, and on account of its being cold to the feet many persons use a strip of carpet or cheap rug in front of the table and the sink, the places where the most standing is done. In a short time, however, these pieces of carpet become unsightly, especially the one near the sink.

Cook makes pads of old newspapers, which are most convenient and clean, costing nothing, and can be renewed whenever necessary. She makes them in this way:

Take two or three (depending on how thick you want the pad) of the smaller sized newspapers for the inside, and a larger one for the outside. This is done to keep the edges flat and it prevents the corners from being kicked up. When the outer sheet becomes soiled it may be torn off and the under part will be clean, or the outer paper may be renewed entirely.

If you want your spinach to have a flavor that is truly appetizing, just cook with it an onion, finely chopped. Choose one with a tender green top. If you can get it, and you will hardly recognize the dish as spinach, so improved will be its flavor. That is the way cook cooks her turnip greens, too. She also cooks them with a small piece of salt pork, which is excellent seasoning.

When she is short of butter, she uses a little salad oil in scrambling eggs, substituting an equal quantity of water for the usual milk. With plenty of paprika to season it, this gives the dish a unique and agreeable taste.

When boiling eggs, wet the shells thoroughly in cold water before dropping them in the boiling water, and they will not crack.

To clean kid gloves, says cook, put one glove on the hand. Apply strong lather made from soap and fresh milk and use a soft brush or a fine piece of flannel; keep the strokes towards the ends of the fingers. Apply until the dirt disappears, then take a clean soft towel and dab the gloves until the soap is removed.

Take the glove from the hand and blow it to open the fingers. Place a piece of string through one of the buttonholes and hang the glove up in a warm place where there is a current of air. When dry the gloves will have regained their color and will be smooth and soft.

A wooden frame over which wash gloves are stretched to dry is a convenience to the woman who wears cambrays, doekins and silk gloves in the warm weather. A wooden hand with stationary thumb costs 40 cents. For 20 cents more a hand with a moveable thumb, adjusted by means of a wooden screw, can be bought. The gloves can be put on the frames either before they are washed or afterward, while they are still wet.

To remove ice cream stains, says cook, sponge the stained part with chloroform, placing a pad of absorbent cotton or blotting paper under the spot. Sometimes better results are obtained if after this treatment the silk is sponged with tepid water and a good soap and then rubbed with a flannel cloth until dry.

To remove mud stains from black cloth, allow the mud to dry on it, then brush it with a stiff whisk broom. If the marks are still there, rub it with a raw potato. To remove tar stains on white linen rub butter or lard on it and allow to stay on about 15 minutes, then wash in the usual manner. To remove oil paint wet the place with naphtha, repeating as often as necessary; but frequently one application will dissolve the paint. As soon as it is softened, rub the surface down.

To prevent new dishes from breaking, says cook, put the dishes into a pan of hot water and set on the stove. Let the water come slowly to a boil; then take off from the stove and when the water becomes cool again take the dishes out and wipe them. Afterward you may use as hot water as you wish on them without fear of their breaking.

When a baking dish burns set it on the back of the stove with soda in the water and when ready to wash the burn will come off easily. Boil a new baking dish before using it, starting it in cold water and ending it in the same way and it will be much less likely to crack.

A saucepan in which milk has been boiled is often a trouble to clean. Here is a simple and successful method: After pouring out the boiling milk quickly replace the lid before the steam has time to escape and allow the saucepan to cool before taking it off again. Then put the pan in cold water to soak. It can be cleaned quickly and easily.

Before washing your blankets, says cook, make your soap solution before hand and have that ready to use. No soap should ever be rubbed directly into the wool except in extreme cases. There are several good recipes for soap solutions.

FOR A BAD COUGH

Here is a fine old-fashioned recipe for coughs, colds or catarrh trouble that is absolutely unequalled. Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parment (Double Strength) and add to it 1 pint of hot water and 1 oz. of granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful 4 times a day.

No more racking your whole body with a cough. Clogged nostrils will open, air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has a stubborn cough, hard cold or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial.

Use three parts of cold water, two tablespoons of borax and one-half cup of wood alcohol. Shave the soap into cold water and heat to the boiling point. When cold add the borax and alcohol.

Wash only one blanket at a time. Do not rub the blankets, but squeeze them as quickly as possible over the whole surface. When the entire blanket has been gone over squeeze out (but do not wring) as much water as possible and lift carefully into the second tub. Repeat the process. The blankets may then be put through the wringer. This should be very loosely adjusted so that it merely presses the water out but does not crush the fibre.

The closing sessions of the annual conference were held at the church in Butterfield and Mt. Vernon streets.

At 11:30 o'clock, an ordination sermon, addressed to the ministers, was preached by Bishop Spreng, and at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the regular ordination service was held. Rev. O. J. Harvey of Westport factory being ordained to the office of deacon and Rev. L. W. Malcolm of New Bedford to the office of elder. The sum of $250 was also quickly raised for defraying the expenses of the conference.

In the afternoon at 3 o'clock a memorial service for members who had died during the year was held with impressive ceremony. The praise service was led by Rev. J. H. Bauerfeld of Chicago, followed by a preaching service at which Bishop Spreng spoke of "The Pre-eminence of Christ."

At the close of the service, pastors were assigned for the year to the following churches: Boston, Jesse Lee church; Rev. H. A. Hamilton; Cambridge, Rev. C. W. Locke, formerly a pastor in this city; Bridgeport, Conn., Rev. J. R. Brown; Everett, Rev. Geo. Davies; Lynn, Rev. C. H. Hopkins;

HE SAVED BOY'S LIFE

WALTER GIFFIN RESCUED LAD FROM DROWNING IN BEAVER BROOK

Walter Giffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Giffin, of 905 Lakeview avenue, performed an heroic act late Saturday afternoon when he saved the life of a boy who was drowning in Beaver brook at Navy Yard. Giffin is a member of the Boy Scout troop of the Hillside church and he was highly commended for his quick and successful action.

Giffin, with other companions was playing baseball in a field near the lake of Beaver brook late Saturday afternoon, when his attention was attracted to the water, where the boy was struggling for his life. Giffin sized up the situation at a glance and without getting rid of his clothing he dove into the water just as the boy was sinking for the third time and soon returned to the surface with the drowning boy. The boy was unconscious and Giffin was only after considerable effort on the part of the rescuer that the little fellow regained consciousness. The boy was taken to his home where yesterday he was reported as being in fine condition. It seems that he was playing in a boat from which he fell into the water.

ANOTHER GERMAN SHIP

asked for fuel and provisions. Many times reported destroyed, the former North German Lloyd liner had evaded hostile warships for eight months while she sent 14 merchantmen to the bottom. Her officers said she was forced to steal her way past four allied cruisers off the Virginia Capes to reach this refuge.

"We ran in without being seen by the enemy, and we can get out the same way," declared her commander, Lieutenant Captain Paul Thierfelder, formerly navigating officer of the German cruiser Karlsruhe. In a state of last night when she dropped anchor, the Kronprinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scanty provisions for the crew of 500 men and 61 prisoners from British merchant ships sunk in the South Atlantic.

When the Kronprinz Wilhelm arrived off "Himble Shoar," after passing in the Virginia Capes early yesterday, the United States submarines, the G-1 and D-2 met her. The appearance of the submarines caused considerable surprise among the crew, but there was no demonstration as the little vessels conveyed the German raider to quarantine, where Dr. MacCaffery, United States quarantine officer, boarded her. Commander Thierfelder reported 65 of the crew and prisoners were ill with beriberi and requested that they be taken to a hospital.

Thierfelder said that the Kronprinz Wilhelm followed in the wake of the interned Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which arrived here a month ago Saturday, after thrilling and effective operations for the German armaments in her raid of the coast since she slipped out of New York harbor Aug. 3 last as a German merchant and passenger steamer, the Kronprinz Wilhelm never touched land and took 560 prisoners from various vessels, destroyed.

Most of these prisoners were sent to South American ports at different times on German ships, which met the raider in response to wireless calls. The 51 now on board, who will be landed here tomorrow, are British sailors from the steamships Tamar, destroyed March 25, and Coleby, destroyed March 27 last.

The raider brought as thrilling a story as did the Eitel Friedrich. Her record of destruction, however, was accomplished with only four guns, two transferred from the German cruiser Karlsruhe and two captured later from the British merchant steamer LaCorinthia, sunk Oct. 7, 1914.

Armed by Karlsruhe

The most connected story of the long voyage from New York—255 days in all—was told last night by Over Lieutenant Warneke, the first officer, who left New York harbor with the ship.

"We left Aug. 3 and put into the great big ocean," said Lieutenant Warneke. "We were not a warship then, but three days out, off the Bermudas, we met the German cruiser Karlsruhe. We took from her two three-inch guns, which we mounted on the bow of the ship, and took Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder, her navigating officer, to command our ship.

"We also took 17 of the Karlsruhe's junior officers and men, took on more coal and provisions and put to sea."

"We made for the South Atlantic and the first ship we encountered was the British ship India Prince, which we sank Sept. 4, 1914. From that time on we remained on the ocean, destroying the enemy where we might find her."

Thanks Sir Edward Grey

"I want to say that Sir Edward Grey, the British premier, has been kind to us and that if Great Britain had been organized as well as we were to patrol the South Atlantic we never could have remained alive these many months. Sir Edward Grey sent us those two big guns on our after deck. He sent them to us on the British La Corinthia on Oct. 7. When we got those four-inch guns we felt pretty safe."

"La Corinthia couldn't help us because she didn't have any ammunition. We didn't give her battle, but after we took her guns and what of her cargo we wanted we put some bombs into her and down she went. We made ammunition for her guns on board ship. Some of the merchant ships we sank with our own guns, some we blew up with bombs, and in some cases we were compelled to ram the ships also."

"Sir Edward Grey was also kind to us in sending us coal, for we took on board from enemy ships during our voyage more than 20,000 tons."

Look French Califorms

"We were a peculiar looking crowd until France came to our rescue with the uniforms we wear. We made the uniforms for all our merchant crew from cloth captured from the French steamship, Guadeloupe, Feb. 23. The color is not exactly German, but the cloth is good. We wanted dark blue, but could find only this gray blue, and so you see we are a strange looking German seamen today."

Had News of Odenwald

"Why did you Americans not give clearance to the Odenwald?" he asked. "We heard all about it by our wireless. We didn't need any newspapers. We had good wireless apparatus aboard all the time, and Sir Edward Grey kindly sent several new sets when we needed them."

Lieutenant Warneke said that most of the passengers and sailors taken from British and other allied ships were sent from time to time by German ships to Buenos Ayres, Rio de Janeiro, Pernambuco and Santos. Three hundred and sixty from the French steamer Guadeloupe were sent ashore at Pernambuco.

Several weeks ago, the officer said, the Kronprinz Wilhelm was getting short of coal and supplies and some of her crew and prisoners were afflicted with beriberi, caused by lack of vegetable food. The Germans had hoped to get supplies from the German ship Macdonald, which was reported to have escaped from Las Palmas several weeks ago. This vessel, they learned, however, had been captured by British vessels.

Watched the Eitel

This hope gone, they steamed north through the middle of the Atlantic and were in touch with events transpiring regarding the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

"It was reported last night that the cruiser's original destination was New York, but that warnings were given not to attempt to make that port."

The ship is declared to have been waiting far out in the ocean off this port until the Eitel Friedrich was interned. As soon as this news reached her she was ordered to creep in through the allied ships off the Virginia coast, should they remain there.

That was assisted by several of the Prinz Wilhelm's officers. One of them declared they were so close that the sputtering of the wireless on the British and French vessels could be heard about 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

A member of the crew of the Kronprinz Wilhelm, who was formerly in the United States navy, declared that the crew witnessed an encounter between the Karlsruhe and the British cruiser Bristol.

Escaped British Cruisers

"When off the Bermudas," he said, "the British cruisers Bristol, Suffolk and Berwick came up and we were forced to run. While the Karlsruhe was engaging the Bristol we were steaming straight away. We made 26 knots in that fight, and we never heard from the Karlsruhe after that except once. Our last message from her told us that the Bristol had been damaged and was making for some port for repairs and that the Karlsruhe had been only slightly damaged and no one had been killed. We then began our cruise as a warship."

On Nov. 21, we captured and sank the French steamer Anne de Bretagne. On Dec. 12, just as our coal supply was running short, we captured the British steamer Bellevue, which had about 4000 tons of coal. Our next prize was the French steamer Mont Agel. On Dec. 28 we overhauled the British steamer Hemisphere and from her secured 3000 tons of coal. This enabled us to proceed without any fear of running short of fuel.

Our next capture was the British steamer Totara, which we sent down Jan. 10. On Jan. 14 we came upon the British steamer Highland Brae. In addition to a crew of 31 she had aboard 31 passengers. We took stores from her, transferred the crew and passengers to the Wilhelm and then the steamer was towed to the same steamer to the bottom. On the same day we overhauled the British sailing ship Wilfred M. She was loaded with fish and potatoes and we secured much provisions.

Sank a Neutral Ship

"The Norwegian sailing ship Semantha, the only neutral ship we sank, was our last voyage. She was overhauled Feb. 1. This ship, we were told, had on board a cargo of wheat consigned to the British army and navy, and we sent her down because she was carrying contraband of war. On Feb. 23 we captured the British freight steamer Chaschill and after taking coal and provisions from her we put her crew and passengers aboard and sent her to the nearest port. We left her food and coal enough to make her get to the nearest port."

These prizes were also placed aboard the Chaschill, and after taking stores we wanted from the French steamer we sent her down by opening her scuttles.

"We did not sight any more ships until March 2, when the Royal mail ship steamer Tamar was overhauled. A Brazilian coast steamer, Coleby, captured by British steamer, Coleby, from Rosario for St. Vincent, with

W. E. ROGERS, Register, A-2-5-12

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex: Respectfully sheweth and represents Alexandra Kasabuka, of Lowell, in said County, that she was lawfully married to Adam Kasabuka, now of Chelsea, in said County, on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1908, and thereafter said Kasabuka lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Somerville, aforesaid, at 21 Carroll street, Boston, Massachusetts, and has been faithful to her marriage vows and obligations, but the said Adam Kasabuka, being wholly regardless of the duties of a husband, has, since the year 1910 he contracted gross and confirmed habits of intoxication caused by the voluntary and excessive use of intoxicating liquors.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your petitioner and the said Adam Kasabuka.

Dated this 29th day of March, A. D. 1915.

ALEXANDRA KASABUKA.

Witness to mark of Alexandra Kasabuka, Edward J. Tierney.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS. Middlesex ss. Superior Court, March 25, A. D. 1915.

Upon the foregoing libel, it is ordered that the libellant notify the libellee to appear before our Justices of said County, on the first Monday of May next, to answer the libel, and to show cause if any he has, why the same should not be granted.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Court, this 25th day of March, A. D. 1915.

and Berwick came up and we were forced to run. While the Karlsruhe was engaging the Bristol we were steaming straight away. We made 26 knots in that fight, and we never heard from the Karlsruhe after that except once. Our last message from her told us that the Bristol had been damaged and was making for some port for repairs and that the Karlsruhe had been only slightly damaged and no one had been killed. We then began our cruise as a warship."

On Nov. 21, we captured and sank the French steamer Anne de Bretagne. On Dec. 12, just as our coal supply was running short, we captured the British steamer Bellevue, which had about 4000 tons of coal. Our next prize was the French steamer Mont Agel. On Dec. 28 we overhauled the British steamer Hemisphere and from her secured 3000 tons of coal. This enabled us to proceed without any fear of running short of fuel.

Our next capture was the British steamer Totara, which we sent down Jan. 10. On Jan. 14 we came upon the British steamer Highland Brae. In addition to a crew of 31 she had aboard 31 passengers. We took stores from her, transferred the crew and passengers to the Wilhelm and then the steamer was towed to the same steamer to the bottom. On the same day we overhauled the British sailing ship Wilfred M. She was loaded with fish and potatoes and we secured much provisions.

Sank a Neutral Ship

"The Norwegian sailing ship Semantha, the only neutral ship we sank, was our last voyage. She was overhauled Feb. 1. This ship, we were told, had on board a cargo of wheat consigned to the British army and navy, and we sent her down because she was carrying contraband of war. On Feb. 23 we captured the British freight steamer Chaschill and after taking coal and provisions from her we put her crew and passengers aboard and sent her to the nearest port. We left her food and coal enough to make her get to the nearest port."

These prizes were also placed aboard the Chaschill, and after taking stores we wanted from the French steamer we sent her down by opening her scuttles.

"We did not sight any more ships until March 2, when the Royal mail ship steamer Tamar was overhauled. A Brazilian coast steamer, Coleby, captured by British steamer, Coleby, from Rosario for St. Vincent, with

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT IN CASE OF PICANSO VS. O'DOWD
THE PERRY CASE

The sudden disappearance of the plaintiff in the case of Bellarmine C. Pleano vs. Henry J. O'Dowd, caused another breakdown in the superior court list this forenoon and at 11.30 a. m. the court was adjourned until 2.30 p. m.

The case called for trial was an action of contract in which the plaintiff claimed he was hired by the defendant to negotiate the sale of a parcel of real estate at 114 Charles street. The plaintiff testified that he had sold the property for $5000 and that the commission was $1000. The defendant testified that the plaintiff had sold the property for $5700 and received $200 as his commission, leaving a balance of $1100 due the plaintiff. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff and awarded him $1100. All charges were denied by the defendant.

While Attorney A. B. Goldman was making his opening to the jury, the case stepped out, saying that he was feeling that the railroad station to be an important witness. He did not turn, however, and by agreement with counsel, the court ordered the jury to return a verdict for the defense. Edward F. Tierney appeared for the O'Dowd.

Perigo Case

Judge Stevens charged the jury this morning in the suit of James W. Perigo vs. Charles E. Ralph, Ed. Brandon J. Manning, in which Perigo claims he was bitten by a dog owned by the defendants in Park last July. Before sending the jury to deliberation, his Honor instructed the jurors to return a verdict in favor of Brandon J. Manning, as it found that he did not own the car. He told the jurors that they must find for the defendants on both other counts or for the plaintiff as one of the other defendants. A verdict will be reported tomorrow morning.

The case of John Breen of S ville vs. Ellen C. Slas of Detroit, was called for trial today, but the plaintiff did not appear and the case was disposed of by default. Miss Slas is the daughter of the late Mrs. Coyle, who died on Aug. 1, 1913. She sued for $1000 alleged to be due her for nursing the late Mr. Coyle during his illness. R. J. Cotter for the defendant and Schwartz and Dearborn for the plaintiff.

FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE

BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO WIPE OUT
THE DREADED WHITE PLAGUE

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 12.—Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin, state commissioner of health, has inaugurated a new campaign to help exterminate and perhaps wipe out the dreaded white plague in textile and other manufacturing communities in Massachusetts. The commissioner plans to cooperate with the immigration authorities and through them keep a record of every alien coming into this state from abroad whose physical condition is below normal.

This record will contain the destination of each of these aliens and the health officers in the various districts will be instructed to keep a close watch upon them with particular reference to the conditions under which they are living. In this manner the commissioner hopes to discover and check the first trace of consumption that occurs from these sources.

Aliens suffering from tuberculosis are not admitted into the United States but many aliens certified as having poor physique, flat chest, underweight, for age, anemia, and other rather indefinite defects are admitted. These aliens are excellent subjects for tuberculosis if they are exposed to slum conditions.

Dr. McLaughlin, some time ago, requested the commissioner general of immigration to furnish lists of aliens destined for Massachusetts cities and towns having such defects and J. F. Denmore, acting United States commissioner of labor, has agreed to cooperate with Dr. McLaughlin insofar as the appropriation of his department will permit.

When these lists are received, the commissioner of health can notify the local boards of health and the tuberculosis dispensary will be able either to prevent the development of tuberculosis or to arrange for deportation of the alien at the earliest possible moment, if the disease should develop.

Dr. McLaughlin says it is not generally known that aliens who are suffering from a dangerous contagious disease, insane persons, and others who have become a public charge may be deported to Europe at any time within three years after landing, provided their condition is due to causes prior to landing.

BURNED ITS MORTGAGE

HIGHLAND-VERITAS LODGE HAS CLEARED ITS HALL OF $5500
MORTGAGE

The $5500 mortgage on the Highland-Veritas lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., building at 131 Branch street was burned Saturday evening in the presence of over 200 persons, including a large representation of the lodge membership. Odd Fellows from many surrounding towns and invited guests who assembled and participated in the jubilation which marked the freedom of the property from every dollar of the debt that has been on it for many years.

Besides the grand officers and other distinguished guests present, the only two surviving members of the lodge, Edward Clark, P. G., and G. M. Segar, attended the ceremony and joined with the younger members in making the event a memorable one.

The hall never looked prettier than on Saturday night. Streamers of red, white and blue bunting extended from the center to all parts of the hall while American flags were placed in front of the stage and at intervals about the sides and rear. The electrical effect was also striking.

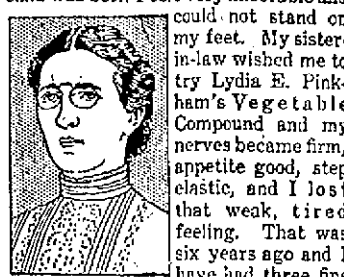

At 7 o'clock a beautiful banquet was served by Highland union. Daughters of Elshkah, in the lower hall. During the dinner music was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra and by the Mendelssohn quartet, composed of Messrs. F. N. Booth, A. T. Munn, Charles H. Howard and Harry C. Needham.

When the banquet was over W. C. Bowen, P. G., toastmaster, called to order and extended a cordial welcome to

COULDN'T STAND

Testifies She Was Restored
to Health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound.

Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KREAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The members and visitors present, Grand Warden Clifford L. Mahoney of Boston was called upon for an address, and he spoke briefly on the record of the lodge and of its high standing at the present time.

The historian of the lodge, John F. Bateman, P. G., next gave a well prepared history of the lodge, going back to the day of its founding in 1815. He spoke of both Highland and Veritas lodges, as the present organization is the result of a consolidation of the two.

Wyman O. Bateman, president of the association, took the $5500 mortgage and placing it in a receptacle touched a lighted torch to the document, and amid a cheering of over 200 voices, singing "America," the mortgage slowly burned and then there were cheers given for Highland lodge and its members. The scene was impressive and touching the hearts of all present.

Among those called upon for brief addresses were: Grand Chaplain A. Davis, Grand Herald Justus Duncan, Grand Instructor W. M. Weber, all of Boston, and District Deputy G. M. John R. H. Ward and suite from Lawrence.

"IRISH NIGHT"

The "Irish Night" to be held at Highland hall on Wednesday evening of this week is sure to prove a source of pleasure for all who attend. The committee in charge has completed arrangements and has done all possible to make the affair a success. The dances that were so much enjoyed some years ago, and the pipers and the fiddlers will all contribute to the pleasure of the evening. Prizes will be given for the best step dancing, and a special invitation is extended to the special people to come and share in the genuine enjoyment of the evening. Modern dancing will be allowed from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

LADY LOOKABOUT

The project of a school in citizenship has much to recommend it, not only to the alien seeking naturalization, but also to the large class of our women who are seeking their enfranchisement. The old objections to woman suffrage—that woman's place is in the home, has been so successfully combated that to give utterance to it at the present time is to hold one's self up to ridicule. There is one objection, however, which it seems to me has yet to be removed. This is that women themselves do not want it. And it is true. Of course this does not apply to those who are so enthusiastically working for suffrage, but it does most assuredly apply to the rank and file of women—those who make up the great majority.

A school for citizenship, with women for the pupils, would accomplish much for suffrage, and in less time than is now being consumed in educating men by the "direct method."

One-Handed Chauffeur

That automobile operator who is going about town with one arm in a sling and running his machine with a single hand, has the finest courage I have met with in a long time. I have always felt that the average person—women, at any rate—have a hand too few and a foot too few to ever become real proficient chauffeurs. Yet this operator worms his machine in and out of the busiest spots in the city, and I have yet to hear of an accident. It is coming to him, though. Only for the cool head and swift action of a Lawrence street motorman a few days ago the operator would have had trouble. The machine dashed directly across the track and the motorman brought his car to such a sudden standstill that the passengers were severely jolted. The automobile stopped before it cleared the tracks and there were not more than six inches between it and the car. Do you remember the old song we used to hear at minstrel shows years ago, "The One-Man Band." Well, witnessing Rufus could not have held a candle to the one-armed chauffeur as his good hand flew from brake to spark, to gasoline, to wheel, as he hustled to start up and get out of the way. A man with courage like that is wasting his time in a tame town like Lowell. He should be at the front, or at least challenging Mr. Willard.

Streets Made for Autos

Judging by the large number of nuts, bolts, washers, and other bits of machinery to be seen scattered about on the city streets, the machines passing over many of them must be subjected to great shaking. A block paved street without a smooth over coating is sure to shorten the life of usefulness of any machine, however strongly built. The advent of the automobile has not brought about the change in city streets which it has in many country roads which have been rebuilt mainly for automobile traffic. Owners of machines are heavily taxed in order to provide these roads, and if none of that money is paid back to the cities from which most of it comes, there is an opportunity for some ambitious young statesman to become a hero.

Mail Carriers' Uniform

The recent ruling of Postmaster General Burleson affecting the summer uniforms of mail-carriers must have been received with joy by the carriers. The hot weather costume may be of cotton, wool, or cotton and wool, providing he color is not changed from that in present use. I am glad they are to continue the soft cadet blue we have grown accustomed to associating with our carriers, and I am sure that with the lightweight hot weather outfits they will appear jauntier than ever.

It would seem that in Lowell, a city over 100,000 inhabitants, and embracing as many nationalities as it does, any person wishing to engage in business of almost any kind would find a ready market for his goods. It would seem also, that a local firm would find larger profits in catering to local needs than would an outside firm doing business here, in retail trade at least. Yet every day from my windows I see an expensive commercial automobile with two men, a chauffeur and one other, all the way from East Cambridge, doing a house to house business in baker's goods.

Surely if a firm of bakers in East Cambridge can find it profitable to send each day a high-priced automobile and two men to Lowell to conduct a house to house business, there must be a greater profit in it for a local firm. This is only one instance. Others readily suggest themselves—cases of strangers walking into our cities and carrying off money which should go to local merchants. It is another example of outsiders coming in here to make the most of business opportunities. Our own people either fail to see or lack the enterprise to grasp. It is an opportunity for profitable investment on Central street a few years ago. I presume that had the Bradley Bros. the old Hamilton way with its array of bill board literature would still be an eyesore to the public.

LADY LOOKABOUT.

LOWELL WELL ADVERTISED

BY MEANS OF ED. CONANT'S BIG SALES ALL OVER THE UNITED

Talk about Lowell being widely advertised abroad, perhaps Edmund B. Conant, the well known auctioneer, isn't doing his share of that advertising. He has become a national character on the auction block and he never fails to put in big type on all advertisements. "Under the management of J. E. Conant & Co., auctioneers of Lowell, Massachusetts."

On April 20th, anyone desiring to meet Mr. Conant will find him, rain or shine, in front of the mammoth plant of the Falls City Woolen Co. in Louisville, Kentucky, where he is going to sell out the entire plant with all its machinery and appointments to the highest bidder and he will have for an audience some of the biggest manufacturers of the country, who will go there from all over the United States.

The sale is being advertised in every manufacturing center in the country by means of a neatly printed 16 page pamphlet (made in Lowell), on the front page of which appears the firm name and its location, Lowell, Mass.

The property includes half a dozen brick buildings and apartments with all the equipment of a first class mill. The lots are divided up for convenience and description into over 600, all of which are to be sold to the highest bidder without restriction or reserve and regardless of any condition of the weather. Mr. E. B. Conant has become such a specialist in the sale of manufacturing plants that he has no equal in the entire country. His familiarity with reality, machinery and mechanical equipment is astonishing. He is an expert in advertising which enables him to get the highest price for every plant he sells.

Comparative Food Values

1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

Comparative Cost per Pound

1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food

It would be difficult to find a food that affords the same abundance of true nourishment, at so low a cost, as does the famous wheat and malted barley food—

Grape-Nuts

At three-fifths the cost, a package of Grape-Nuts supplies nearly one-third more nourishment than a pound of rib roast beef. And besides, in buying a roast you pay for about 20% refuse, and there's a shrinkage in cooking.

Grape-Nuts food comes ready cooked and every particle in the FRESH-SEALED package is good to eat. Its rich nutrient includes the 'vital' salts that are necessary for brain, bone and sturdy muscle. Grape-Nuts is delicious—easily digested—economical.

Thinking people everywhere are more and more adopting Grape-Nuts—

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
Quality counts. It may be more expensive at the start, but it is economy in the long run, for the average man, woman or child, appreciates refined, high class entertainment. That is why the Lowell Opera House has had four of the most successful weeks in its history.

Beginning this afternoon, the Opera House will put on the same excellent Paramount productions that it has had since its reopening, and Miss Betty

Most Old People Are Constipated

The wear of years impairs the action of the bowels. With advancing age people are disposed to restricted activity and exercise, which is responsible for the constipated condition of most old folks. The digestive organs are more sensitive to the demands made upon them and rebel more quickly.

A mild, effective remedy for constipation, and one that is especially suited to the needs of elderly people, women and children, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

Bellaire will have the leading role, with "The Spanish Jade" as the vehicle. Miss Bellaire first achieved distinction as an actress when she became leading woman for Mr. Free Terry in England, since which time she has engaged in dramatic work of the highest order. Her appearance on the Paramount screen marks the introduction of a woman who is bound to become a picture favorite. Under the arrangement with the Paramount people, only genuinely "Famous Players" appear in the Famous Players series, so that even though you may not have seen a Paramount performer on the screen, you may rest assured that the perfection is reached when a Paramount film is completed. Take, for example, Rita Jolivet, who made her picture debut at the Lowell Opera House last week. She has been ever seen in picture plays than this young woman, destined to be as popular as any picture favorite as yet presented to an appreciative public, and her triumph, moreover, was emphasized when it is considered that she appeared in "The Unfaithful," a drama-romance, whose presentation of a stage actress, whose presentation of "The Spanish Jade" is said to be as artistic, with a measure of romance and dramatic action, enhanced by scenic effects known only to the Paramount studios.

Then there will be other films, the products of Mutual, Majestic, Keystone, Taubhauser and Princess picture companies, embracing variety and quality, and the most exciting. The music feature, of course, will find abundant appreciation, with Dr. Edw. Delevanti at the pipe organ, the Opera House orchestra under the direction of Emil D. Bessie, and Miss Constance of Boston soprano, contributing to its excellence. Reservations may be had on application. Tel. 781.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

In "Surgeon Louder, U. S. A.," the very funny travesty, which will be produced in imhoff, Conn & Coreene, at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, patrons of the theatre may rest assured that the best drawing cards on the circuit today. This trio of entertainers first sprung into renown through their work in "The Doings of Dr. Louder." That act was considered to be very funny, but when "Surgeon Louder" was concocted and produced it made an instantaneous hit, and for three seasons it has had unqualified triumph over the country. Roger Imhoff will have the part of "Private Casey," the wounded soldier, who is doing his utmost to get a furlough. He runs against the surgeon, tells him his troubles, and is promptly turned down. He continues his appeals, with no success whatever. The conclusion of the act is most remarkable. Jack Ryan and Harry Tierney, who have just returned from a big success in Europe, will bring to the front their polished comedy, and will add thereto some of their original songs. These men who are billed just as is the ordinary talking and singing duo, are distinctly in advance of most of their fellows, for they have hit upon a line, which has not been explored before, and their work is so well done that they never fail to create a most positive impression. Ryan and Tierney have for several years made trips to the continent, and they have conquered wherever they have appeared. They will conquer here.

Boomerang throwing is not an easy thing to do, but when it is accomplished with ordinary headgear, it becomes decidedly more difficult than as if carried out with the ancient weapons of the Maoris. Moran and Wiser will compel an endless number of bats to describe all sorts of figures in mid-air. And the bats will fall out over the heads of the audience, and will then come back again. These boomerangs hat throwers have only just come to

WHOLE FAMILY TORTURED BY ITCHING RASH

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—"My husband had a rash all over his body, and soon the WHOLE FAMILY was in the same condition. It looked scaly and raised up on the arms and body in big bumps. This trouble burned and itched so that it would nearly drive one crazy. It was always worse at night, so we could not sleep. "We all had this trouble for about two or three years, and during that time tried many remedies and prescriptions with no results. We tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it RELIEVED AT ONCE, and before the third jar of ointment had been used, we were all completely cured. It has been four months since we were cured, and there are no traces of the trouble." (Signed) Mrs. S. A. Clarkson, 1520 Lawn Ave., Oct. 21, 1914. America from a continental tour, where they achieved much renown, the difficulty and accuracy of their work being thoroughly well appreciated.

La Petite Mignon is a charming young woman, whose powers of mimicry are unparalleled, and who will offer character representations of many persons who are now on the American stage. Mignon is a dainty miss, and she has bundles of ability. She was discovered a year ago, meekly submitting her repertoire of personations. She had a "different" air, a personality in her work, which is nothing if not pleasing.

Ethel Sinclair and Frank Griffiths will present "Fancy Foolishness," a very pungent skit written by Jean C. Haver, the man who cooked up all of the low lockstade's fun. Miss Sinclair and Mr. Griffiths are most competent players, who will get all the fun out of Mr. Haver's lines. The Lelands are a man and a woman who are painters and who offer an exceptionally pretty village scene. The Claimant Boys are dare-devil revolving ladder performers. Their act has all of the former. Seats for all performances may be obtained at the box office. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"I will surely be here to see that play, next week," said a prominent city official, as he strolled out of the Merrimack Square theatre, after watching the Saturday rehearsal of "The Girl From Home," which this week's offering at this popular theatre. "If it plays anything like it rehearses, it will be one dandy show," he added. That's just what everyone else will say after seeing it.

Written by an American author, and containing most of the elements which have gone so far toward making American plays what they are today, it also affords the different principal members in the cast excellent opportunity to display their versatility. First performances, this afternoon at 2, and 8, and 10, and twice daily thereafter. Seats for all performances are now on sale at the box office or may be reserved by phoning 7033.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

The motion picture program offered at the Academy of Music the first three days of this week is headed by "The Typhoon," an entertaining and amusing drama of Japanese life. This great picture unfolds a story that is full of exciting incidents and is sure to thrill the audience from beginning to end. Another number that will close by rival "The Typhoon," is an episode from "The Black Box" serial, describing another event in this high-class and always pleasing drama. Billy Ritchie, known as the funniest comedian in the motion picture world, will be seen in a two-part comedy picture, making three features on the bill for today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

THE OWL THEATRE

This theatre will offer a wonderful array of wonderful productions for this week. On Monday and Tuesday, Zane's "Children of the Ghetto" will be featured. Wednesday and Thursday, "The Deep Purple" with Winsome Clara Kimball Young. Friday day and Saturday will star Charlie Chaplin, Francis X. Bushman and Florence Turner, in three distinct features.

Today and tomorrow's feature, "Isaac Zangwill's 'Children of the Ghetto'" will show Mr. Wilton Lackaye in the leading role of "Reb Shemuel," an old Hebrew rabbi, who persists in his belief in his forefathers' creed in spite of changing times and conditions. Mr. Lackaye brings to this part pre-eminent ability, a reputation as the greatest character actor on the stage, and a depth of emotional appeal and human understanding, that will warm the coldest heart. The story itself is given every bit of assistance he could in order to complete a production that would ring true of his own conceptions of the play. The producer has turned out a masterpiece that will give you an insight of what photography and genius can do—when both are intelligently applied. This will be shown in connection with the regular performance, which will contain such plays as "A Tragedy of the Hittites," a two-act Latin drama; "Sage Brush Tom," a Selig comedy; "The Master in His House," a Vitaphone play and "The Other Man's Wife," another Vitaphone offering. Of course you know there is no change in prices—it's the Owl policy to give the biggest value for the money.

THE JEWEL THEATRE

Got the Monday "blues" today? The Jewell theatre offers the greatest cure. "The Doctor in Comedy," will drive them away as the jealous husband in "The Funny Side of Jealousy," a riot of fun and laughter produced under the Big-C brand. Say, you should not deprive yourself of this treat—it's one that will live long in your memory. The Post-Telegrapher a two-act offering with Anna Little and Francis Ford. "The Pinch," a two-act drama, "The Oaklawn Handicap," are some of the others shown. Is it dawning upon you that the Jewell is offering about the biggest dime's worth in Lowell? It does look that way, doesn't it? Just keep your eye on the little adv. The Jewell News, and read it.

ROYAL THEATRE

In the mythical land of Bavaria, there lives a King Louis, who comes to realize that love of the little dancer means more to him than anything else in his life. The little dancer is left alone in the world when her father dies and the king's secretary is able to protect her, and make her a mistress of the art of dancing. Soon the king feels her charm and she becomes his favorite. She is able to do much for poor people and in doing so incurs the hatred of nobility. They conspire against the king but their plots come to naught through the loyalty of Lola, the dancer. Cecil Spooner, the famous romantic ingenue, is featured in this Blaney production which is the second of the Blaney series to be released through the World Film corporation. As an actress her fame is secure, and in the photoplay world, she is not a novice. Her ability as a directress is fully displayed in "The Dancer and the King," and she has made sure every trick that holds the interest of the audience.

It is said that the relations between the young monarch of a minor power on the continent and a beautiful dancer, suggested the writing of this feature to Cecil Spooner. When played by her on the stage it was one of her greatest successes, and it was the play in which her devotees preferred to see her rather than in any other play that she had in her repertoire.

PETE M'NALLY DEAD POISONED FISH

WELL-KNOWN BOSTON NEWSPAPERMAN AND SWIMMER DIED SUDDENLY

Peter S. McNally, assistant curator of the Franklin Park Zoo, in Boston, former newspaper writer and long distance swimmer, died suddenly at Gloucester Saturday afternoon.

Mr. McNally, accompanied by Charles S. Gardner, his assistant at the Marine park, went to Gloucester to get a seal brought into that port by the schooner Teaser. The seal had been caught on an ice floe off the Newfoundland coast. He was to superintend bringing it to the aquarium.

While on the boat he dropped to the deck and died almost instantly. Pete McNally was well known in this city especially to the newspapermen. He visited here quite frequently and in recent years came as the press agent of the Buffalo Bill and other shows. He spent the last few summers at Hampton beach.

He was a member of Elks Hill Council, K. of C., and of the Order of Alhambra. He is survived by a wife and a daughter about five years old, also by four brothers and two sisters. The brothers are John J. McNally, the playwright, of Gloucester; P. McNally, one of the editors of the Pilot; Dr. William J. McNally of Charlestown; and Daniel McNally, an artist, of New York. The sisters are Mrs. Charles Cooper of Winthrop and Mrs. John Quinn of New Haven.

He was at one time long distance champion swimmer of the world. His mother, Mrs. Bridget McNally, 58 years old, resides at Winthrop.

DIED SUDDENLY

James Ford Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital—Death Due to Natural Causes

James Ford, a man of middle age, died at St. John's hospital yesterday after being confined there but a short time. Death being due to natural causes. The man was living at 15 East Merrimack street and was employed at the Massachusetts mill. He did not work the first three days of the week, but Thursday and Friday he attended to his daily duties. On Saturday he remained at home, stating he was not feeling well. A physician was called and the man's removal to the hospital was ordered. The man gradually grew weaker and a short time after his arrival at the institution he passed away. The police were notified. It was found that Ford died of natural causes. It is believed deceased has some relatives in this city.

FIRE ON LIGHT POLE

Box 62, Lakeview avenue and Cornhill street, at 10:20 o'clock last night called the department to Lakeview avenue where a transformer box on an electric light pole had caught fire. The department had been instructed not to apply water or chemical to the pole so a crew of electric light corporation men was sent for to remove the box.

Fire in a tree near the corner of Etnell street and Lakeview avenue caused a telephone alarm at 6:52 o'clock last evening. No damage.

Fish and Game Society Offers Reward for Detection of Culprit

A reward of $25 has been offered by the Lowell Fish and Game association for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who placed lime in several of the nearby ponds which were recently stocked with fish. The wanted deed is one of the most detestable form of fish destruction that there is. Lime causes the death of the fish and then brings their bodies to the surface of the water, where they can be readily picked up. The members of the association are highly incensed over the matter.

THREE BOYS ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO STORE AND STEALING THEREFROM

Three youngsters, Patrick Gleason, John Diersa and Cyril Davis, were making merry in an empty tenement on Wall street early Sunday morning in celebration of a successful breaking and entering and larceny expedition which the trio had made in a Davidson street store. The three boys finally dropped asleep on the floor of the tenement surrounded by the fruits of their crime—cigarets, cigars and candy.

Officers Kennedy and Fanning were making the rounds of their beat and noticed that the tenement appeared to be occupied. The two officers decided to investigate with the result that the three youths were brought to light and also the police station.

At first the boys said that they bought the spoils strewn about them on the floor, but later admitted taking it from the store. The boys are 11 years of age. They were booked for breaking, entering and larceny and will appear before the juvenile session next Friday.

CHELMSFORD

A fire in the brush along the roadside, just beyond the Roper place in Perham street, on Saturday morning gave rise to the report that the ruins of the Roper house were again on fire. The smoke was first discovered by Ralph Knowlton and Clifford Hill-dreth who sent word to Forest Warden Perham, but before the latter's arrival a number of boys had succeeded in putting the fire out. The cause of the fire is not known.

The play, "The Arrival of Kitty," given by the young people from the Howe high school last Thursday evening netted about $15 for the members of the class of '15.

Trout fishing has become quite popular and a number of fishermen were out Saturday in quest of the sunny tribe placed in the ponds and brooks some time ago by Fish and Game Warden Morse and Peck.

Now Is the Time to Examine Carefully Your Heating Equipment

Of the thousands who tried Lowell Coke this winter, over 99 per cent. found it a perfectly satisfactory, money-saving fuel. A few failed to get good results because of defective heating apparatus.

Why not have your heating plant examined now? A few dollars spent in repairs during the summer may enable you to save 5 or 10 times that number in fuel.

One of our coke experts will be glad to look at your equipment and tell you what is needed, if you wish. Telephone.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Wally Lyons of the Hamilton Manufacturing company says the South End team this year will be faster than ever.

Morton Walker, advertising manager of the J. L. Chaffin store, will manage the store baseball team this season.

William Walsh, a prominent young man of this city, formerly employed at the Merrimack Manufacturing Co., is now with a Lynn shoe concern.

The annual dancing party of the Bon Marche clerks will be held the 28th of this month, and the affair gives promise of being an unprecedented success.

The P. & Q. clothing store will furnish the uniforms for the South End team this season and the team will reciprocate by calling itself the "P. & Q. South Ends."

President Frank Warnock of the Trades & Labor council will be the presiding officer at the mass meeting to be held in the hall tonight by the labor forward movement.

The regular meetings of all labor organizations will be suspended tonight in order to let the members take part in the parade and mass meeting which is to follow at Associate hall.

Henry Sullivan of the J. L. Chaffin shoe department will start in training in a few weeks for a number of aquatic events he expects to enter during the next few months.

Although some excitement prevailed due to the walkout of the common laborers at the South Lowell plant of the U. S. Cartridge Co. Saturday morning, Robinson held his head and succeeded in averting trouble and the laborers left the grounds peacefully.

Invitations have been sent out by the trustees of the Lowell Textile school for the graduation exercises of the evening classes to be held next Wednesday evening, and present indications point to a large attendance. Several prominent mill officials will be the speakers.

TEXTILE SHUTOUT

Defeated by Lawrence Academy—Pitching of Murray a Feature

Lowell Textile met its first defeat of the season Saturday when they met the strong Lawrence academy team on the campus of the local school, going down to a 1-0 shutout.

The main factor in Textile's defeat was the pitching of Johnny Murray, Lawrence academy's crack, who proved invincible. On several occasions in the first few innings Murray was visibly and textually looked dangerous but on each occasion the visitors' pitcher tightened up and retired the local team without a score.

Sturtevant started the mound work for Textile and went along for four innings in fine style. Errors behind him put him in a bad way in the fifth and timely hitting by Lawrence academy netted three runs in this inning.

Harris relieved Sturtevant in the seventh and succeeded in holding the visitors safe to the last session, when they showed two more runs across. Textile's work in the field was poor, a half dozen misplays being committed.

Baker at first base was the bright shining light of the locals. His work at the initial six was all to the good. On several occasions Baker dropped up his glove for put-outs and cracked out a double as well as a single. The score:

The Saco-Lowell shops of Biddford Me. may be able to furnish machinery for the industrial concerns in France. Inquiries have been received the past week by the company, asking for selling prices and other information. Before the war a large part of the machinery used in France was manufactured in Germany.

Last week was the busiest week since early in November with all the textile mills in Providence, R. I. It is said that the operatives engaged are being increased in number, and the few mills which have been operating short time are those which recently completed rush orders. These plants, it is predicted, will soon be back in line.

Daniel Sullivan, Jr., has been elected business agent of the Boot & Shoe Workers' union in Nashua. N. H. Mr. Sullivan is well known in this city where his friends will be pleased to learn of his success. Mr. Sullivan has been a member of the union for some years and last year he served as a delegate to the Central Labor body.

Labor Forward Movement

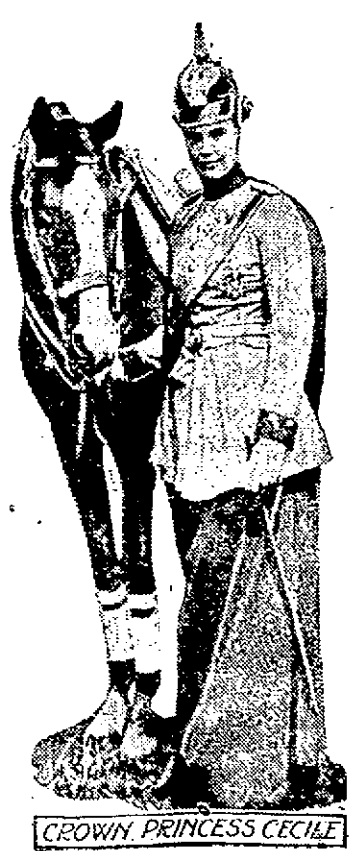

The first open meeting of the labor forward committee will be held in Associate hall tonight and the heads of two great labor organizations, John Golden of the United Textile Workers and John F. Tobin of the Boot and Shoe Workers' union will be the principal speakers.

As previously stated a parade will precede the meeting and it is expected that over 1500 labor men will turn out. The parade will be headed by a band composed of members of the Musicians' union and the band will also furnish the music in the hall.

The members of all labor organizations are to report at 32 Middle st. at 7:15 o'clock where formation will be made and the parade will start at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

CROWN PRINCESS CECILE

FIFTH CHILD BORN TO PRINCESS WHO MARRIED FREDERICK WILLIAM IN 1905

BERLIN, April 12.—A fifth child has been born to the Crown Princess Cecile. It is a girl. Mother and child are reported doing well. The crown princess, who is a daughter of the late Friedrich Franz III. of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, married Frederick William, the German crown prince, in June, 1905. They now have four boys, the eldest being nine years of age, and one daughter.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES
In order that the boy or girl who goes to a store to make purchases should do so intelligently and with an eye for honest weight and measure, Warren P. Borden, sealer of weights and measures, is intent upon carrying into the public schools the agitation for honest weights and measures. He has written a letter to that effect to Supt. Motley.

Reserve Stock - Room Sale

A CHANGE OF POLICY

We have decided to do away with reserve stock rooms. Hereafter new merchandise coming into the store will be checked and hurried down to the departments where it will be marked and placed on sale at once.

This means vastly larger stocks in the various departments. It means greater variety.

Everything will be out in the open—nothing held in reserve.

Our stocks will be constantly under the watchful eyes of our entire organization.

More complete stocks will be another important result.

The safe starting Monday is unique.

We do not recall any instance in the history of merchandising wherein a store has abolished its stock rooms and offered the entire reserve stocks at mark-down prices as we do.

And not only is it a NEW sale, but it is one that we shall never be able to repeat if our experiment works out to our satisfaction.

Reserve stock-room goods are new—our latest arrivals—never on sale before.

Newest spring merchandise at mark-down prices right at the height of the season.

It means that over one hundred thousand dollars' worth of new Spring merchandise will be sold here this week at sixty-five thousand dollars or less.

The sale is certain to be a huge success.

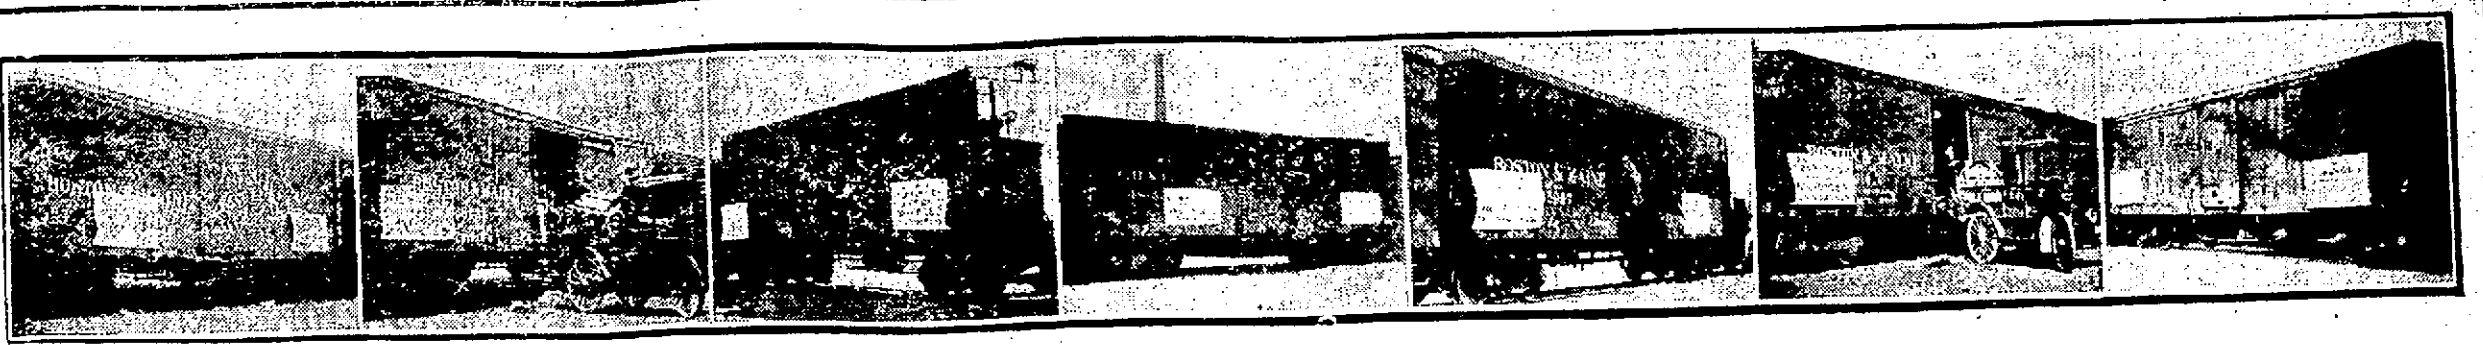

Boston has never had anything like it, and Boston is quick to respond to new ideas.

Everybody who attends this event will be self-congratulated on the bargains they secure.

The circumstances are so unusual that we have planned for an extra large business.

Sale continues entire week. As lots are closed out others will take their places.

From the Bankrupt Stock of the Royal Furniture Co., 53 Portland Street, Boston

THIS, INDEED, IS AN EXTRAORDINARY SALE. IT ISN'T GOING TO BE ONLY A ONE-DAY OR A WEEK'S SALE, BUT

Our Position in the Furniture Market Is Absolute for This Season

As Ten Carloads of Furniture, Art Squares, Linoleum, Ranges, Refrigerators, Pictures, Mirrors, Dinner Sets, etc., cannot be sold in a month or two. Nor is it possible for us to display this immense stock all at once, as many cars had to be unloaded into the storehouse. So we shall have bargains for you for some time to come, but on many of the finer goods there are no duplicates, and the sooner you secure them the better for you, as when they are gone, we, or no other furniture dealer can pay the full price and sell them to you at one-third discount. No, these windfalls do not come every day, and you must do as we did when opportunity knocked at our door. We didn't say: "There is plenty of time," or "I am not quite ready to buy." If we had, opportunity would have gone to the other fellow. No, we quickly grabbed opportunity by the forelock and hauled it into our camp. And that's why we are doing and are going to do four times our normal business this spring. Save you one-third on your purchase and make money ourselves. We have left the original price tag of the Royal Furniture Co. in plain figures on every article, and they sold too cheap for their own good. That's the reason they failed. And from those prices we deduct one-third.

INDIAN RANCHER HERE

WANTS WORK ON A FARM—HE TELLS OF MEXICAN BORDER

Lowell, Tex., April 10.—A young rancher from Texas, arrived in this city Friday night and Saturday appeared on the streets with his full uniform, which consists of a khaki suit with a large leather belt, a large black slouch hat and hip leather spiked boots. He attracted considerable attention.

The young man is a full blooded Indian of the Cherokee tribe and hails from Dallas, Texas, where he was born and brought up. He said he came up north in order to secure employment because he is tired of the ranch life and wants to see the world. He speaks fluent English and hopes to get work on some farm in the vicinity of Lowell.

In conversation with a Sun reporter Saturday afternoon Low said in the south on the Mexican border all the Indians are armed and in order to get rid of the Mexicans, who are always looking for trouble they are forced to shoot them. He said the khaki uniform he wears is the regulation dress for the Indians in the south and they are forced by law to wear it.

Low will remain in Lowell but a few days unless he finds work, for he says he is stranded and will have to do something for a living. He is not fussy about entering the mills, but says he can do anything in the line of outside work—his specialty being farm work. This afternoon the police had all they could do to keep the newboys away from him for they kept following him around the streets.

WOMAN WAS IDENTIFIED

BODY FOUND NEAR TEWKSBURY LINE WAS THAT OF SUSAN SHUBERT OF BILDEFORD, ME

The woman who died from exposure near the Tewksbury line a few days ago and whose body has since laid at the morgue at the state infirmary, has been identified as Susan Shubert of Biddeford, Me. She escaped from the town farm at Biddeford some weeks ago. She had been there for about five years and was mentally deranged.

TO SOLVE LABOR TROUBLES

LEAVE THEM TO PUBLIC, "WHICH IS ALMOST ALWAYS RIGHT," SAYS RAILROAD LEADER

CHICAGO, April 10.—Julius Kruttschnitt, first assistant to the late E. H. Harriman and himself, one of the leading railroad authorities of the country, today expressed to the United States commission on industrial relations the opinion that the only solution of labor troubles was the designing of a vehicle through which the public "which is almost always right," shall decide the merits of controversies.

"One of the duties of this commission," said Commissioner James O'Connell to Mr. Kruttschnitt, who was the first witness at today's session, "is to ascertain the causes of industrial unrest and to recommend a remedy if possible. What is your opinion?"

"I have observed a great many strikes and in the end public opinion decides, just as a rule," replied the witness. "No strike that I recall ever succeeded with public opinion against it. The great American public settles them all. The older I grow the more I am convinced that the task of settling labor troubles is the task of keeping the public informed."

FOURTH ISSUED THIS WEEK ADDS 1,238, MAKING TOTAL FOR WEEK 4,323

LONDON, April 10.—The fourth British casualty list issued by the war office this week showing 1,238 additional losses, was given out today. Of the total 403 were killed and the others wounded.

These losses were due largely to fighting last month which resulted in the capture by the British of the French town of Neuve Chapelle. Today's list brings the total of casualties announced this week up to 5,323, of which 1,734 men were killed.

ELEVATOR IN POSTOFFICE Work of installing the new elevator at the postoffice has been completed and it is probable that Postmaster Meahan will have the mailing division of the office transferred to the second floor of the building very shortly. The elevator is modern in every way and runs from the basement to the top floor.

CLEANING THE STREETS

COMMISSIONER PUTNAM BELIEVES THE CITY COULD SAVE MONEY BY OPERATING MOTORS

Commissioner Putnam is somewhat of the opinion that Lowell could save a little something by doing its street cleaning by motors. There is a combination sweeper and sprinkler that the commissioner has in mind which he believes could be operated here economically and successfully. There is considerable dissatisfaction relative to the car sprinklers. The sprinklers should have been in operation in Lowell the first day of April, but Lowell people have had to eat an extra peck of dirt because of some hitch between the street railway men and the sprinkler company. There are other things against the car sprinkler including the alleged water disturbance which they create, it being claimed that the filling of the car sprinklers so fills the water in some sections of the city as to render it unfit for use.

Commissioner Putnam says that street cleaning by motors is carried on successfully in Houston, Tex. He has seen a copy of the figures on the operation of the street sprinkler and sweeping gangs for the year ending Feb. 28, 1915. The sprinkler is used eight hours during the day to keep down dust, and eight hours at night sprinkling ahead of the motor-drawn brooms. The motor trucks are also used both day and night, each pulling a street broom at night and picking up sweepings by day.

CHANGE IN POLICY

The prices and policy at the Merrimack Square theatre will be changed this week. The stock company in tabloid form will present one-act dramas and feature pictures of an educational and instructive nature will make up the balance of the bill. For week of April 12, the wonderfully interesting photo play, "Ireland a Nation," by Walter McNamara, will be the feature. Comedy films will also be shown. The prices will be 10 and 20 cents in the orchestra and 10c in the balcony.

GREEK LIBERTY

Independence Day Observed by Mass Meeting and Speeches

The members of the local Greek community celebrated the anniversary of the Independence day of their country in a fitting manner yesterday. For certain reasons, however, the celebration was confined to a church service and patriotic meeting, the parade of former years being set aside. The guest of honor was Rt. Rev. Bishop Germanos of Syria, who is touring the country, and he was one of the principal speakers at the patriotic meeting.

The regular Sunday mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock and the service was attended by thousands of faithful, including representatives of all the local Greek societies and the Holy regiment. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, both the exterior and interior of the temple being covered with American and Greek colors. The celebrant of the mass was the pastor, Rev. Nestor Soulesides. At the close of the service a patriotic meeting was held with the president of the community, Peter Tavoularis, as the presiding officer. Those who addressed the large and enthusiastic gathering were Bishop Germanos, Rev. Nestor Soulesides, and others. The Greek orchestra of 35 pieces rendered excellent music during the meeting. In the afternoon the bishop visited the Syrian colony in company with Peter Tavoularis and Michael Ansara, the latter a prominent Syrian of this city.

The senior class honors of Westford academy have been announced: Miss Helen M. McCoy is valedictorian, with an average rank of 91.5 per cent. for the four years. Miss Persis Wright is salutatorian, with an average of 88.5 per cent. Miss Gertrude Conney and Miss Lennie Kimball each hold a rank of over 85 per cent. Eight of the class rank above 82 per cent. for four years, and two above 80 per cent. for

At a special meeting of the officers of Court Merrimack, 11, Foresters of America held yesterday afternoon, plans were discussed for the outing to be held in July. The matter of conducting a large class initiation with a list of prizes to be awarded to the members bringing in the most candidates between July 1 and Oct 1 was also taken up and referred to the regular meeting of the court which takes place this evening. It was announced that a series of lectures will be held during the months of September and October.

NONPAREIL MINSTRELS

The people of Lowell will have an opportunity to hear an hour of old time minstrelsy tomorrow night, when the Nonpareil songsters will hold forth at Associate hall in their first annual minstrel overture and dance. Although this is the first appearance of the club, the participants in the show are well known to the public through their many successful appearances during the past few years. The club has been fortunate in securing the services of Hon. James B. Casey, as interlocutor. Mr. Casey is no stranger to Lowell audiences, being known as one of the city's most graceful extemporaneous speakers. Among the soloists who will appear are John J. Dalton, Andrew Doyle, William O'Donnell, Master Arthur Hilley, Joseph M. Donoghue, John C. Wilby, John F. Gleason and Linwood Knapp.

On the ends will appear four men whose antics and singing will tickle the audience. "Dick" Donoghue, "Joe" Carroll, "Jack" McArdle and "Billy" Carr have already won themselves a niche in the hall of fame as comedians and all around entertainers. Wm. Gilbride is the musical director. The management of the show is in competent hands and everything points to a big success.

TO BE CONSIDERED AT CONVENTION OF AMERICAN COTTON MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 12.—Delegates from all the cotton spinning centers of the United States are expected to attend the 19th annual convention of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, which will be in session here April 13-14. Matters to be considered include the present dye-stuff situation, the so-called Duke warehouse plan and a general discussion of business efficiency in connection with the management of cotton mills.

The opening session Tuesday morning will be devoted principally to the address of the president, T. I. Hickman of Augusta, Ga., the reading of committee reports and an address by Frank Yasmyth of Manchester, England. Officers will be elected Wednesday.

COSTLY REPUBLICAN OPPOSITION

It is but natural that the millions of the American people, sprung from the racial stocks of every nation in the old world, should feel themselves drawn to one side or the other in the great war, but every little while something arises to remind us that we have a positive duty to perform in being loyal to our own country and its legitimate interests first. While the war rages, with its daily incidents of surprise and horror, we are apt to regard it as an abstract thing in which as a nation we have no part, but as a matter of fact our American interests are very closely entwined with the results of the world war. When peace is declared and new commercial links are forged by all the nations, in the markets of the world, Americans will see plainly that the United States has a great deal at stake in maintaining friendly relations with all so far as that can be honorably accomplished.

In this connection, many shrewd students of world affairs are already declaring that the discarding of the shipping bill of the administration was a most unwise national move. We are trade rivals in the open and fair sense with every great power in the world, but we are ludicrously dependent on our trade rivals for the transportation which is necessary to successful competition. South America, for instance, has great and undeveloped markets which we could supply with greater ease than any other power. We are trying to capture the trade of Argentina, Brazil, Chili and the other great republics of that part of the world. After the war, England, Germany, France, Italy and every other nation will bend their efforts towards getting the lion's share of the revived trade, in competition with us, but we must go to England, France, Italy and the other powers for the ships necessary to transport our cargoes and bring back the raw produce which Latin America has in abundance. The situation is most unfortunate for us, and it will be well indeed if we can avoid international complications, arising from trade misunderstandings.

Even though we have not availed of our unrivalled opportunity to the full, the close of the war will find us a stronger commercial power than ever before. In the peace agreements, certain limitations will probably be arranged between the belligerents, but the winners—if there will be any winners—must then face a new and formidable trade rival in America. Should there be any friction between this nation and Germany, England or any of the powers now at war, the lack of American shipping would place us at the mercy of our rival. Thus, the time may come when the United States may be glad to adopt a government shipping bill such as was cried down in congress so recently by short-sighted opponents.

While it is, therefore, well that we be swayed by the finest moral motives in our judgment of the war and hold individual views as to its justice or injustice, the interests of our own country come first. Among those interests is our right to go out peacefully and honorably for a great part of the trade that has been disorganized by the struggle. In South America alone our possibilities are unbounded, and they are furthered by the operations of our currency bill and the growth of New York as the financial centre of the world. They would have been placed in a commanding position by the plan of President Wilson for a merchant marine, a plan that was defeated by republicans for purely political reasons.

TO AVERT STRIKES

Under the provisions of amended statutes the state board of arbitration is adopting prompt measures to avert strikes by summoning the representatives of the parties involved to appear before it and hearing arguments on both sides. When testimony is taken the board may use its judgment as to whether it will publish its findings as to the respective merits or not, and there its authority ends. The rest is left to public opinion which, if exercised promptly and justly would force the end of strikes very quickly.

This system has been proved effective in the case of strikes of large proportions, but it has not been very successful in settling strikes of minor importance. If the stagnation affect the public, being on a public service, or if the number of strikers be large enough to compel public attention, there is usually an expression of popular views, but when the issues are slight and the number of strikers small, proportionately, the result is left with the representatives of both sides. At the present time the state board is considering the case of two textile strikes—one in Fall River and the other in New Bedford—but there is not even mild attention among the general public. In fact a Fall River paper regrets that there is not sufficient interest in that city to indicate what way the pendulum should swing.

It would seem that the real efficacy of state arbitration is in bringing the representatives of employers and employees together at time of strikes and planning for a dispassionate discussion of differences and terms. Too often strikes in this section of the country arouse mutual bitterness; a process of spiteful and vigilant waiting is established which achieves nothing and leaves a sting that will operate against the best interests of both parties for years. If the state board of arbitration step in when a strike is declared, become a medium of exchange for sincere and sound views and give unbiased facts to the public, there is no reason why strikes should be of long duration or why they should so often injure a community as they have done in New England in recent years.

AN EMBARGO ON ARMS

The German government now officially backs up the protest of certain agitators in this country against the exportation of arms and ammunition to England, declaring that such exportation is a breach of neutrality. While there are certain sentimental arguments against the traffic, it is not in any way a breach of neutrality, but on the contrary to stop the manufacture and export of arms would be a direct unneutral act in favor of Germany. It is by no fault or favoritism of this country that England can get our arms and Germany cannot, for we are ready to sell arms and ammunition to all who can buy. It is simply through the fortunes of war that England has control of the seas and may prevent the acquisition of American arms by Germany while importing them herself to the value of millions of dollars. The business is a sorry business, but it is a legitimate business, and war is something more than a pink tea. We cannot at the request of any government or the protests of those acting in support of that government do anything contrary to accepted international law, merely because one belligerent power suffers and the other gains in the transaction of a legitimate business.

Another feature of the case calls for consideration. This country does not manufacture some types of arms and ammunition, and is dependent on a foreign source of supply. Suppose we should at the present time forbid the exportation of arms to Europe, we would have established a precedent that might in future operate against us to our cost. Germany has always exported arms to any nation that wanted them in peace or war, and tolerated the practice, and it cannot now logically take a different stand, merely because the shoe is on the other foot. If the United States took over the manufacture of arms and ammunition, as some cabinet members favor, undoubtedly exportation would cease, but while the manufacture of arms and ammunition is a private enterprise, the government cannot rightly interfere with the exportation to which Germany objects.

THE RIVER HEARING

It is to be hoped that Lowell will be strongly represented at the hearing on the adverse report of Col. Craighill, to be given in Lawrence next Thursday and to be attended by delegates from the entire Merrimack valley. It is also to be hoped that our board of trade will present the business arguments for the navigation of the river from Lowell to the sea, as the objections of the federal expert were based on his doubt of adequate returns. He admitted that the scheme could be made practicable but did not think that the possible returns would justify the outlay. Massachusetts has already expressed itself favorably on the project by appropriating a great sum towards it, on the advice of state experts and it is for the delegates next Thursday to impress Col. Craighill with our confidence in the scheme, based on business data. An adverse report is nothing to get discouraged over; such a report is to be expected in the preliminary plans for all great improvements. It now remains for Lowell to co-operate with the other communities of the Merrimack valley in setting his judgment aside and receiving federal encouragement and financial aid for the great engineering feat which would mean so much to our future.

TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little into your hand and rub well into the scalp with the fingers tips. By morning most if not all of this awful stuff will have disappeared. Two or three applications will destroy every bit of dandruff; stop scalp itching and falling hair.

SEEN AND HEARD

While this is the land of the free, there are many who contend that a barber shouldn't eat onions.

An advance man for a big circus was in town this week, not looking for grounds, license or consent, but just to size up the situation. To one to whom he made himself known, he told of his mission. "I have been sent out," he said, "not to rent grounds or get permits, but to see what city can afford a big circus this year." The circus is certainly a great institution.

Mr. Thomas F. Maguire of The Sun found a pocketbook containing considerable sum of money the other day and told a friend in a joking way about his find, saying he was going to advertise for the owner. The gentleman addressed allowed this was the proper course and the next moment he searched for his own wallet only to find it gone—lost, he knew not where. On describing his pocketbook and how much it contained he had no difficulty in proving that the purse found by Mr. Maguire was his. It was turned over to him immediately.

GOODFELLOW AT HOME

Mr. Goodfellow dined out six nights in succession on the seventh he turned up at home for the evening meal. When he was seated Mrs. Goodfellow rose in her seat and addressing the other occupants of the table, said: "Children, we have with us tonight a guest of whom you have all heard, even if you do not personally know him. He is a man who has a reputation for conviviality and cheer in every club and cafe in the city, and this evening we are to have the honor and pleasure of being numbered among the admirers of his brilliant and entertaining qualities. Therefore it is with the greatest pleasure that I present to you—your papa!"

POCKET FARMING

Quiet and confident, the young traveler of the nation, fertile and determined to some Farmer Fibert as to his farm's latest product. But the farmer saw him coming along the turnpike, and knew him and his little old dog.

"No, young fellow," he finished up after a lengthy argument. "These new-fangled ideas don't appeal to me. Nothing is so good as old-fashioned farming. 'Good heavens, sir,'" exclaimed the exasperated young patent pusher. "The day is coming when a man will be able to carry a whole farm in his pocket!"

"Maybe he will, my boy," allowed Fibert, as he chewed a fresh straw. "And I reckon he'll be able to carry the crop in the same pocket, too."

A HEARTY MEAL

"When I was a little girl," says a friend of The Companion, "I had the honor of being introduced to Mark Twain because he had just returned from a very long trip. He was going to spend the holiday with my aunt in New York."

"Really," with the most flattering show of interest. "Well, I hope you will feel after dinner, just as I did when I went there to a banquet a few months ago."

EDITORIAL COMMENT

FIRE DRILL'S VALUE
The lives of hundreds of girls, who are employed in a Hartford factory that was burned down, have been saved because they had been taught to march out of the building by means of a fire drill. They could not have been saved by any other method and only just managed to get out alive.

Every school, every institution, every factory building where large numbers are employed on upper floors, should have these fire drills. They have proved their value on many occasions and yesterday's experience should be remembered and prove an object lesson to those who have delayed.

CHICAGO ELECTION

In one respect notably, the Chicago city election result is to be welcomed. Americanism, too, one of its most odious forms in the campaign in a circular urging Germans, Austrians and Hungarians to vote for Swedes as an act of protest against William and "to save the Fatherland."

The folly of it, even on the level of political tactics, ought to have been evident in advance, and it is sad to say that the highly intelligent citizens of German blood did their full part in repudiating it. The women's vote, aggregating 144,630 for Thompson to 52,000 for the other side, was the same proportion as that of the men—Worcester Post.

POKE BONNET DAYS

Here is the summer of 1915 right at hand and with it a reminder of the days when our mothers and grandmothers wore bonnets, the poke bonnet of 1861. These were the days when the poke bonnet was the fashion and what memories cluster around them! How demure, how bewitching, how becoming were the pokes on a pretty girl or woman. And today the wonderful pokes have been replaced by the bonnets of 1915. In the olden times mother or grandmother would dress their daughters in poke bonnets and adorned them with lace, ribbons and alluring streamers of velvet ribbons. Those dainty ribbons encased many a man's heart as they cooed about the graceful lines of those stately damsels—Portland Express.

OIL THEM ALL YEAR

Dr. Rolser, in an address before the Harvard Medical school on the subject of colds, declared that cities should cease laying roads of macadam construction because the particles of dirt carried by the wind is so irritating to the membranes of the nose that it is a serious health menace. In modern road construction the top surface of macadam roads is laid together by a binder of oil or asphalt. This is applied in summer and lays dust. The street surfaces which he treated all the year around and would be economical as well as beautiful. But it is now a matter of habit to lay the surface of winter and spring lay the surface of the streets with dirt and gravel and not only are the roads impaired but the people are subjected to discomfort and irritated membranes and worse. Macadam streets should be oiled all the year around—New Bedford Mercury.

BE CAREFUL THERE

We are going to have some nasty, muddy streets this month. May we suggest to drivers of automobiles, especially those who run with slatted trucks, that pedestrians have a right which they should not respect. One is the right to walk on the sidewalk without being splattered all over with mud. Slow down in bad places and watch out that you are not thrown and mud on your people or houses. You have no right to do this and you make enemies for the automobilist who respects others' rights, and you have no right to pay a fine for a damaged dress some fine day—Salem News.

IN THE PULPITS

Sermons by Rev. Mr. Billings and Rev. Mr. Archibald.

"Very thankful," answered Mr. Clemens with preternatural solemnity. "Very, very thankful because I still had one article of apparel that wasn't too tight a fit for comfort."

"Oh, I know," I guessed, eagerly, "your shoes!" But the humorist shook his head.

"No, no," he corrected, with gentle emphasis, "my umbrella!"—The Youth's Companion.

SCHOOLS AND EPIDEMICS

Doubt as to the wisdom of closing schools in the case of contagious diseases is expressed by Dr. Francis George Curtis of Newton, in a bulletin on the Health of School Children. Just issued by the Bureau of Education. He says: "If the schools are closed when an outbreak occurs, the children are turned loose from supervision; they mingle freely with one another in the streets, on playgrounds, and in each other's houses. They are having an extra vacation and enjoying themselves thoroughly, and unwilling to admit that they feel ill, lest they be kept at home and prevented from having a good time. For this reason they will not say they feel ill until the disease is well advanced and they may be active sources of infection for some time before it is discovered that they are ill."

If the schools are kept open and the children continue in the classrooms as usual, they are under strict observation and examined daily by the school physician, suspicious and infected cases being sent home for observation or treatment.

In this way many children are sent home before they have had an opportunity to infect others, thus reducing the probability of spreading infection. Further than this, the attention of the parents is called to the fact that the child, feeling ill and he is brought under treatment earlier.

It seems, therefore, that keeping the schools open offers the best chance of saving the lives of pupils, both collectively and individually.

TELL HIM NOW

If with pleasure you are viewing a work a man is doing, If you like him or you love him tell him now.

Don't withhold your approbation till the person makes gratification a friend with snowy fables o'er his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it. He won't know how many tears life about you have shed.

If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead!

More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny. And the hearty, warm approval of a friend.

For it gives to life a savor and it makes you stronger, braver, And it gives you heart and spirit to it.

If he earns your praise, bestow it; if you like him, let him know it; Let the words of true encouragement be said.

Do not wait till life is over and he's under death's clover. For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead!

T. Billings had for his text the story of the battle between the Syrians and the Israelites, in the Book of Kings. where the following appears: "The Syrians have said Jehovah is a God of the hills, but he is not a God of the valleys."

Mr. Billings said in part: "There is great need to feel on our part."

A WINTER TONIC

Why is it that some people keep well all winter while others, less exposed to cold and damp, suffer with colds, grip, pleurisy, pneumonia and all the ills of the season?

Thin blood and debility are the causes of much sickness in winter. When the blood is thin and there is oxygen starvation in the tissues of the body, pneumonias are retained that would be eliminated and there is a lowered resistance to disease.

Rheumatism disappears when the blood is built up and does not return if the blood is kept rich.

The after-effects of grip are never cured until the blood is built up. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills enrich the blood and enable it to carry more oxygen, to nourish the starved tissues in debility, to soothe the inflamed membranes in rheumatism, to quiet the nerves in neuritis and sciatica and to expel the lingering germs after the fever and influenza of grip have passed. All winter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be in every house, ready for use. You can get them now at the nearest drug store.

The third edition of the popular little book, "Building Up the Blood," has just been published. Write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for a free copy.

BATHS

There are baths, and baths of various kinds, for beauty's aid. Milk baths, cold baths, hot baths, mud baths, and salt baths. But one can safely feel that any kind of baths are good for one if taken in moderation.

The oil bath is excellent for one who is emaciated or poorly nourished, but a good massage should accompany it or the pores will be obstructed rather than nourished. The alcohol bath should be judiciously taken; otherwise great destruction of tissues will result.

Sea bathing has a healthful action on the skin and the shock of the cold plunge is health-giving, providing he is in a condition to endure it. There is a great temptation, however, to remain long in the water, and most people regulate the time by their comfort, leaving when they feel cold. This is a great mistake. A bath of twenty minutes' duration is enough for an ordinary person.

Too little importance is attached to air baths. Our clothes are often of such texture and so arranged that but little air reaches the skin—thus depriving it of needed nourishment. A good air or sun bath is almost equal to a tub bath. In taking a sun bath one should be unclothed if practicable, otherwise the clothing should be extremely light, loose and porous.

If it is not convenient for one to take a Turkish bath at the public places, one may take a Russian bath at home. For this bath there are inexpensive cabinets, folding and stationary, made of cloth, tin or wood. A simple and easy method of taking a Russian bath on a small scale at home is to seat oneself unclothed on a cane-bottomed chair under which is a pan containing about one quart of water, resting on a lighted spirit lamp.

One should be enveloped in blankets from neck downward to the floor. The water in the pan can be replenished if necessary. Just how long one should continue this bath would be difficult to say. Usually the time is ten to twenty minutes after the perspiration has started.

If one drinks two or more glasses of water during the bath it aids in producing perspiration. After the bath one should lie down and cover with plenty of blankets. This will allow the process of perspiration to continue, but after ten minutes or so gradually remove blanket after blanket, which will allow one to resume a normal temperature gradually, and finish with a plunge in a tub of cool water followed by a brisk rubbing.

CHINESE MAY PARADE

The secretary of the New England Chinese association has communicated with Chief Marshal Kittredge of the Fourth of July parade, asking that a place be reserved for 500 members of the association and it is probable that the Chinese business men of the New England states will turn out. If they do, each will wear a silk robe and the association will have a dragon float.

BOYS FLEE FROM FIRE INSTRUCTOR IS MISSING

ASHBURNHAM, April 12.—Ashburnham house, a boys' dormitory at Cushing academy, was burned early today, causing a loss estimated at $75,000. The fire started in the basement of the four story brick building. One of the students smelled the smoke and the other boys with the four teachers who lived in the dormitory were quickly aroused.

The flames had not reached the stairways but the corridors were so full of smoke that the occupants were forced to leave the building by the fire escapes. It was believed that all had made their exit in safety until several hours later when it was learned that Frank L. Hardy, director of athletics, was missing. Mr. Hardy was seen after the outbreak of the fire and it is believed that he might have been overcome by smoke while trying to reach a telephone booth in a corridor on the first floor.

The cause of the fire is not known. The dormitory which was built three years ago was at some distance from the other buildings of the academy plant which were not endangered.

LIQUOR CASES HEARD CONTROL OF EPIDEMICS

HEARING BEFORE LICENSE BOARD TODAY — PROPRIETORS BLAME EMPLOYEES

The cases of Orla Morin & Co., Martin Moran & Co., and Joseph H. McDonald & Co., came up before the license commission today on account of public hearings given on account of charges preferred against each concern by Supt. Welch. All of the cases grew out of recent police court proceedings. It was charged by the prosecution that the licensees had violated the conditions of their licenses.

Inspector Samuel J. Bigelow of the liquor squad was the witness for the prosecution. The officer stated that he visited all three of the saloons on Saturday evening, March 27, with a companion who was not an officer. In each place, said the inspector, a half-pint of whiskey was purchased. The three men who made the actual sale were found guilty in police court last week and paid fines of $50 each.

The inspector stated that in the place of Martin Moran & Co. he saw the proprietor on the premises but that he held no speech with him. This was made by Frank Sobezak, who was cleaning up.

Mr. Morin testified that he did not know that the liquor was sold and that he had repeatedly given orders that no such violation should take place. In fact he said, Sobezak had been previously discharged for not obeying orders and that on the Monday following the sale in question he had been discharged again for a similar offense.

In the case of Orla Morin & Co. the inspector said that his party sat down at a side table. After his companion had ordered beer he threw a quarter on the table and asked for a half-pint of whiskey. He said that Alfred Dube was sweeping up and that he first went to the head bartender who then looked up and down the street and then brought out the bottle of whiskey.

The inspector said he did not see Mr. Morin on the premises.

Mr. Morin then stated that he was not at his place of business on the night the sale was made. Dube was not a regular employee, he continued, and was only hired to clean up on Saturday nights. He said he had no authority to sell the liquor.

In the establishment of Joseph H. McDonald & Co. the half pint was bought from Pierre Laplante, inspector Bigelow said. He also was sweeping up the place. Laplante first went behind the bar and took up a bunch of keys. He later signaled the officer to follow and took him into the toilet. There, said the inspector, the liquor was delivered.

Mr. McDonald said that he did not know how Laplante could have gotten hold of the keys as he was not a regular employee and hired simply to clean out the saloon on Saturday nights. Laplante had orders not to sell liquor at any time, he said.

The fact was brought out at the hearing that the inspectors made a visit to all three of these places on the Tuesday following and that there were no bottles found at any of the places. The board took the three cases under advisement.

STRUCK A ROCK IN POLICE COURT

American Steamer Minnesota Sends Out Trespass and Assault Calls for Help

KOBE, Japan, April 12.—The American steamer Minnesota, plying between Japanese ports and Seattle, struck a rock at half-past nine o'clock last night off Iwajima, near the southwestern entrance to the Inland sea.

In a wireless message Captain Garlick has asked for a salvage steamer. He says all the passengers and crew are safe.

The Minnesota sailed from Nagasaki Sunday morning bound for Kobe, Yokohama and Seattle. She passed through the straits of Shimonsu safely and was in the inland sea when the accident occurred.

It is believed the Minnesota was floated but beyond the fact that one of her holds was pierced by the rock, the amount of damage is not known.

Wireless telegraphy was employed by the Minnesota in calling for help. A steamer, the name of which is not known, responded promptly. This probably is the vessel which took off the passengers and crew and conveyed them to Shimonsu. The number of passengers on board the Minnesota is not known but definitely. They had just finished dinner when the crash came. A salvage steamer with a tender and divers has been sent from Moji and will reach the scene of the wreck tomorrow morning.

A Japanese newspaper has received a dispatch from Manila saying that Mrs. Francis J. Harrison, wife of the governor general of the Philippine Islands with two children was on board the Minnesota at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Harrison was accompanied by Captain Archibald P. Conisley, military aide to Governor Harrison.

Friends say Mrs. Harrison and the children planned to spend the spring in Japan.

ATLAS A. BOUTS

Sam Langford to Meet Joe Jeannette—McVey Sick

Sam McVey, who was billed to box Sam Langford at the opening show of the Atlas A. Bouts, next Tuesday night, claims he is sick with malaria, contracted in Cuba, and is unable to meet Langford Tuesday evening.

The club has secured Joe Jeannette to meet Langford, and as their previous battles were the best ever seen in the city, the boxing fans are certain they will witness a mill as good as the previous contests.

Jeannette is in good shape for the match, as he knocked out Arthur Pecky at Montreal last Friday night, and had been boxing with Jim Coffey for his match with Carl Morris.

APPEAL FOR RELEASE

AMERICAN STEAMERS NAVAJO AND JOSEPH W. FORDNEY, HELD BY BRITISH

LONDON, April 12.—The American steamers Navajo and Joseph W. Fordney, both under detention at the present time by the British mercantile authorities at Kirkwall have appealed to the American embassy here to procure their release.

The Fordney's captain has advised the embassy that a British prize crew took charge of his ship off the Norwegian coast.

The Navajo, from Galveston to Bremer has on board a cargo of cotton and was taken into Kirkwall, April 7.

The Joseph W. Fordney, which left New York, March 20 for Malmoe, Sweden, was taken into Kirkwall April 8.

The captain of the American tank steamer Llana from New York March 19 for Copenhagen, also has appealed to the American embassy here to secure the release of his vessel from detention at Kirkwall.

LEAVITT—The funeral of Thomas Leavitt took place this morning at 8:45 o'clock from 325 Aven street, and was attended. A funeral high mass was sung in St. Patrick's church at 9:30 by Rev. Fr. Kerrikan, where a eulogy was read by the Rev. Fr. Kerrikan. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Charles H. Molloy.

FITZPATRICK—The funeral of Miss Mary E. Fitzpatrick took place this morning at 7:30 o'clock from her late home, 27 Franklin avenue, Somerville, Mass., and was largely attended. A funeral high mass was sung at 9 o'clock. The body was placed on the 9:30 train and taken to Lowell where the funeral church read the burial services. The funeral was in charge of Undertaker Charles H. Molloy.

RIOTING IN ROME

Demonstration in Favor of Italy Entering War — Leaders Arrested

ROME, April 12.—Notwithstanding orders issued by the police, attempts were made today by persons both for and against intervention by Italy in the war to hold public meetings in all parts of the country. The crowds, which gathered were charged and dispersed in nearly every instance by carabinieri and troops and some arrests were made, among those taken into custody being Prof. Benito Mussolini, the socialist leader who favors a continuance of neutrality, and Signor Marinetti, the futurist leader, who is urging intervention. The central sections of Rome were occupied until late tonight by troops who guarded approaches to the Villa Mella, the residence of the German ambassador, Prince Von Buolow, and the quinal. The building most strongly defended, however, was the Austrian embassy, where troops and mounted carabinieri charged the demonstrators who evidenced by their shouts the animosity they felt for Austria and their desire for Italy to begin hostilities. Demonstrations here yesterday led to rioting and several arrests were made.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT
NEW YORK, April 12.—A score of 1322 set by Walter and Smith of Rutland, N. J., was the mark which the two men teams aimed to beat, when bowling was resumed today in the national tournament. A large number of five-men teams were on the card for tonight's events with the Atlantic City Brooklyn at the head of the list. The singles list with a city of 615.

New York bowlers were confident that the board of governors would not delay in placing the place for the 1918 tournament.

Immense Gathering at Funeral Services of Edward F. Shea at Immaculate Conception Church

"When in death my limbs are failing
Let Thy mother's care prevail;
Lift me Jesus to Thy throne
To my parting soul be given Entrance thro' the gates of heaven."
These, confessed me for Thine own.

A chorus of over 50 voices that included many of Lowell's best known soloists sang the impressive and prayerful words of the "Stabat Mater" in Rossini's "Quinto Corpus" at the Immaculate Conception church this morning, as the services over the remains of the late Edward F. Shea were concluded while a great congregation knelt with tear-stained faces as the funeral procession departed from the church to be held at the beautiful home of the deceased.

In many hours of pleasure or which in days of sorrow had breathed a requiem for the soul of some loved one was forever stilled. Since the funeral of the lamented Fr. Joyce, former pastor of the Immaculate Conception church, there has never been as large a congregation at a requiem service as that which thronged the great edifice this morning. It included residents of every section of the city, representing all walks of life, while in the choir gallery every Catholic church choir in Lowell was represented. The lengthy funeral cortege left the home of the deceased, 400 Concord street and proceeded to the church where, at 10 o'clock, a solemn high funeral mass was sung by John O'Brien, O. M. I., celebrant; assisted by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, deacon, and Rev. James J. McCarthy, O. M. I., sub-deacon. Assisting at the service within the sanctuary were Very Rev. M. Wade Smith, O. M. I., provincial of the Oblate Order, and Rev. P. J. Phelan, O. M. I., Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I., Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O. M. I. This city, and Rev. Thomas Walsh, of St. Mary's church, Collinsville. In the congregation were Sisters of Charity of St. John's hospital and Gray Nuns of the Immaculate Conception school.

There were present from out of town, Mrs. Lowe and Mr. James Lowe, of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, of Malden, formerly of this city; Mr. Edward McDermott, of Weymouth, Mass.; Mr. Michael Haggerty, of Millville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson of Nashua, N. H.; Mr. Daniel Sheff, of Boston; Mr. William Kiley, of Boston and Edward Crosby of Boston. Mr. Daniel Herlihy, of Lawrence, who fought with the deceased in the Boer war as a member of the celebrated Irish Brigade. Jeremiah Leary and John V. O'Brien who accompanied the deceased to South Africa were among the mourning friends. There were present also from the Y. M. C. I., consisting of Supt. of Charities Martin P. Conley, and Messrs. John H. McCaffery, William C. Harrington, Charles E. Burns, Patrick H. Farrell and Frank P. McCarthy, and from the 20th Century Bachelor club, consisting of Messrs. Charles D. Slattery, Andrew A. McCarthy, John Gleason, Thomas Corbett and John J. Devlin.

The augmented choir under the direction of Mr. Joseph P. Courtney gave Schmidt's imposing requiem mass, the grand choros of "Gloria In excelsis" and the "Sanctus" being sung most impressively. At the offertory, Mr. John J. Dalton, a companion of the deceased, rendered a beautiful war hymn, "The Soldier's Song," with much feeling, while after the elevated altar companion, Mr. William L. Gookin sang the requiem hymn, "O Mater Pasce nos." At the final chorus of "Gloria In excelsis" the choir sang the "Liberia Me," the solos sustained by Prof. P. Haggerty, the venerable music master, who though passing his 80th birthday, still sings with the same vigor and sympathetic tones. As the remains were being borne from the church Rossini's grand funeral chorus "Quinto Corpus" from the "Stabat Mater" was given. As the your brother again," mumbled Frank as he left the altarman's chamber on the last day that the council balloted for a registrar of voters. He was willing to forgive Newell for his little shortcomings, but never again. Frank says that on Saturday last Newell added the straw that broke the camel's back.

It seems that Frank was in Mr. Putnam's office shortly before the noon hour on Saturday and he heard Mr. Putnam say that he was going out to the Dracut rifle range in his automobile that afternoon. Frank asked if he could go along and Newell said he "sure could" come along. Puffer puffed up when he heard Newell utter the words "sure could." He was told to meet the machine at the Merrimack street entrance to the hall at 2 p. m. Frank was there, waiting at the hall, oh dear, but what a feeling. "Well, there," said Frank as he related the story today. "I waited till three o'clock and then fell asleep with an armful of bologna and German frizitz that I was going to give to the soldiers at the rifle range. I was a relief ship in disguise, but Newell didn't show up and I'd be waiting there yet if it hadn't started to rain. Then I beat it to the Palmer street engine house and, believe me, I have done with Newell F. Putnam, commissioner of public property and licenses for good and for all."

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

FOUR DOMINICAN FATHERS OPENED TWO WEEKS MISSION—YESTERDAY'S SERVICES

The mission at St. Patrick's church opened last night for the women of the parish and the attendance was so large that both the upper and lower churches were used. Next week the services will be for the men. Four members of the Dominican order, Rev. Augustine Splinter, Rev. Jordan Foley, Rev. Louis Rummaght and Rev. J. B. Connolly, are in charge of the mission. Rev. Augustine Splinter is the director of the band.

The first sermon of the mission was delivered at the parish mass yesterday by Rev. Fr. Splinter, who spoke on "Grace." The celebrated band, directed by Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, the members of the Immaculate Conception school received communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass which was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsignor O'Brien, P. R.

The first services of the retreat were held at 7:30 o'clock last evening and despite the rain the congregation was very large. Rev. Fr. Foley preached in the upper church, and Rev. Fr. Connolly in the lower church. The services consisted of the recitation of the blessed sacrament, Rev. James J. Kerrigan officiated at benediction in the upper church, and Rt. Rev. Monsignor O'Brien in the lower church.

This morning a mass was celebrated at 5 o'clock by Rev. Fr. Connolly, who also delivered a short instruction. The officiating clergyman and the preacher at the 8 o'clock mass was Rev. Fr. Foley. Services will be held every evening at 7:30 o'clock and every morning at 5 and 8 o'clock.

GERMAN NOTE TO U. S.

EMBASSY OFFICIALS SAY AMBASSADOR ACTED UNDER INSTRUCTION

WASHINGTON, April 12.—German embassy officials stated today that the ambassador acted under instructions from the Berlin foreign office in presenting the recent note or memorandum to the state department, complaining that while the United States had failed to maintain its right to export foodstuffs to Germany, American manufacturers were permitted to continue shipping munitions of war in unlimited quantities to Great Britain and her allies.

Some questions had arisen as to whether Count von Bernstorff, the ambassador, acted on his own authority, since the document is a diplomatic "memorandum," was phrased by the embassy. The memorandum, delivered some days ago, was made public last night by the ambassador. He explained that he did so without arrangement with the state department recalling that the department itself recently published the American note to Germany on the Frye case though there had been no agreement for its simultaneous publication in Berlin.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER'S SUIT

SEEKS INJUNCTION TO PREVENT COLLECTION OF TAXES ON PERSONAL PROPERTY

CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—The suit of John D. Rockefeller for an injunction to prevent County Treasurer O'Brien from collecting taxes on a personal property valuation of over $311,000,000 by county tax officials is being heard in federal court here today. Mr. Rockefeller will not come to Cleveland for the hearing, his depositions having been taken at Tarrytown, N. Y., several weeks ago. At the time the depositions were taken Mr. Rockefeller testified that his legal residence is in New York and that he remained at his Forest Hill estate there the greater part of last year because of the illness of Mrs. Rockefeller. Mrs. Rockefeller died since the depositions were taken.

County tax officials contend that because Mrs. Rockefeller remained in Cleveland a greater part of last year he established a local residence here and should pay taxes on the valuation placed by them.

Puffer a Patient Waiter

Frank Puffer says that before Newell Putnam was elected commissioner he promised to give him a job at a very decent salary. Since Put's election Frank hasn't heard very much about the job. Frank aged perceptibly at the suspense of waiting to hear from Newell and finally made up his mind that the job had gone the way of the Huntington hall fund. Things went along and time wore on until the job on the board of registrars of voters hobbled up. Frank, after unfettered, unbiased and unprejudiced solicitation, decided that the job had slipped Newell's mind and he decided he would let it go at that. Then the job of registrar dawned on the horizon and, continuing his solicitation, Frank allowed that it would be a good chance for Newell to get back at himself for failing to provide the promised job. He went to Newell and asked him to vote for Frank Puffer for registrar of voters. "I have no cards to pass around at the desk of the aldermanic chamber," said Frank, "but I will be Johnnie-on-the-spot till the votes are counted. When the ballots were taken and Newell's name was called, he never signed the name of Puffer. Frank during all the ordeal connected with balloting for a registrar, occupied a seat near the reporters' table and while he kept a stiff upper lip, as the saying goes, it was plain to be seen that he was awfully disappointed in his friend Newell. He had even placed a perfumed card on Newell's desk thinking that the perfume of the rose and the violet would awaken a keener sense of responsibility in the breast of Newell, but it didn't work.

JIMMIE RING GOING FINELY

Worked Against Brooklyn Dodgers Saturday in New York

"Wild" Bill Donovan Likes His Style—May Stay With Yanks

Jimmie Ring, Lowell's mainstay in the box last season, is not expected back in the local baseball fold this spring. At the rate he is now going with the Yanks there seems little likelihood that he will be returned to Class B baseball.

Ring has been used several times by "Wild" Bill Donovan. Saturday the former Lowell pitcher worked against the Brooklyn club and although both he and Ray Keating could not stop the Dodgers Ring's ability as a box artist did not lose prestige.

Brooklyn won by a 3-0 score and 2 of the runs were scored with Keating in the box. Those who have seen the ex-Lowellite in action predict big things for him in major league ball. His fast one and splitter are assets which Manager Donovan believes will surely hold him up in the "big" show.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION

BRAZILIAN STEAMER SAO PAULO AND DUTCH STEAMER EEMDIJK COLLIDED

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Brazilian steamer Sao Paulo from Rio Janeiro and the Dutch steamer Eemdiijk, from Baltimore, were in collision early today off the Scotland lights.

The Sao Paulo had some plates dented, a boat davit bent and other damage. The Eemdiijk was not damaged.

The Sao Paulo came to her pier under her own power.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., April 12.—The trials of 134 miners arrested in connection with the killing of W. W. Riggs during a fight between striking coal miners and deputy sheriffs at Farmington, W. Va., last February, will open here today. The first case called will be that of Louis Ulrich, a miner, who is charged with murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

APOLLO PLAYING HARP

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S GIFT TO NORTHEASTERN SINGING SOCIETY

BERLIN, April 12, via wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—Among the items given out today by the Overseas News agency, was the following:

Emperor William's gift to the Northeastern Singing society for the festival to be held in Brooklyn, is now ready. It is a large silver and gold plated shield of honor, rich in relief work, prepared from designs drawn by Prof. Otto Rohloff. It represents Apollo playing a harp. The picture is surrounded by the American and German coats of arms and also bears a picture of the emperor. Because of the danger of capture by a hostile ship only an inexpensive duplicate has been sent to the United States and the original of the gift will not be sent until peace is concluded.

PERSONALS

Timothy Sullivan, of Nashua, N. H., was in this city yesterday renewing old acquaintances.

The annual dancing party of the Bon Marche club will be held the 28th of this month.

Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle, of 17 Claire street, are now the proud parents of a baby boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris of Claire street are rejoicing over the birth of a baby girl.

Robert Whelan, a prominent member of the Y. M. C. I., who recently underwent a serious operation, is convalescing.

William Favreau, a popular clerk at the A. G. Pollard store has been confined to his home for the past week with a severe cold.

Gordon Pierce, a prominent young resident of Andover street, is now lucratively connected with the American Woolen company, in Providence, R. I.

Thomas Kennedy, for the past year a clerk at the Atlantic & Pacific Tea store in Merrimack street, severed his connection with that concern last Saturday.

Henry Laroche, formerly employed at the Atlantic & Pacific Tea store in Merrimack street has been given the management of the Springfield store of the company.

QUEBEC VISITOR HERE

Hon. Henri Lavigne, former mayor of Quebec, was recently the guest of his brother, Emile C. Lavigne of this city. Mr. Lavigne is now an alderman in the city of Quebec and chairman of the committee of streets and his visit to the states was for the purpose of getting data on the construction of American roads. He visited New York, Boston and other important cities of the states including Lowell, which is noted for its good streets.

MEASURES TO REMEDY ALLEGED INEQUALITIES OF STATE DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

BOSTON, April 12.—Four taxation bills framed by a legislative committee to remedy inequalities in the taxation system of the state were declared unconstitutional by the supreme court today.

The decision which was rendered in response to a request by the legislature will necessitate the passage of an amendment to the constitution, agreed to last year which strikes out the word "proportional" from that part of the constitution which permits the levying of taxes. All four bills dealt with taxation of intangible property.

MAN CAUGHT IN TRAP

JOSHUA H. BARKER VICTIM OF SHOTGUN TRAP HE HAD SET TO CATCH CHICKEN THIEVES

MOUNT VERNON, N. H., April 12.—Joshua H. Barker, a poultry raiser, fell a victim today to a shotgun trap which he had set in his chicken house as a protection against thieves. The gun was discharged as Barker entered the shed and he died of his wounds six hours later.

BRITISH BARK ASHORE

NEW YORK, April 12.—The British bark Invermay, which ran ashore during a fog yesterday, 15 miles northeast of Barnegat, N. Y., was headed well up on the beach today near the Mantoloking coast guard station. Inasmuch as she lay well inside the bar, it was thought that her extrication would be difficult. Her captain and crew were still aboard today.

SPANISH STEAMER REPORTED

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez, which sailed from Cadiz March 31, with Victoriano Huerta aboard, was reported by wireless to be 181 miles east of Sandy Hook at 1:30 o'clock this morning. It was thought she would dock about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

said that this would be a sort of test case. "A representative of the Maxwell company came here a week or more ago," said the mayor, "and asked for a permit to erect a sign that would cover all of the available frontage on the old Boston & Maine depot in Central street. The permit was refused and the representative seemed to be very much surprised. He said something about having his men here under big expense. I told him I could not help that. I explained the attitude of the municipal council relative to signs of this kind and the permit was positively denied him.

"On Tuesday morning Mr. Wilson, attorney for the Maxwell company, called on me and given a conference previous to the meeting of the municipal council. We told Mr. Wilson that no permit would be issued for the sign in question. Mr. Wilson was going to address the city council in the matter, but after ascertaining the attitude of the council he decided that he would speak at the meeting.

"No permit was issued, but the company went to work on the sign just the same. There has been more or less controversy over signs and I think the matter might as well be settled now. If people can have and erect signs without a permit we want to know about it. These signs are not only unsightly but they constitute a fire hazard. The city council is opposed to them and the council intends to take further action in the matter."

Schools to Close

The public schools will close Friday, April 23, for a week's vacation, using the new vacation regime, which calls for one week in nine. The schools will also have a holiday beginning this week Friday and continuing to include Monday, Patriots day. The schools will close on Friday evening and will not reopen until Tuesday morning.

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock Supt. Molloy will address the teachers at high school hall. It will be a general teachers meeting, so called, and Mr. Molloy will probably have something to say about his recent trip to

A Letter to the People of Lowell From the Turner Centre Creamery
Last week we announced to you that we were ready to do a retail milk business. This week we want to talk to you about our foundation principles. As in building a house or block, the first essential is the right foundation, so in building a business, it is fully as essential to have the right foundation principles. Two of the greatest enemies of good business are WASTE and LOSSES. Some of you may be asking—Why this milk ticket system? Why do we not do as others are doing—deliver the milk and collect weekly or monthly? Collecting bills is a WASTE of time. Some bills cannot be collected, which means LOSS. Others of you may be asking—why we require a deposit for milk bottles. Unless these bottles have a money value they are misused and lost. Our basic principle is good business free from WASTE AND LOSSES, then we can give the public the very best milk at the lowest possible price.

Lost Life in Charles River

NATICK, April 12.—Josephine, wife of Samuel Ward, Eliot street, South Natick, was drowned while canoeing this afternoon on the Charles river. Her husband and Richard Turpie, a lodger in the Ward house, were able to save themselves.

The party had reached a point about 204 yards below the Farm street bridge when the canoe was overturned as the men tried to change positions. The police will search for Mrs. Ward's body today. She was 26 years old and is survived by her husband and three children. She has relatives in Somerville.

REV. DR. LITTLE IS DEAD

DORCHESTER CHURCH—REFUSED TO MARRY DIVORCEES

Arthur Little, retired Congregational clergyman, for 23 years pastor of the Second church in Dorchester, died yesterday morning after an illness of several days at his residence in New Bedford, where he has lived since his retirement from the active ministry. He was 73.

Born May 24, 1837, in Webster, N. H., the son of Simeon B. and Harriet (Boyd) Little, Dr. Little obtained his degree of A. B. from Dartmouth college in 1860. Later he studied at the Andover theological seminary, and in 1880 was granted the degree of D. D. by Dartmouth.

His first marriage in Washington, August 1861, was to Miss L. Elizabeth Frost, who died in 1884. In 1888 Dr. Little was wedded to Elizabeth A. Wales of Boston.

Ordained into the Congregational ministry in 1863, Dr. Little was for two years chaplain to the 1st Vermont heavy artillery during the Civil war, and since then spoken at many encampments of the army men. After serving for three years as

The Presbyterian church of Bedford, more than Little gave the other 40 churches. For 10 years he was pastor of the First Congregational church at Bond St. and Locust; for 10 years pastor of the First English church in Chicago and for the remainder of his active years pastor of the Second Congregational church of Dorchester.

Dr. Little was prominent in his labor for civic righteousness, and was a familiar figure before the legislature against a secular Sabbath. At the time of the Boston-Force marriage, he took a firm stand against the Congregational ministers' meeting in Boston on the question of remarriage of divorced persons, declaring that if he was ever faced with the proposition of performing such a ceremony, he would refuse to act.

Serving from 1869 to 1885 as trustee of Ripon College, Wisconsin, Dr. Little was elected president of the board of trustees of Bradford academy and president of the board of visitors of the Andover Theological seminary. He was also corporate member, A. B. C. F. M., vice-president of the American Tract society, and moderator of the National Council of Congregational churches in 1883. He was sent as a delegate to the international council in

HARD TO GET RECRUITS

NO WILLING ELIGIBLES, WRITES
RECRUITING OFFICER IN REPORT TO LONDON

LONDON, March 23. (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—There are virtually no willing eligible men left to be recruited in those parts of the country which I have visited," writes an army recruiting officer to the Times. Those who remain, he states, are either in the employ of the state; doing work which is essential for the defense of the state; under binding obligations to parents, wives, children, employers or employees; or religious principles from which the state alone can release them; earning such good money that they are deaf to all other considerations; or ignorant or skulkers.

The officer believes that if any considerable additional number of men is required, conscription will be necessary.

GERMAN RAIDER CHASED BY BRITISH WARSHIPS

Kronprinz Wilhelm Which Dashed Into Norfolk Barely Escaped Capture

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 12.—How the German merchant raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, which came into this port Sunday morning, was chased by British warships after midnight Saturday and barely escaped capture was described by officers of British merchant vessels destroyed by the Wilhelm in the South Atlantic.

Shortly before noon today the 61 British officers and men of the steamer Tamar and Coleby were taken from the Wilhelm aboard a tug and rushed down the river to the British horse ship Cassandra, which will sail later today for Glasgow.

The harbor was lined with British merchant ships as the captives of the Wilhelm in the South Atlantic.

Naval Battle Off Scarborough—Germany to Invade Serbia — Austrians Routed in Dukla Region — French Advance in Argonne

The bare announcement was received in London today that the British steamer Wayfarer had been attacked and sunk by a German submarine. The fate of the crew is unknown.

Russians Invade Hungary

From Russian sources it is reported that the invasion of Hungary has begun. A despatch from Lemberg, Galicia, says that the Russians are advancing successfully along a long front between Bartfeldt and Uzok, descending the southern slope of the Carpathians and pressing back the Austrians. In the Dukla region also the Russians are said to have routed the Austrians, forcing them to abandon stores and transports in their retreat.

Fighting in West

The Meuse-Noselle region is still the scene of the principal contest in the west. Although the French attacks have been made with increasing vigor Berlin reports that virtually nothing has been accomplished by these tactics. An official review of these operations contains the statement that the Germans have regained all the positions lost earlier in the fighting with a few unimportant exceptions and that the French have sustained extremely heavy losses.

Naval Battle Off English Coast

London heard rumors today of another naval engagement off the English coast. It is said heavy firing was under way off Scarborough, one of the coast towns attacked by the German squadron in its raid of several months.

RUSSIANS PUSHING ON CAR STRIKE OFF

ADVANCING THROUGH ALL PRINCIPAL PASSES OF CARPATHIANS, SAYS PETROGRAD

PETROGRAD, April 12.—There are still no indications that the Germans have sent further reinforcements to the Austrians in the Carpathians notwithstanding the fact that the German forces along the Niemen river in the north near the East Prussian frontier appear to be weakening. For this reason Russian staff officers believe that German troops from the north are being removed to some other part of the front.

No signs are evident of renewed activity on either side of the Vistula. The conclusion, accordingly, is drawn that the German troops will begin a new offensive movement from some other quarter. This attack is expected by the Russian staff from the direction of Cracow.

Meanwhile, the Russians are pushing ahead slowly, through all the principal passes of the Carpathians except along the Stry-Murcia line, where the Austrians are heavily entrenched.

HIS FOOT INJURED

Joe O'Neil, employed at the Bigelow Carpet Company, sustained a fracture of the right foot while at work this afternoon. It is believed the man was lifting machinery and dropped a heavy piece which struck his foot. He was removed in the ambulance to the Lowell Corporation hospital. O'Neil resides at 3 Bent's court.

COWIN BOY GOES HOME

John Cowin, the New Jersey lad who walked into the police station a few weeks ago and asked to be locked up as he had run away from home and had no place to sleep, will be returned to his parents by Agent Richardson of the Lowell Humane society this evening. Since the boy came to Lowell, Mr. Richardson has been attempting to secure the consent of young Cowin's parents to take him into their home again and recently he received the necessary railroad fare for the boy's return. John said that he ran away from home because he was obliged to mind a baby brother.

LATE COMMENTS

ON DYS-PEP-LETS

Copied from genuine voluntary letters. "Dys-pep-lets very useful." "Capital for after-dinner troubles." "Excellent for sour stomach." "Proved good in my case." "Splendid for stomach disorders." "Helped me in digestion and sleep." "Never found anything else so efficient."

Dys-pep-lets are made from pepsin, bismuth, mint, rhubarb and other things good for the stomach. Ask your druggist for a 10c, 25c or $1 box. What they have done for others they will do for you.

GERMANS SINK BRITISH VESSEL

Naval Battle Off Scarborough—Germany to Invade Serbia — Austrians Routed in Dukla Region — French Advance in Argonne

The bare announcement was received in London today that the British steamer Wayfarer had been attacked and sunk by a German submarine. The fate of the crew is unknown.

Russians Invade Hungary

From Russian sources it is reported that the invasion of Hungary has begun. A despatch from Lemberg, Galicia, says that the Russians are advancing successfully along a long front between Bartfeldt and Uzok, descending the southern slope of the Carpathians and pressing back the Austrians. In the Dukla region also the Russians are said to have routed the Austrians, forcing them to abandon stores and transports in their retreat.

Fighting in West

The Meuse-Noselle region is still the scene of the principal contest in the west. Although the French attacks have been made with increasing vigor Berlin reports that virtually nothing has been accomplished by these tactics. An official review of these operations contains the statement that the Germans have regained all the positions lost earlier in the fighting with a few unimportant exceptions and that the French have sustained extremely heavy losses.

Naval Battle Off English Coast

London heard rumors today of another naval engagement off the English coast. It is said heavy firing was under way off Scarborough, one of the coast towns attacked by the German squadron in its raid of several months.

BALL PLAYERS ARE HERE

VANGUARD OF LOWELL TEAM REPORTS TODAY—LIGHT PRACTICE AT PARK

Baseball is with us again! A glimpse at the local baseball headquarters in the Hildreth building this morning sufficed to show that for the first time since last September there was a bustle and stir about the club's offices which demonstrated that the period of activity for the national pastime had once more arrived.

President Andrew Roach and Secretary and Treasurer James Kennedy were all smiles. In spite of monetary losses incurred during the past few seasons both of the local magnates were openly glad to see the baseball season swing around again.

There's something in the game which stirs the blood of every fan the country over when the baseball season comes around and coupled with today's springlike zephyrs those interested in local baseball could not help experiencing the thrills which greet each season.

Players Not All Here

Not all of the players under contract to the Lowell club reported today. In fact several of them will not be on hand until the latter part of the week. Frank Swaine, the veteran outfielder, and one of the cleverest ball players in the New England league, will not report until next Monday when the locals will engage in a double bill with Louis Pieper's Lynn candidates.

The players who did put in an appearance, however, were hustled out to Spalding park and donned their dogs. Light practice, though, was all that existed today for the salary whippers which have lain dormant all winter were in no condition to unlimber for any fast work.

Although light practice was all that today's program called for, the carpenters at the ball grounds who are at work on the new grandstand were on the quiver most of the time. A foul tip off "Shorty" Dee's bat clipped one of them this morning and his companions seemed to expect a repetition of the event at any moment. They were a happy crowd when the players finally showed the last bat into the tags and adjourned to the clubhouse.

President Roach and Business Manager Kennedy are both optimistic over the outlook for the coming season. With the influx into this league of many of the best players in the Eastern association it looks as though the fans along the circuit would enjoy a better brand of baseball than they have ever seen before.

So far as the local team is concerned the prospects are very bright. The club

WANTS AN INJUNCTION AGAINST BIG AUTO SIGN

City Solicitor Proceeds Against Maxwell Co.—Schools to Close —City Hall News

City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy, acting under instructions by the mayor, has petitioned for an injunction restraining the H. G. Maxwell Co., of New Jersey, and Editor A. Simpson of Lowell from erecting a sign on the old Boston & Maine depot in Central street. A preliminary meeting was held before Judge Stevens in the superior court in Gorham street at 9.30 o'clock.

this morning. William H. Wilson appeared for the Maxwell company, and Thomas G. Robbins for Edwin A. Simpson. The court, after hearing both sides, ordered that a restraining order be issued and that the matter be heard in equity session at Boston on Wednesday morning.

DAY NURSERY DYNAMITE TRIAL

Annual Report and Election of Officers—Good Work Done

The annual meeting of the Lowell Day Nursery association took place at the Kirk Street Nursery Saturday afternoon.

The president, Dr. M. G. Parker, the treasurer, Mr. J. Gilbert Hill, and the clerk, Mrs. Charles M. Williams, were unanimously re-elected, as were the five directors whose term of office had expired. Mrs. A. D. Prince, Mrs. C. M. Williams, Miss Harriet Coburn, Mr. J. F. Carroll, Mr. P. S. Marden.

Mrs. M. G. Morrison was elected a member of the association. The annual report.

There has been very little sickness among the children, and nothing at all of a serious nature.

The children and attendants of both nurseries have enjoyed car rides in the open through the kindness of the Bay State Railway company, and they had the pleasure of attending the play given by pupils of the Varum school, through the thoughtful invitation of Mr. Harris, the master of the school.

A notice in the local papers brought many contributions of clothing, which were distributed by the matrons.

The temporary home has fulfilled its mission, by giving shelter for periods of varying length to 33 persons, and several poor mothers and many helpless children have been aided over a temporary crisis, which otherwise might have resulted in much distress.

Two lost children have been brought to the home, and were cared for till their homes were found.

A boy whose mother was in the hospital was kept for two weeks. The city physician was notified of the case, while necessary food and care were supplied from this home.

Two other children were cared for a few days to give the mother an opportunity to seek work, which she found. She now has the children with her, and is supporting them and herself.

During the year twenty-two children have been sent by the Humane society, and have remained from one to seventeen days, four children having remained a week, two others seventeen days.

There are at present in the temporary home ten children.

These few examples show the need of this branch of our work and how it is carried out.

The directors extend grateful thanks to those who have contributed to the maintenance and comfort of the nurseries and home.

To Dr. W. H. Lathrop, Dr. Boyden Pillsbury and Dr. H. B. Plunkett, who have been at all times ready to care for the health of the children, to those who have responded to the appeal for contributions, to the matrons who have faithfully attended to their exacting duties, and to all who have in any way aided in the successful continuation of a work which is caring for the children enables so many parents to be self-supporting and independent.

Respectfully submitted, Josephine A. Williams, clerk.

ABARNO, ALLEGED BOMB PLOTTER, FIRST WITNESS AT TODAY'S SESSION

NEW YORK, April 12.—The trial of Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone, charged with making a bomb and placing it in St. Patrick's cathedral March 2, was resumed today after an interruption of a week because of the death of Judge Nott's mother.

Abarno was the first witness. He picked up his testimony where he left off when court adjourned. Indications were that testimony for both sides would be completed late this afternoon.

Abarno testified that after he had entered the cathedral he changed his mind about lighting the bomb. Amelio Polignani, the detective who had posed as an anarchist and won Abarno's confidence, sat beside him in the cathedral, the witness said. Abarno put the lighted cigar he carried with which he had intended to light the bomb in the hand of his hat and it went out, he said.

"I told him," Abarno said, "that there were too many people there and that we might hurt human beings. Polignani said: 'Go on and light it, or you'll be a traitor. Light it, so that if we are arrested we will have done something good.'"

Say Police Changed Fuses

On cross examination, Abarno repeated that the cigar he carried was unlighted. On another occasion he had said he had thrown it away in the lobby of the cathedral. Questioned as to which statement was correct he became greatly excited and rising from the witness chair shouted:

"I did not light that fuse. If I should be sent like a dog I say I did not light it. The fuse they had at police headquarters they pulled out of the bomb and lighted down there."

BIG FIGHT ON WHISKEY

MINISTER WHO ADVOCATED MORE INSTEAD OF LESS FIGHT ON PROHIBITION UPHOLD

NEW YORK, April 12.—There is no cause of action against the Rev. Charles Parkhurst, pastor of the Madison Square Presbyterian church of this city, for having sent a telegram, advocating a fight on whiskey and champagne rather than a fight for prohibition in California, according to the report of the moderator's council of the New York presbytery made public at the meeting of the presbytery today.

A protest against the action of Dr. Parkhurst in having written the letter, which was published by saloon leaders in California during the recent political campaign was made to the New York presbytery by the Presbyterians of Oakland, Cal. The matter was turned over to the moderator's council, consisting of 13 laymen and ministers. Their report was read at the presbytery quarterly meeting today.

GREAT WHITE WAY

It has been suggested, and the suggestion is a pretty good one, that all of the unsightly and unnecessary posts, signs, iron, wood, etc., be removed from the streets in which the ornamental lights that will constitute the white way, are to be installed. The work in connection with the installation of the lights has proceeded to almost a finishing point in some streets and the electric light company is waiting for the posts. The greater portion of Middlesex street is ready for the posts and the men engaged in the work are now busy in Merrimack street. The sidewalks are being badly cut up in places, but Commissioner Morse says that the sidewalks can be made as good as new. All of the repairs to streets and sidewalks will be made by the street department and charged up to the Lowell Electric Light corporation.

FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE
BEGINS CAMPAIGN TO WIPE OUT
THE DREADED WHITE PLAGUE
STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 12.—Dr. Allan J. McLaughlin, state commissioner of health, has inaugurated a new campaign to help exterminate and perhaps wipe out the dreaded white plague in textile and other manufacturing communities in Massachusetts. The commissioner plans to cooperate with the immigration authorities, and through them keep a record of every alien coming into this state from abroad whose physical condition is below normal.
This record will contain the destination of each of these aliens and the health officers in the various districts will be instructed to keep a close watch upon them with particular reference to the conditions under which they are living. In this manner the commissioner hopes to discover and check the first trace of consumption that occurs from these sources.
Aliens suffering from tuberculosis are not admitted into the United States but many aliens certified as having poor physique, flat chest, underweight for age, anemia, and other rather indefinite defects are admitted. These aliens are excellent subjects for tuberculosis if they are exposed to tubercular conditions.
Dr. McLaughlin, some time ago, requested the commissioner general of immigration to furnish lists of aliens destined for Massachusetts cities and towns having such defects, and J. E. Bennett, acting United States commissioner of labor, has agreed to cooperate with Dr. McLaughlin insofar as the appropriation of his department will permit.
When these lists are received, the commissioner of health can notify the local boards of health, and the tuberculosis dispensary will be able either to prevent the development of tuberculosis or to arrange for deportation of the alien at the earliest possible moment, if the disease should develop.
Dr. McLaughlin says it is not generally known that aliens who are suffering from a dangerous contagious disease, become persons and others who become a public charge may be deported to Europe at any time within three years after landing, provided their condition is due to causes prior to landing.

BURNED ITS MORTGAGE
MORTGAGE
The $5500 mortgage on the Highland-Veritas lodge, No. 8, I. O. O. F., building at 131 Branch street, was burned Saturday evening in the presence of over 300 persons, including a large representation of the lodge membership. Old fellows from many surrounding towns and invited guests who assembled and participated in the jubilation which marked the freedom of the property from every dollar of the debt that has been on it for many years.
Besides the grand officers and other distinguished guests present, the only two surviving members of the lodge, Edward Clark, P. G., and G. M. Segar, attended the ceremony and joined with the younger members in making the event a memorable one.
The night never looked prettier than on Saturday night. Streams of red, white and blue hunting extended from the centre to all parts of the hall while American flags were placed in front of the stage and at intervals about the sides and rear. The electrical effect was also striking.
At 7 o'clock a bountiful banquet was served by Highland union. Daughters of Rebekah, in the lower hall. During the dinner music was furnished by Hibbard's orchestra and by the Mendelssohn quartet, composed of Messrs. F. N. Booth, A. T. Munn, Charles H. Howard and Harry C. Goodham.
When the banquet was over W. G. Bowen, P. G., toastmaster, called to order and extended a cordial welcome to

WAS MISERABLE COULDN'T STAND
Testifies She Was Restored
to Health by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound.
Lackawanna, N. Y.—"After my first child was born I felt very miserable and could not stand on my feet. My sister-in-law wished me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my nerves became firm, appetite good, step elastic, and I lost that weak, tired feeling. That was six years ago and I have had three fine healthy children since. For female troubles I always take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it works like a charm. I do all my own work."—Mrs. A. F. KRAMER, 1574 Electric Avenue, Lackawanna, N. Y.
The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard remedy for female ills.
Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.
We challenge anyone to name even one other medicine that has been so successful in relieving woman's suffering as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
The members and visitors present, Grand Warden Clifford L. Mahoney of Boston was called upon for an address, and he spoke briefly on the record of the lodge and of its high standing at the present time.
The historian of the lodge, John F. Bateman, P. G., next gave a well prepared history of the lodge, going back to the day of its founding in 1815. He spoke of both Highland and Veritas lodges, as the present organization is the result of a consolidation of the two. W. J. Ryan, O. B. Bateman, president of the association, took the $5500 mortgage and placing it in a receptacle touched a lighted torch to the document, and amid a chorus of over 300 voices, singing "America," the mortgage slowly burned and then there were cheers given for Highland lodge and its members. The scene was impressive and reached the hearts of all present.
Among those called upon for brief addresses were: Grand Chaplain A. David, Grand Herald Justin Duncan, Grand Instructor W. M. Webber, all of Boston, and District Deputy G. M. John R. H. Ward and suite from Lawrence.

"IRISH NIGHT"
The "Irish Night" to be held at Hibbard hall on Wednesday evening of this week is sure to prove a source of pleasure for all who attend. The committee in charge has completed arrangements and has done all possible to make the affair a success. The dances that were so much enjoyed some years ago, and the pipers and the dancers will all contribute to the pleasure of the evening. Prizes will be given for the best step dancing, and a special invitation is extended to the older people to come and share in the genuine enjoyment of the evening. Modern dancing will be allowed from 9 o'clock to 1 o'clock.

LADY LOOKABOUT
The project of a school in citizenship has much to recommend it, not only to the alien seeking naturalization, but also to the large class of our women who are seeking their enfranchisement.
The old objections to woman suffrage, that woman's place is in the home, has been so successfully combated that to give utterance to it at the present time is to hold one's self up to ridicule. There is one objection, however, which it seems to me has yet to be removed. This is that women themselves do not want it. And it is true. Of course this does not apply to those who are so enthusiastically working for suffrage, but it does most assuredly apply to the rank and file of women, those who make up the great majority.
A school for citizenship, with women for the pupils, would accomplish much for suffrage, and in less time than is now being consumed in educating men by the "direct method."
One-Handed Chauffeur
That automobile operator who is going about town with one arm in a sling and running his machine with a single hand, has the finest courage I have met with in a long time. I have always felt that the average person—women, at any rate—have a hand too few and a foot too few to ever become real proficient chauffeurs. Yet this operator worms his machine in and out of the busiest spots in the city, and I have yet to hear of an accident. It is coming to him, though. Only for the cool head and swift action of a Lawrence street motorman a few days ago the operator would have had trouble. The machine dashed directly across the track and the motorman brought his car to such a sudden standstill that the passengers were severely jolted. The automobile stopped before it cleared the tracks and there were not more than six inches between it and the car. Do you remember the old song we used to hear at minstrel shows years ago, "The One-Man Band"? Well, Whistling Rufus could not have held a candle to the one-armed chauffeur as his good hand flew from brake to spark, to gasoline, to wheel, as he hustled to start up and get out of the way. A man with courage like that is wasting his time in a lane town like Lowell. He should be at the front, or at least challenging Mr. Willard.
Streets Made for Autos
Judging by the large number of nuts, bolts, washers, and other bits of machinery to be seen scattered about on the city streets, the machines passing over many of them must be subjected to great shaking. A block paved street without a smooth over coating is sure to shorten the life of usefulness of any machine, however strongly built. The advent of the automobile has not brought about the change in city streets which it has in many country roads which have been rebuilt mainly for automobile traffic. Owners of machines are heavily taxed in order to provide these roads, and if none of that money is paid back to the cities from which most of it comes, there is an opportunity for some ambitious young statesman to become a hero.
Mail Carriers' Uniform
The recent ruling of Postmaster General Burleson affecting the summer uniforms of mail-carriers must have been received with surprise by the carriers. The hot weather costume may be of cotton, wool, or cotton and wool, providing he color is not changed from that in present use. I am glad they are to continue the soft cadet blue we have grown accustomed to associating with our carriers, and I am sure that with the lightweight and weather outfits they will appear jauntier than ever.
It would seem that in Lowell, a city over 100,000 inhabitants, and embracing as many nationalities as it does, any person wishing to engage in business of almost any kind would find a ready market for his goods. It would seem also, that a local firm would find larger profits in catering to local needs, than would an outside firm doing business here, in retail trade at least. Yet every day from my window I see an expensive commercial automobile with two men, a chauffeur and one other, all the way from East Cambridge, doing a house to house business in baker's goods.
Surely, if a firm of bakers in East Cambridge can find it profitable to send each day a high-priced automobile and two men to Lowell to conduct a house to house business, there must be a greater profit in it for a local firm. This is only one instance. Others readily suggest themselves—cases of strangers walking into our cities and carrying off money which should go to local merchants. It is another example of outsiders coming in here to make the most of business opportunities our own people either fail to see or lack the enterprise to grasp. It remained for an out of town firm to see an opportunity for profitable investment on Central street a few years ago. I presume that but for the Bradley Bros. the old Hamilton wall, with its array of bill board literature would still be an eyesore to the public.

Comparative Food Values
1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food
Comparative Cost per Pound
1 pound of rib roast beef
1 pound of Grape-Nuts food
It would be difficult to find a food that affords the same abundance of true nourishment, at so low a cost, as does the famous wheat and malted barley food—
Grape-Nuts
At three-fifths the cost, a package of Grape-Nuts supplies nearly one-third more nourishment than a pound of rib roast beef. And besides, in buying a roast you pay for about 20% refuse, and there's a shrinkage in cooking.
Grape-Nuts food comes ready cooked and every particle in the FRESH-SEALED package is good to eat. Its rich nutrient includes the 'vital' salts that are necessary for brain, bone and sturdy muscle. Grape-Nuts is delicious—easily digested—economical.
Thinking people everywhere are more and more adopting Grape-Nuts—

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Quality counts. It may be more expensive at the start, but it is economy in the long run, for the average man, woman or child, appreciates refined, high class entertainment. That is why the Lowell Opera House has had four of the most successful weeks in its history.

Beginning this afternoon, the Opera House will put on the same excellent Paramount productions that it has had since its reopening, and Miss Betty Bellairs will have the leading role, with "The Spanish Jade" as the vehicle. Miss Bellairs first achieved distinction as an actress when she became leading woman for Mr. Free Terry in England, since which time she has engaged in dramatic work of the highest order. Her appearance on the Paramount screen marks the introduction of a woman who is bound to become a picture favorite. Under the arrangement with the Paramount people, only genuinely "Famous Players" appear in the Famous Players' series, so that even though you may not have seen a Paramount performance on the screen, you may rest assured that approximate perfection is reached whenever a Paramount film is completed. Take, for example, the role of the Paramour, which she played in "The Unfaithful," a drama-romance hitherto unknown to the average theatre-goer. So it is with "The Spanish Jade," a presentation which she appeared in "The Unfaithful," a drama-romance hitherto unknown to the average theatre-goer. So it is with "The Spanish Jade," a presentation which she appeared in "The Unfaithful," a drama-romance hitherto unknown to the average theatre-goer.

Then there will be other films, the products of Mutual, Majestic, Keystone, Tanhauser and Princess picture companies, embracing variety and quality suited to the most exacting. The music feature, of course, will find abundant appreciation with Dr. Edw. Welles at the pipe organ, the Opera House orchestra under direction of Emil J. Bosjes, and Miss Constance Dees, Boston soprano, contributing to his excellence. Reservations may be had on application. Tel. 261.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
In "Surgeon Louder, U. S. A." the very funny travesty, which will be produced in Imhoff, Conn & Coreene, at the Lowell theatre, this week, patrons of the theatre may rest assured that they have offered to them one of the best drawing cards on the circuit today. This trio of enter-tainers first sprung into renown through their work in "The Doin'gs of Dr. Louder." That act was considered to be very funny, but when "Surgeon Louder" was conceived and produced it made an instantaneous hit, and for three seasons it has had uninterrupted triumph over the country. Roger Imhoff will have the part of "Private Casey," the wounded soldier, who is doing his utmost to get a furlough. He runs against the surgeon, tells him his troubles, and is promptly turned down. He continues his appeals, with no success whatever. The conclusion of the act is most remarkable. Jack Ryan and Harry Tierney, who have just returned from a big success in Europe, will bring to the front their polished comedy, and will add thereto some of their original songs. These men who are billed just as is the ordinary talking and singing duo, are distinctly in advance of most of their fellows, for they have hit upon a line which has not been explored before, and their work is so well done that they never fail to create a most positive impression. Ryan and Tierney have for several years made trips to the continent, and they have conquered wherever they have appeared. They will conquer here.

Boomerang throwing is not an easy thing to do, but when it is accomplished with ordinary headgear, it becomes decidedly more difficult than as it is carried out with the ancient weapons of the Maoris. Moran and Wiser will compel an endless number of hats to describe all sorts of figures in mid-air. And the hats will fall over the heads of the audience, and will then come back again. These boomerang hat throwers have only just come to America from a continental tour, where they achieved much renown, the difficulty and accuracy of their work being thoroughly well appreciated.

La Petite Mignon is a charming young woman, whose powers of mimicry are unparalleled, and who will offer character representations of many persons who are now on the American stage. Mignon is a dainty miss, and she has bundles of ability. She was discovered a year ago, meekly submitting her repertoire of personations. She had a "different" air, a personality in her work, which is nothing if not pleasing.

Ethel Sinclair and Frank Griffiths will present "Fancy Foolishness," a very pungent skit written by Jean C. Hartz, the man who cooked up all of Lew Dockstader's fun. Miss Sinclair and Mr. Griffiths are most competent players, who will get all the fun out of Mr. Hartz's lines. The LeLands are a man and a woman who are painters and who offer an exceptionally pretty act. They paint marine scenes and a village scene. The Clairmont Boys are dare-devil revolving ladder performers. Their act has all of the thrills possible to it. In addition the Hearst-Selig News Pictorial will be shown, which is the week's offering at this popular theatre. "If it plays anything like it rehearses, it will be one dandy show," he added. That's just what everyone else will say after seeing it.

Written by an American author, and containing most all the elements which have gone so far toward making American plays what they are today, it also affords the different principal members in the cast excellent opportunity to display their versatility. First performances this afternoon at 2, this evening at 8 and twice daily thereafter. Seats for all performances are now on sale at the box office or may be reserved by phoning 2633.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"I will surely be here to see that play, next week," said a prominent city official as he strolled out of the Merrimack Square theatre, after watching the Saturday rehearsal of "The Girl From Home," which is the week's offering at this popular theatre. "If it plays anything like it rehearses, it will be one dandy show," he added. That's just what everyone else will say after seeing it.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
The motion picture program offered at the Academy of Music, the first three days of this week is headed by "The Typhoon," an entertaining and amusing drama of Japanese life. This great picture unfolds a story that is full of exciting incidents and is sure to thrill the audience from beginning to end. Another number that will closely rival "The Typhoon" is an episode from "The Black Box" serial, describing another event in this high-class and always pleasing drama. Billy Ritchie, known as the funniest comedian in the motion picture world, will be seen in a two-part comedy picture, making three features on the bill for today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

THE OWL THEATRE
This theatre will offer a wonderful array of wonderful productions for this week. On Monday and Tuesday, Zangwill's "Children of the Ghetto" will be featured. Wednesday and Thursday, "The Deep Purple" with Winsome Clara Kimball Young. Friday and Saturday will star Charlie Chaplin, Francis X. Bushman, and Florence Turner, in three distinct features.

Today and tomorrow's feature, Israel Zangwill's "Children of the Ghetto" will show Mr. Wilton Lackaye in the leading role of "Reb Shmuel," an old Hebrew rabbi, who persists in believing in his forefathers' creed, in spite of changing times and conditions. Mr. Lackaye brings to this part the greatest character actor on the stage, and a depth of emotional appeal and human understanding, that will warm the coldest heart. The story itself, is Zangwill's masterpiece, and he has given every bit of assistance he could in order to complete a production that would ring true of his own conceptions of the play. The producer has turned out a masterpiece that will give you an insight of what photography and genius can do—when both are intelligently applied. This will be shown in connection with the regular performance, which will contain such plays as "The Tragedy of the Hills," a French drama, "The Master of the House," a Selig comedy; "The Master in His House," a Vitaphone play and "The Chief Man's Wife," another Vitaphone offering. Of course, you know there is no change in price—The Owl policy to give the biggest value for the money.

THE JEWEL THEATRE
Got the Monday blues today? The Jewel theatre offers the greatest cure. Jackson DeAngelis, M. D., C. C., M. D., in Comedy, will drive them away as the jealous husband in "The Jewel of the Desert," a riot of fun and laughter produced under the Best brand. Say, you should not deprive yourself of this treat—it's one that will long be in your memory. The Post-Telegraph, a "The Jewel" play with Anna Little and Francis Ford; "The Pinch," a two-act drama; "The Outlaw Handicap" are some of the others shown. Is it dawning upon you that the Jewel is offering about the biggest dime's worth in Lowell? It does look that way, doesn't it? Just keep your eye on the little ad. The Jewel News, and read it.

ROYAL THEATRE
In the mythical land of Bavaria, there lives a King Louis, who comes to realize that love of the little dancer means more to him than anything else in his life. "The Little Dancer" is alone in the world when her father dies and the king's secretary is able to protect her, and make her a mistress of the art of dancing. Soon the king feels her charm and she becomes his favorite. She is able to do much for the people and in doing so incurs the hatred of nobility. They come against the king but their plots come to naught through the loyalty of Lois, the dancer. Cecil Spooner, the famous romantic ingenue, is featured in this Blauer production which is the second of the Blauer series to be released through the World Film corporation. As an actress her fame is secure, and in the photoplay world, she is not a novice. Her ability as a directress is fully displayed in "The Dancer" and the "King," and she has made sure every trick that holds the interest of the audience.

It is said that the relations between the young monarch of a minor power on the continent and a beautiful dancer, suggested the writing of this feature to Cecil Spooner. When played by her on the stage it was one of her greatest successes, and it was the play in which her devotees preferred to see her rather than in any other play that she had in her repertoire.

PETE McNALLY DEAD POISONED FISH

WELL KNOWN BOSTON NEWSPAPERMAN AND SWIMMER DIED SUDDENLY

Peter S. McNally, assistant curator of the Franklin Park Zoo in Boston, former newspaper writer and long distance swimmer, died suddenly at Gloucester Saturday afternoon.

Mr. McNally, accompanied by Charles S. Gardner, his assistant at the Marine park aquarium, went to Gloucester to get a seal brought into that port by the schooner Teaser. The seal had been caught on an ice floe off the Newfoundland coast. He was to superintend bringing it to the aquarium.

While on the boat he dropped to the deck and died almost instantly.

Pete McNally was well known in this city especially to the newspapermen. He visited here quite frequently and in recent years came as the press agent of the Buffalo Bill and other shows. He spent the last few summers at Hampton beach.

He was a member of Elm Hill Council, K. of C., and of the Order of Alhambra. He is survived by a wife and a daughter about five years old, also by four brothers and two sisters.

The brothers are John, John P. McNally, playwright of Broadway; Hugh P. McNally, one of the editors of the Pilot; Dr. William J. McNally of Charlestown; and Daniel McNally, an artist of New York. The sisters are Mrs. Charles Cooper of Winthrop and Mrs. John Quinn of New Haven.

He was at one time long distance champion swimmer of the world. His mother, Mrs. Bridget McNally, 56 years old, resides at Winthrop.

DIED SUDDENLY

James Ford Died Soon After Reaching St. John's Hospital—Death Due to Natural Causes

James Ford, a man of middle age, died at St. John's hospital yesterday after being confined there but a short time, death being due to natural causes. The man was living at 75 East Merrimack street and was employed at the Massachusetts mill. He did not work the first three days of the week, but Thursday and Friday he attended to his daily duties. On Saturday he remained at home, stating he was not feeling well. A physician was called and the man's removal to the hospital was ordered. The man gradually grew weaker and a short time after his arrival at the institution he passed away. The police were notified. It was found that Ford died of natural causes. It is believed deceased has some relatives in this city.

FIRE ON LIGHT POLE

Box 62, Lakewood avenue and Coburn street, at 10:20 o'clock last night called the department to Lakewood avenue where a transformer box on an electric light pole had caught fire. The department had been instructed not to apply water or chemical to the pole so a crew of electric light corporation men was sent for to remove the box.

Fire in a tree near the corner of Ennall street and Lakewood avenue caused a telephone alarm at 6:35 o'clock last evening. No damage.

Fish and Game Society Offers Reward for Detection of Culprit

A reward of $25 has been offered by the Lowell Fish and Game association for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who placed lime in several of the nearby ponds which were recently stocked with fish.

The wanted deed is one of the most heinous forms of fish destruction that there is. Lime causes the death of the fish and then brings their bodies to the surface of the water where they can be readily picked up. The members of the association are highly incensed over the matter.

THREE BOYS ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BREAKING INTO STORE AND STEALING THEREFROM

Three youngsters, Patrick Gleason, John Dine and Cyril Davis, were making merry in an empty tenement on Wall street early Sunday morning in celebration of a successful breaking and entering and larceny expedition which the trio had made in a Davidson street store. The three boys finally dropped asleep on the floor of the tenement surrounded by the fruits of their crime—cigarettes, cigars and candy.

Officers Kennedy and Fanning were making the rounds of their beat and noticed that the tenement appeared to be occupied. The two officers decided to investigate with the result that the three youths were brought to light and also the police station.

At first the boys said that they bought the spoils strewn about them on the floor, but later admitted taking it from the store. The boys are 11 years of age. They were booked for breaking, entering and larceny and will appear before the juvenile session next Friday.

CHELMSFORD

A fire in the brush along the roadside, just beyond the Roper place in Perham street, on Saturday morning gave rise to the report that the ruins of the Roper house were again on fire. The smoke was first discovered by Ralph Knowlton and Clifford Hill, death who sent word to Forest Warden Perham, but before the latter's arrival a number of boys had succeeded in putting the fire out. The cause of the fire is not known.

The play, "The Arrival of Kitty," given by the young people from the Howe high school last Thursday evening netted about $15 for the members of the class of 15.

Trot fishing has become quite popular and a number of fishermen were out Saturday in quest of the fishy tribe placed in the ponds and brooks some time ago by Fish and Game Warden Morse and Peck.

Now Is the Time to Examine Carefully Your Heating Equipment

Of the thousands who tried Lowell Coke this winter, over 99 per cent. found it a perfectly satisfactory, money-saving fuel. A few failed to get good results because of defective heating apparatus.

Why not have your heating plant examined now? A few dollars spent in repairs during the summer may enable you to save 5 or 10 times that number in fuel.

One of our coke experts will be glad to look at your equipment and tell you what is needed, if you wish. Telephone.

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Wally Lyons of the Hamilton Manufacturing company says the South End team this year will be faster than ever.

Morton Walker, advertising manager of the J. L. Challouff store, will manage the store baseball team this season.

William Walsh, a prominent young man of this city, formerly employed at the Merrimack Manufacturing Co., is now with a Lynn shoe concern.

The annual dancing party of the Bon Marche club will be held the 28th of this month, and the affair gives promise of being an unprecedented success.

The P. & Q. clothing store will furnish the uniforms for the South End team this season and the team will represent by calling itself the "P. & Q. South Ends."

President Frank Warnock of the Trades and Labor council will be the presiding officer at the mass meeting to be held in the hall tonight by the labor forward movement.

The regular meetings of all labor organizations will be suspended tonight, in order to let the members take part in the parade and mass meeting which is to follow at Associate hall.

Henry Sullivan of the J. L. Challouff shoe department will start in training, in a few weeks for a "number" of aquatic events he expects to enter during the next few months.

Although some excitement prevailed due to the walkout of the common laborers at the South Lowell plant of the U. S. Cartridge Co. Saturday morning, Contractor Robinson held his head and succeeded in averting trouble and the laborers left the grounds peacefully.

Invitations have been sent out by the trustees of the Lowell Textile school for the graduating exercises of the evening classes to be held next Wednesday evening, and present indications point to a large attendance.

Several prominent mill officials will be the speakers.

TEXTILE SHUTOUT

Defeated by Lawrence Academy—Pitching of Murray a Feature

Lowell Textile met its first defeat of the season Saturday when they met the strong Lawrence academy team on the campus of the local school, going down to a 7-0 shutout.

The main factor in Textile's defeat was the pitching of Johnny Murray. Lawrence academy's crack batsman proved invincible. On several occasions in the first few innings Murray was wobbly and Textile looked dangerous but on each occasion the visitors' pitcher tightened up and retired the local team without a score.

Sturtevant started the mound work for Textile and went along for four innings in fine style. Errors behind him put him in bad ways in the fifth and finally hitting by Lawrence academy retired three runs in this inning.

Harris relieved Sturtevant in the seventh and succeeded in holding the visitors safely in the last session when they showed two more runs across. Textile's work in the field was poor, a half dozen misplays being committed.

Baker at first base was the bright shining light of the locals. His work at the initial sock was all to the good. On several occasions Baker scooped up bad balls for put-outs and cracked out a double as well as a single. The score:

10 CARLOADS OF BARGAINS

From the Bankrupt Stock of the Royal Furniture Co., 53 Portland Street, Boston

THIS, INDEED, IS AN EXTRAORDINARY SALE. IT ISN'T GOING TO BE ONLY A ONE-DAY OR A WEEK'S SALE, BUT

Our Position in the Furniture Market Is Absolute for This Season

As Ten Carloads of Furniture, Art Squares, Linoleum, Ranges, Refrigerators, Pictures, Mirrors, Dinner Sets, etc., cannot be sold in a month or two. Nor is it possible for us to display this immense stock all at once, as many cars had to be unloaded into the storehouse. So we shall have bargains for you for some time to come, but on many of the finer goods there are no duplicates, and the sooner you secure them the better for you, as when they are gone, we, or no other furniture dealer can pay the full price and sell them to you at one-third discount. No, these windfalls do not come every day, and you must do as we did when opportunity knocked at our door. We didn't say: "There is plenty of time," or "I am not quite ready to buy." If we had, opportunity would have gone to the other fellow. No, we quickly grabbed opportunity by the forelock and hauled it into our camp. And that's why we are doing and are going to do four times our normal business this spring. Save you one-third on your purchase and make money ourselves. We have left the original price tag of the Royal Furniture Co. in plain figures on every article, and they sold too cheap for their own good. That's the reason they failed. And from those prices we deduct one-third.

IN SUPERIOR COURT

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT IN CASE OF PICANNO VS. O'DOWD—THE PERRIGO CASE

The sudden disappearance of the plaintiff in the case of Bellamino C. Picanno vs. Henry J. O'Dowd, caused another breakdown in the superior court list this forenoon and at 11:30 o'clock court was adjourned until 9:30 tomorrow morning.

The case called for trial was an action of contract in which the plaintiff claimed he was hired by the defendant to negotiate the sale of a parcel of real estate at 114 Charles street. He said he was to receive all over and above $500 as his commission on closing the transaction. The plaintiff further stated that he sold the property for $6700 and received $500 as part commission, leaving a balance of $6200 due Picanno. It is alleged that in January, 1914, both parties met and agreed that the defendant owed the plaintiff $1000.

All charges were denied by the defendant.

While Attorney A. S. Goldman was making his opening to the jury, Picanno stepped out, saying that he was going to the railroad station to meet an important witness. He did not return, however, and by agreement of counsel, the court ordered the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. Edward F. Tierney appeared for Mr. O'Dowd.

Perrigo Case

Judge Stevens charged the jury this morning in the suit of James W. Perrigo vs. Charles P. Rathle and Brandon J. Manning, in which Perrigo claims he was bitten by a dog owned by the defendants in Billerica last July. Before sending the jury out for deliberation, His Honor instructed the jurors to return a verdict in favor of Brandon J. Manning, as it was found that he did not own the dog. He told the jurors that they must either find for the defendants on both the other counts or for the plaintiff against one of the other defendants. A sealed verdict will be reported tomorrow morning.

The case of John Dreen of Somerville vs. Ellen C. Sias of Detroit, Mich., was called for trial today, but the plaintiff did not appear and the suit was disposed of by default. Miss Sias is the daughter of the late Owen Coyle, who died on Aug. 1, 1913. He sued for $1000 alleged to be due him for nursing the late Mr. Coyle during his illness. R. J. Cotter for the plaintiff and Schwartz and Dearborn for the defendant. Two cases were non-suited.

SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

YOUNG WOMAN STRUCK AND RUN OVER NEAR ANDOVER—WITNESSED BY LOWELL PARTIES

Messrs. J. H. Gregoire and Aime Glonnet of this city witnessed a sad automobile accident on the state road between Reading and Andover yesterday afternoon. The two Lowell men were returning to this city in Mr. Gregoire's automobile by way of Andover, and when a spot was reached on the state highway about half way between the two places, an automobile owned and driven by G. A. Young of Lawrence, struck and ran over a young woman, who was walking on the electric car tracks.

The automobile was being driven at a moderate rate of speed and in order to avoid a collision with another machine the driver turned to the left and struck the woman. The young woman whose name could not be learned, was removed to the office of Dr. Richmond in Reading. It is believed she was fatally injured.

ESCAPED INMATE ARRESTED

A woman who escaped from the state infirmary in Tewksbury Saturday night was apprehended near Merrimack square and later returned to the institution.

MAYOR ROBERTS JAILED

TERRA HAUTE EXECUTIVE SENTENCED FOR SIX YEARS AND FINED $2000

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12.—Mayor Don F. Roberts, one of the 12 convicted by a jury in the federal court for participation in the conspiracy to defraud the government in the election of Terre Haute on Nov. 3, 1914, was sentenced by Judge Anderson today to six years in Leavenworth prison and to pay a fine of $2000.

In all 118 men, 89 of whom had pleaded guilty, were to be sentenced. Eli H. Redman, elected judge of the circuit court of Vigo county by ten votes, and Sheriff Dennis Shea were sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and fined $1000 each.

Harry S. Montgomery, president of the board of public works; Thomas C. Smith, city judge; George Ehrenhardt, member of the board of public works, and Edward R. Driscoll, secretary of the Vigo county democratic committee, were sentenced to three years each in the penitentiary and fined $500.

HIG RENT RECEIPT

Thomas Moore, who conducts a variety store at the corner of Gershon avenue and Moody street, was given a tenement and store receipt by his landlady last week, which covers a period of ten years, the amount of the receipt being $2050. Mr. Moore has occupied his present place for the past ten years and although he paid his rent every week, he never received a receipt. A few weeks ago Mr. Moore was notified by the landlady to move as she wants to occupy the store herself, and Saturday when Mr. Moore paid his rent he asked for a receipt to cover the ten years he has been occupying the place and a receipt to the amount of $2050 was made out.

BRITISH CASUALTY LIST

LONDON, April 12.—Six hundred and eighty-three names were added today to the previous casualty list of the losses in the fighting at Neuve Chapelle last month.

This list brings the total casualties in this engagement to 7214. Of this number 2074 were killed.

BOSTON & MAINE BILL

CONCORD, N. H., April 12.—The bill for the re-organization of the Boston & Maine railroad, which the judiciary committee expected to present to the house of representatives tonight will not be reported. Instead upon the insistence of Governor Spaulding, the whole question has been opened up again and the committee will conduct further hearings. Conferences are in progress today to determine whether they shall be before the judiciary committee or a committee of the whole house. The judiciary committee had voted 11 to 4 against the amended public service commission bill which was to have been reported to the house tonight.

MISS KIVLIN SHOWERED

Miss Kittie Kivlin, who is soon to become the bride of George Crawford, was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Nellie Kennedy, 164 Warren street, Saturday evening. A musical program was given, including selections by Mrs. C. Young, Mrs. B. Ferguson, Miss Marie McCase, Mrs. Tierney, Miss Louise Kivlin, Miss Ella Justin. The party broke up at a seasonable hour, all present extending best wishes to the future bride.

CHANGE IN POLICY

The prices and policy at the Merrimack square theatre will be changed this week. The stock company in tabloid form will present one-act dramas and feature pictures of an educational and instructive nature will make up the balance of the bill. For week of April 12, the wonderfully interesting photo play, "Ireland, a Nation," by Walter McNamara, will be the feature. Comedy films will also be shown. The prices will be 10 and 20 cents in the orchestra and 10c in the balcony.

GREEK LIBERTY

Independence Day Observed by Mass Meeting and Speeches

The members of the local Greek community celebrated the anniversary of the independence day of their country in a fitting manner yesterday. For certain reasons, however, the celebration was confined to a church service and patriotic meeting, the parade of former years being set aside. The guest of honor was Rt. Rev. Bishop Germanos of Syria, who is touring this country, and he was one of the principal speakers at the patriotic meeting. The regular Sunday mass was celebrated at 11 o'clock and the service was attended by thousands of faithful, including representatives of all the local Greek societies and the Holy regiment. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, both the exterior and interior of the temple being covered with American and Greek colors. The celebrant of the mass was the pastor, Rev. Nestor Soukides.

At the close of the service a patriotic meeting was held with the president of the community, Peter Tavoularis, as the presiding officer. Those who addressed the large and enthusiastic gathering were Bishop Germanos, Rev. Nestor Soukides, and others. The Greek orchestra of 35 pieces rendered excellent music during the meeting. In the afternoon the bishop visited the Syrian colony in company with Peter Tavoularis and Michael Ansara, the latter a prominent Syrian of this city.

WESTFORD

The senior class honors of Westford academy have been announced. Miss Helen M. McCoy is valedictorian, with an average rank of 91.5 per cent. for the four years. Miss Persis Wright is salutatorian, with an average of 88.8 per cent. Miss Gertrude Conroy and Miss Lennie Kimball each hold a rank of over 85 per cent. Eight of the class rank above 82 per cent. for four years, and two above 80 per cent. for three years. In point of numbers the class is one of the largest that the academy has graduated for some years. There are 14 members, 12 girls and two boys.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At a special meeting of the officers of Court Merrimack, 11, Foresters of America held yesterday afternoon plans were discussed for the outing to be held in July. The matter of conducting a large class initiation with a list of prizes to be awarded to the members bringing in the most candidates between July 1 and Oct 1 was also taken up and referred to the regular meeting of the court which takes place this evening. It was announced that a series of lectures will be held during the months of September and October.

NONPAREIL MINSTRELS

The people of Lowell will have an opportunity to hear an hour of old time minstrelsy tomorrow night, when the Nonpareil songsters will hold forth at Associate hall in their first annual minstrel overture and dance. Although this is the first appearance of the club, the participants in the show are well known to the public through their many successful appearances during the past few years. The club has been fortunate in securing the services of Hon. James B. Casey, as interlocutor. Mr. Casey is no stranger to Lowell audiences, being known as one of the city's most graceful and temperate speakers. Among the soloists who will appear are John J. Dalton, Andrew Doyle, William O'Donnell, Master Arthur Hiley, Joseph M. Donoghue, John C. Wilby, John F. Gleason and Linwood Knapp. On the ends will appear four men whose antics and singing will tickle the audience. "Dick" Donoghue, "Joe" Carroll, "Jack" McArdle and "Billy" Carr have already won themselves a name in the hall of fame as comedians and all around entertainers. Wm. Gilbride is the musical director. The management of the show is in competent hands and everything points to a big success.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

CARE OF BUTTER AND CREAM

"Well, our cream went bad this morning, for the first time this winter. We will have to begin taking ice cream," remarked Marjorie.

"We take it here all winter," Marie answered, "but I hardly think it necessary in your home, as there are many ways to keep food fresh without ice cream, too, that special care should be exercised in keeping food stuffs clean."

"Butter and cream require especial care in the summer time. It is rather difficult to skin the cream from the top of the milk bottle, yet it is sometimes necessary. A little implement can be purchased for a quarter that will lift every particle of cream from the milk bottle, leaving the skimmed milk in the bottle."

"This consists of a little dipper with two handles inserted in the central portion. There is a ring at the top which is held in the left hand while a bar is held in the right. The upper part of this dipper is raised by the ring about an eighth of an inch, this leaves an opening into which the cream flows gently. When the cylinder is inserted into the cream it is dropped into the original position. In this way cream is collected in both the bottom and the top of the cylinder or dipper and none is lost," continued Marie.

"Yes and the butter should be taken care of, too; I notice that it gets rather strong when it stands about," Marjorie suggested.

"In the warm days it is hard to keep the butter attractive. There is a simple compact little cutter on the market that serves well for cutting butter into neat, clean individual serving pieces. It can be quickly operated for with two strikes in two seconds of time a standard one-pound block of butter can be divided into twenty-four to twenty-eight pieces, leaving no waste at all," replied Marie.

"How could we make butter at home?" asked Marjorie.

"A unique little butter curler can be purchased for a small sum. The cur can be quickly dropped into ice water where it will be delightfully hardened and fresh looking when served on the table. Of course there are the old-fashioned butter pats of wood that are small enough to make individual servings. Balls or dainty and attractive little molds can be made with these."

"There is a butter pan on the market that enables one to make butter without churning. This pan consists of an absorbent cloth, a separating pad and a butter pan. The separating pad and the absorbent cloth must be placed in close contact with each other and held securely in place by the clips upon the sides of the pan."

"One quart of heavy cream is poured in the assembled pan. It must remain there not more than twelve hours nor less than twelve. Cream from the separator must stand ten hours before being placed in the pan. The product must then be rolled from the separating pad into a wooden bowl, worked dry or until the buttermilk is dislodged, then when the buttermilk has all been washed out it is washed and salted if desired," concluded Marie.

glowing. Rinse all the soap off and dash with cold water and dry well. When the face is very red discontinue the application of hot cloths and with finger tips work in some good cold cream. Use plenty of cream. Then take a soft towel and wipe out the cream and dirt which will come with it. Finish the treatment by rinsing with hot water and then with cold.

We are all prone to consider our eyebrows sufficiently taken care of when the washcloth passes over them in our morning ablutions. But we are entirely mistaken. Turn back the hairs of your brows, says Hortense, and see if you cannot find infinitesimal little ticks of scaly skin. You may feel entirely reassured because they are apparently so insignificant, but let me impress upon you that those tiny scales are your most deadly enemies.

Get your little eyebrow brush at once and carefully and thoroughly scrub the brows with warm soapy water. As soon as you feel convinced that they are thoroughly clean, rinse them several times in warm salt water, says Hortense.

Do this once or twice a week, preferably at night, and you will soon find that the dandruff has yielded to the treatment. Of course in the meantime you must be careful to brush them thoroughly with your eyebrow brush, not only every morning but every time you apply powder to the face.

The odor of perspiration is unpalatable, says Hortense. When bathing dissolve a tiny bit of ordinary washing soda in the water. After using the bath towel dust well with a powder made of 100 grains of salicylic acid, 350 grains of powdered boric acid and seven ounces of powdered talcum. The liquid preparations for this purpose are powerful astringents, perfectly safe to use, but not the sort of applications that can be compounded at home, since they contain very strong ingredients.

To stimulate and give elasticity to the skin, put some of this mixture into your bath each morning, have the water just tepid, not warm; tincture of camphor, one ounce; tincture of benzoin, one-half ounce; cologne water, six ounces. You can purchase both powders and pellets, which, while more expensive, are delightful in their effect.

SUMMER FASHIONS ARE FASCINATING—FABRICS AND DESIGNS
INDICATE REFINED TASTE—DESIGNS FOR YOUNGER FOLKS

Fashions and fabrics both are fascinating this season. In spite of the fact that we started out with some apprehension as to what effect the war might have upon the supply of fabrics and the supply of designs, the season has proven to be one of exceptional fascination and of infinite charm. We made something of a sudden jump from narrow skirts to very wide ones, but already there is a tendency toward moderation and the really smart costume is the one that shows extremely becoming and graceful lines. The suggestions that are made in the picture are all good and it will be noted that there is a certain picturesque element to be picture illustrates not alone an excellent model, it also gives evidence of the favor shown to checked fabrics. The skirt is of the gored, circular sort but with lapped edges at the front that are always good. The coat hangs loose from the deep yoke and while it is exceedingly fashionable and takes most graceful and attractive lines it will be good news to the home dressmaker to learn that it is an easy garment to make and also to fit. If preferred, it can be made a little longer, but for summer the short coat is a good one. Women who are thinking of outings which may take the form of travelling, where one stops over at hotels from at the back. In the picture, the dress itself is made of embroidered douncing and the over-bouse is made of cotton crepe. The missed costume is made of the taffeta that is such a pronounced favorite this season, with a blouse of crepe de chine. The little bolero is sleeveless and the skirt is fitted to a modified Empire line and is finished with an unusual belt. Nothing is more fashionable and perhaps nothing is more serviceable than taffeta but there is no model of the season that cannot be changed in effect if made of different material. This dress would be smart of linen, of cotton crepe or cotton voile, or it could be made with skirt and blouse of a lingerie material and the little bolero of taffeta in some pretty color.

For hair that has lost its lustre—or has become scraggy and is falling out—there is a surprisingly effective treatment. It is called Hartman's Dandruff Cream. It is a rich, creamy, fluffy, lustrous growth. This is the Hartman Treatment now becoming so popular in the hair world. It is a scientific explanation of hair-growing and hair-beautifying elements. All you do is to get a quantity of Hartman's, a dainty proportion which when rubbed into the scalp gives the hair an appearance of freshness and beauty. Hartman's also gradually induces conditions for growing finer, new, beautiful hair. With it you will receive a bonus of Hartman's Perfuming Shampoo and Dandruff Comb, with which you exorcise your scalp and stimulate the circulation. When this Hartman's treatment, dandruff is loosened and removed, it goes to the roots and is dropped from falling and the whole head of hair made strong and beautiful.

It guarantees it and will return price to anyone dissatisfied.

BOYS FLEE FROM FIRE INSTRUCTOR IS MISSING

ASHBURNHAM, April 12.—Ashburnham boys' dormitory at Cushing academy, was burned early today, causing a loss estimated at $10,000. The fire started in the basement of the four story brick building. One of the students smelled the smoke and the other boys with the four teachers who lived in the dormitory were quickly aroused. The flames had not reached the stairways but the corridors were so full of smoke that the occupants were forced to leave the building by the fire escapes. It was believed that all had made their exit in safety until several hours later when it was learned that Frank L. Hardy, director of athletics, was missing. Mr. Hardy was seen soon after the outbreak of the fire and it is believed that he might have been overcome by smoke while trying to reach a telephone booth in a corridor on the first floor. The cause of the fire is not known. The dormitory which was built three years ago was at some distance from the other buildings of the academy plant, which were not endangered.

LIQUOR CASES HEARD CONTROL OF EPIDEMICS

HEARING BEFORE LICENSE BOARD TODAY — PROPRIETORS BLAME EMPLOYEES

The cases of Oviola Moran & Co., Martin Moran & Co., and Joseph H. McDonald & Co., came up before the license commission this morning in a public hearing given on account of charges preferred against each concern by Supt. Welch. All of the cases grew out of recent police court proceedings. It was charged by the prosecution that the licensees had violated the conditions of their licenses.

Inspector Samuel J. Bigelow of the liquor squad was the witness for the prosecution. The officer stated that he visited all three of the saloons on Saturday evening, March 27, with a companion who was not an officer. In each place, said the inspector, a half-pint of whiskey was purchased. The three men who made the actual sale were found guilty in police court last week and paid fines of $50 each.

The inspector stated that in the place of Martin Moran & Co. he saw the proprietor on the premises but that he held no speech with him. The sale was made by Frank Sobezak, who was cleaning up.

Mr. Moran testified that he did not know that the liquor was sold and that he had repeatedly given orders that no such violation should take place. In fact he said, Sobezak had been previously discharged for not obeying orders and that on the Monday following the sale in question he had been discharged again for a similar offense.

In the saloon of Oviola Moran & Co. the inspector said that his party sat down at a table and after he had ordered beer he threw a quarter on the table and asked for a half pint of whiskey. He said that Alfred Dube was sweeping up and that he first went to the head bartender who then looked up and down the street and then brought out the bottle of whiskey. The inspector said he did not see Mr. Moran on the premises.

Mr. Moran then stated that he was not at his place of business on the night the sale was made. Dube was not a regular employee, he continued, and was only hired to clean up on Saturday nights. He said he had no authority to sell the liquor.

In the establishment of Joseph H. McDonald & Co. the half pint was bought from Pierre Laplante, Inspector Bigelow said. He also was sweeping up the place. Laplante first went behind the bar and took up a bunch of keys. He later signaled the officer to follow and took him into the toilet. There, said the inspector, the liquor was delivered.

Mr. McDonald said that he did not know how Laplante could have gotten hold of the keys as he was not a regular employee but hired simply to clean out the saloon on Saturday nights. Laplante had orders not to sell liquor at any time, he said.

The fact was brought out at the hearing that the inspectors made a visit to all three of these places on the Tuesday following and that there were no bottles found at any of them. The board took the three cases under advisement.

STRUCK A ROCK IN POLICE COURT

American Steamer Minnesota Sends Out Trespass and Assault Calls for Help

KOBE, Japan, April 12.—The American steamer Minnesota, plying between Japanese ports and Seattle, struck a rock at half-past nine o'clock last night off Iwajima, near the southwestern entrance to the Inland sea. In a wireless message Captain Garlick has asked for a salvage steamer. He says all the passengers and crew are safe.

The Minnesota sailed from Nagasaki Sunday morning bound for Kobe, Yokohama and Seattle. She passed through the straits of Shimoda safely and was in the inland sea when the accident occurred.

It is believed the Minnesota can be floated but beyond the fact that one of her holds was pierced by the rock, the amount of damage is not known.

Wireless telegraphy was employed by the Minnesota in calling for help. A steamer, the name of which is not known, responded promptly. It probably is the vessel which took off the passengers and mail and conveyed them to Shimoda.

The number of passengers on board the Minnesota is not known for certain. They had just finished dinner when the crash came. A salvage steamer with a tender and divers has been sent from Moji and will reach the scene of the wreck tomorrow morning.

A Japanese newspaper has received a despatch from Manila saying that Mrs. Francis D. Harrison, wife of the governor general of the Philippine Islands with two children was on board the Minnesota at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Harrison was accompanied by Captain Archibald F. Comiskey, military aide to Governor Harrison. Friends say Mrs. Harrison and the children planned to spend the spring in Japan.

ATLAS A. A. BOUTS

Sam Langford to Meet Joe Jeannette—McVey Sick

Sam McVey, who was billed to box Sam Langford at the opening show of the Atlas A. A. of Boston, next Tuesday night, claims he is sick with malaria, contracted in Cuba, and will be unable to meet Langford Tuesday evening.

The club has secured Joe Jeannette to meet Langford, and as their previous battles were the best ever seen in the Hub, the boxing fans are certain they will witness a mill as good as the previous contests.

Jeannette is in good shape for the match, as he knocked out Arthur Pailey at Montreal last Friday night, and had been boxing with Jim Coffey for his match with Carl Morris.

APPEAL FOR RELEASE

AMERICAN STEAMERS NAYAGO AND JOSEPH W. FORDNEY, HELD BY BRITISH

LONDON, April 12.—The American steamers Nayago and Joseph W. Fordney, both under detention at the present time by the British mercantile authorities at Kirkwall, have appealed to the American embassy here to procure their release.

The Fordney's captain has advised the embassy that a British prize crew took charge of his ship off the Norwegian coast.

The Nayago, from Galveston to Bremen has on board a cargo of cotton and was taken into Kirkwall, April 7.

The Joseph W. Fordney, which left New York, March 20 for Malmoe, Sweden, was taken into Kirkwall April 8.

The captain of the American tank steamer Llana from New York March 19 for Copenhagen, also has appealed to the American embassy here to secure the release of his vessel from detention at Kirkwall.

LOWELL DENTIST GOING
Dr. N. F. Phillips to Attend Reunion of Class of 1900 at Philadelphia Dental College at Philadelphia

Among the practicing dentists who will attend the reunion of the class of 1900 of the Philadelphia Dental college at Philadelphia this Wednesday is Dr. N. F. Phillips, who has offices in the Sun building. The occasion will be the 15th anniversary of his class and upon it Dr. Phillips expects to meet his old classmates and discuss the latest discoveries in the realm of dentistry. Among the speakers at the meeting will be several of the most prominent dentists and professors of dental surgery in the country. They will discuss the developments in dental surgery which have taken place within the past year and their addresses are looked forward to with lively interest by the attending dentists. After the class banquet at one of the leading hotels of the city, Dr. Phillips will return to his duties in Lowell on Friday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE UMPIRES
NEW YORK, April 12.—National league umpires were here today to receive their assignments for the season from President Tener. The league umpires also received from Tener their instructions and an informal discussion is to follow.

Antony Basco walked into the basement of the A. G. Pollard Co last Saturday night and picked up three shoes which he thought he could use to better advantage than the Pollard people. He omitted the somewhat necessary detail of paying for the shoes.

Nobody seems to know just why he picked out three shoes instead of four. Whether or not he has some one-footed friend was considered immaterial this morning when his case came up in police court before Judge Enright.

Basco did not deny his guilt. Sergeant Petrie told the judge how the capture was made, etc., and the court mentioned something about two months in jail. Up to this time Basco had been apathetic, but when he learned his fate he was a live wire in a second. After some jockeying with an interpreter it was announced that the defendant was willing to make restitution and settle for the court expenses. He was then placed on probation under a suspended sentence.

Peter J. Richards and his father, Octave, the two men who objected to the privilege of track walking, being denied them by the court, came up on Wednesday. Octave was charged with trespassing and his son was also charged with assault upon Officer William Wallis.

J. Joseph O'Connor appeared for the defense and went into action at once. Officer Wallis was called to the consultation with the court and proved to be an unrepentant person. In spite of the fact that he got a bad swipe in the eye from one of Peter J.'s flying fists he was agreeable to a $20 fine for assault. Accordingly both men were fined $5 for trespassing and the son $20 extra for the assault.

Patrick J. O'Brien looked the typical "assault upon an officer" specimen this morning. Two stitches had been taken in his forehead and his head was badly cracked where it had evidently come in contact with some substantial substance. It is said that he assaulted Officer Grogan Tuesday night. He was charged with anything. O'Brien said he wasn't guilty and the case was put over until April 20.

PLANS FOR PEACE LATE WAR NEWS TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

Move by Pope Benedict Welcomed in Washington

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The Boston Globe's interview with Pope Benedict XV. was read with keen interest in Washington. President Wilson and every member of his cabinet read it.

Owing to the fact that President Wilson has advised his official family to refrain from discussing the European war in the newspapers, none of the cabinet members would say anything for publication, but privately several of them declared that the pope's statement will have a good effect not only in this country, but abroad.

Members of the president's cabinet see great possibilities in conveying to the world the attitude of the pope. They took the position that the president has the matter of peace off in hand, and until he speaks they will not be interviewed.

The pope's message, some of them said privately, is a great utterance, and should result in negotiations toward peace in the near future. Others do not believe that the time to talk peace seriously has yet arrived.

THINK MAN MURDERED

WORCESTER MAN DISCOVERED IN ALLEY WITH SKULL, SPINE AND RIBS FRACTURED

WORCESTER, April 12.—Under circumstances which the police are investigating, Frank Taylor, aged 42, of 3 Mill street, was found lying Sunday morning in an alley between 7 and 9 Mill street and taken to the City hospital, where he died at noon.

An autopsy performed last night by Medical Examiner Baker showed that Taylor died of a fractured skull, spine and several fractured ribs.

Because of the circumstances in which Taylor was found and the nature of his injuries, Medical Examiner Baker is inclined to believe that he was murdered. He filed a report of his findings with the police, and inspectors Good and Brady were detailed to investigate.

They visited the home of Frank McKinstry, 7 Mill street, where Taylor was last seen alive, but could secure no evidence to indicate that he was murdered. Taylor was unconscious when found, and the police, believing that he was intoxicated, brought him to Station 1, where he was booked. At 2 yesterday morning he was taken to the City hospital.

Medical Examiner Baker said last night that Taylor could not have moved after receiving either the fractured skull or spine.

It is believed that he was struck from behind and jumped upon by his assailant, and then dragged into the alley where he was found by Patrolmen Scanlon and White.

Shortly before he left the McKinstry home he was said to have shown a bank check. When searched at the police station his clothing revealed no money, and for this reason the theory of robbery is advanced as the reason for murder, if such was committed.

BATTLE IN CARPATHIANS

VIENNA REPORTS SEVERAL RUSSIAN ATTACKS REPELLED WITH HEAVY LOSSES

VIENNA, April 12.—An official statement on the war situation given out in Vienna today reads as follows:

"The general situation is without change. In Russian Poland and in western Galicia there have been artillery engagements. In the Carpathians especially in the district east of the Uzsok pass several Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses. We took 320 prisoners, in southern Galicia and in Bukovina there have been some heavy artillery engagements."

concerning the naval engagement reported to have taken place off the coast of Norway. While waiting details of this action, the British public has been kept interested by the news of sounds of firing off Scarborough on the east coast, the scene of one of the most sensational of the German raids.

French Report Progress

France continues to report progress in the Argonne and beyond the Meuse. At the same time the French authorities admit that the German counter attacks have been exceedingly fierce and that one result is in the capture of a trench. At Eparges the French have not advanced beyond the positions captured by them April 9. Paris admits also that the Germans have recovered some ground temporarily lost by them between Pont-a-Mousson and St. Mihiel but even there the French claim to hold most of their gain.

Germany to Invade Serbia

Interest in the near eastern situation has been stimulated by the receipt in London of two special despatches, one of which declares that the recent mission to Berlin of Field Marshal Von der Goltz was instigated by the Young Turks, who have declared that Germany must send a strong force to invade Serbia and threaten Bulgaria in order that millions of war might be sent to Turkey, while the other quotes the prime minister of Bulgaria saying a new situation has been brought about by the action of the allies in the east in which Bulgaria seeks a possibility of realizing her national aspirations.

Belgian Relief Ship Sunk

The sinking of the Belgian relief ship Harpalyce on her return voyage has created much comment here but the American relief commission is awaiting official confirmation of the report that this ship was sent down by a German submarine before making a protest.

Interest in Prohibition

Interest in prohibition in England continues unabated with the latest material for discussion supplied by a morning paper which asserts that the government is prepared to take over the industry of manufacturing light beer at the same time suppressing all other intoxicating drinks.

GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED BY FRENCH, SAYS

PARIS, April 12.—The French war office this afternoon gave out a report on the progress of the fighting, reading as follows:

"There is little to add this afternoon to the communication given out last night. During April 11 engagements continued the whole day in Belgium in the region of Albert; also in France between the Meuse and the Aisne and in the Champagne district."

"In view of the fact that no engagements took place between the Meuse and the Moselle after our success of April 6, we have devoted ourselves to reorganizing the positions won during the course of that fighting."

"On the western fringe of the forest of Le Foret we repulsed a violent German counter attack which failed completely under the fire of our infantry and artillery."

CATHEDRAL IN PARIS USED FOR MILITARY PURPOSES, SAYS

GERMAN REPORT

BERLIN, April 12.—The war office announcement of today is as follows: "Sunday was comparatively quiet on the western front. French attacks in the Argonne against the Combes position in the Ailly forest and in the forest of Le Foret were all repulsed. Inasmuch as an attack by the enemy resulted in the killing with bombs of three women in the open town of Muehheim, German bombs were dropped on the central group of fortifications at Nancy."

French officers who have been taken prisoners have informed the German authorities that the cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris, the galleries of the Louvre and the Hotel Des Invalides are buildings being used for military purposes. They are equipped with searchlights, wireless apparatus and machine guns.

Russians Captured

"In the German advance to the east from Mariampol nine Russian officers and 135 Russian soldiers were taken prisoners. Four machine guns also were captured. To the northeast of Lomza the Russians threw bombs which did not explode but which developed asphyxiating gases."

"The Russian authorities officially have circulated a report concerning the mutilation of Russian non-commissioned officers in the presence of German officers. This is an absurd falsehood and unworthy of discussion."

MISUSE OF THE MAILS

INDICTMENTS AGAINST JOHN FARSON, JR., AND HIS BROTHER WILLIAM AND SIX OTHERS

CHICAGO, April 12.—Indictments against John Farson, Jr., and his brother, William Farson, and six other men, charged with misuse of the mails in the sale of securities amounting to $3,500,000 in the Colorado Irrigation project, were announced today by the United States district attorney's office here.

The Farsons are members of the firm of Farson Son & Co., with offices in Chicago and New York. The charge is that the bonds were sold on the representation that the project was complete and that profits on the investment would be speedily realized. Officials said work was not finished when these representations were made.

TRADING WAS EXTENSIVE

LIST EVINCED A REACTIONARY TREND—SECONDARY PRICES BETTER—CLOSING HEAVY

NEW YORK, April 12.—Resumption of stock dealings today was in marked contrast to last week's frenzied movement. Instead of further advances the list evinced a reactionary trend, with numerous losses of a point or more.

Trading was again extensive, however, United States Steel, Reading, Southern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio being offered in lots of 1000 shares or over. Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific and Reading were among the heaviest issues. In keeping with its recent activity, Bethlehem Steel pursued a contrary course, losing a point at the outset, but soon advancing three. Secondary prices showed general improvement.

The business of the first hour was well in excess of 200,000 shares which constituted a record for that period excepted last Saturday, when over half a million shares changed hands. Early losses were largely recovered despite persistent selling, but toward midday the list fell back again. Reading and a few other leaders going under initial declines. Selling was mainly of local and European origin.

The precipitate fall of the motor stocks featured the early afternoon dealings. Studebaker dropped three and a half and General Motors four points. Elsewhere prices also sought lower levels, but the leaders showed resolute strength.

Attention was again directed to Bethlehem Steel in the final hour, that stock moving excitedly upward for a gain of 17 points from last week's final price. The close was heavy.

Continued

German raider was released and as their tug steamed by hundreds of British sailors lined the decks of their ships and cheered.

When the liberated British tars reached the Casanova's dock they tossed the remnants of their luggage aboard and danced around like schoolboys in anticipation of the trip to their native land, joyous that they had escaped death by the guns of their own country's warships Saturday night.

"Did we see British warships Saturday night?" said J. W. Gow, chief engineer of the steamer Coleby, sunk in the South Atlantic March 27. "We certainly saw one and heard others. I saw one about midnight way off on the horizon and she was chasing us from midnight on until we reached safely in the Virginia Capes about three o'clock Sunday morning. The Wilhelm seemed to be the faster ship, for as time went on in the chase the lines of the pursuing warship grew dimmer and dimmer until she disappeared in the distance."

"Our escape to this port was perfectly marvelous. We were running with all lights out and at top speed from five o'clock Saturday afternoon when she headed straight west."

CRUISER AT ANCHOR

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 12.—The German converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm, the second of the elusive commerce raiders of the seas for German arms, lay at anchor off here today after a spectacular dash through the lines of British and French warships which have been hovering off the Virginia Capes waiting for the expected seaward dash of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The Kronprinz Wilhelm occupies an anchorage in the James river at almost identically the same spot selected by the Prinz Eitel when she reached here March 10.

Coaled and Provisioned

The Kronprinz Wilhelm was being coaled and provisioned today. Although Commander Thierfelder of the Kronprinz Wilhelm had asked for 300 tons of coal and supplies for three days the federal authorities allowed him 150 tons of coal and provisions. Sixty-six of the Wilhelm began taking on coal and supplies the Kronprinz Wilhelm had less than 25 tons of coal and scanty provisions for the crew of 500 men and sixty-one prisoners from British merchant ships destroyed by her in the South Atlantic.

The Wilhelm had been given 24 hours in which to leave port unless he needed coal, provisions and time to make repairs.

It is generally believed that Commander Thierfelder will enter his ship in this port.

Tales of Sea Raiders

Officers and crew of the Kronprinz Wilhelm recounted today thrilling tales of sea raids and destruction that rivalled those of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. During her long voyage through the southern seas since she slipped out of New York harbor Aug. 3 last the Kronprinz Wilhelm sank 11 ships, valued at $7,000,000. Nine of the vessels were British, four French and one Norwegian. Nearly a thousand prisoners were taken. She was accomplished with only four guns, two taken from the German cruiser Karlsruhe and two captured from a British merchant vessel.

The Kronprinz Wilhelm was forced to come into port because of an outbreak of the spread typhoid, and for supplies and repairs. Sixty-six of the crew and the prisoners, 11 of the disease, were to be taken to the hospital today.

Supplies to Raider

One hundred and fifty tons of coal, 50 tons of fresh meat, fruits and vegetables were loaded on barges during the night and were alongside the cruiser at sunrise. These supplies were allotted the raider by Collector of Customs Hamilton after a conference with the Washington authorities.

The Wilhelm was under way early today for removal from the ship of 51 British sailors taken by the Kronprinz Wilhelm from steamships Tamar and Coleby, destroyed in the South Atlantic.

Lieutenant Commander Thierfelder of the cruiser has asked for time to submit his ship and submit to examination by a board of United States naval officials before making a formal request as to the time he wishes to remain in American waters for full supplies and repairs. His machinery after the 255 days' voyage from New York harbor is said to be in fairly good condition, evidenced by the fact that the ship was able to make at least 22 knots an hour Saturday night and Sunday morning in her dash into Hampton Roads to evade enemy warships.

All was ship-shape on board the Wilhelm at sunrise today, officers and sailors in their queer looking gray uniforms of French army cloth captured from the steamer Guadeloupe presenting a fresh appearance after the first untidy night's rest of eight months of persistent and elusive operations on the high seas.

Lieut. Warneke Talks

"It was a long voyage from New York to Newport News," said Lieut. Warneke, first officer of the Kronprinz Wilhelm, "but it was a pleasant voyage and in all that time we never touched land. Always we were on the great big ocean and now at last we have arrived. Two hundred and fifty-five days from New York to Newport News and the distance is 250 miles. I wonder what can be the matter with this old tub?"

The officer smiled at his little joke. Sinking by the Wilhelm of the neutral Norwegian bark Semantia, bound for Falmouth February last, promised the raider an international case similar to that precipitated by the sinking of the American bark William P. Frye by the German raider Eitel, now interned here. The Semantia was loaded with wheat for England.

Investigation is being made of the conditions under which the Kronprinz Wilhelm slipped out of New York harbor Aug. 3 last. It being asserted that she did not have proper clearance papers when she made her dash, as it now develops, under direct orders from the German government. Should it be found that the ship had not secured clearance papers she would be subjected to "palms and penalties" for violation of the customs law of the United States.

Prisoners Guarded

The 61 prisoners now on board the Kronprinz Wilhelm still were cooped up in a space in the upper after deck and guarded by armed sailors. Efforts to bring them to the prison camp were being made by the guards but later today they will be brought ashore.

RECRUITING IN LONDON

PATRIOTIC AGITATION TO BE KEPT UP TWO WEEKS—LEADERS OF ALL PARTIES TO PARTICIPATE

LONDON, April 12.—A great patriotic campaign to secure recruits for Field Marshal Earl Kitchener's new army was opened in London Sunday. The campaign is to be carried on for a fortnight.

Meetings addressed by liberal, unionist, labor and Irish members of parliament were held in Hyde Park, Trafalgar square and other centers of the capital, while recruiting sergeants distributed pamphlets showing the pay, separation allowances and other advantages given to soldiers.

As the result of the Trafalgar square meeting, 200 recruits were secured at the chief recruiting office today.

During the fortnight's campaign 1500 meetings will be held, while troops will engage in street marching.

MATRIMONIAL

Armand Brault and Miss Aline Beauchamp were married yesterday afternoon, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's rectory at 2 o'clock by Rev. Augustus G. O'Meara.

The bride wore white chiffon and carried a cluster of bridal roses. She was attended by her father, Aurele Beauchamp, while the bridegroom was attended by his father, Anatole Brault. At the close of the ceremony a brief reception was held at the home of the bride, 77 Mt. Hope street, and at 5.15 o'clock the happy couple left for a wedding tour to Boston, Salem, Beverly and Lynn. They will return to this city on April 18.

PRATTE-ALLARD

The marriage of George Leo Pratte and Miss Marie Allard, two popular young people of West Centrally, took place this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Louis church at 10 o'clock by Rev. J. B. Labadie. The bride wore a blue traveling suit and carried lilies of the valley. She was attended by her father, J. B. Allard, while the bridegroom's witness was also his father, Edouard Pratte. At the close of the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Allard, 21 Billings street. The happy couple left on the 10.10 o'clock train for Montreal. They will visit Quebec and St. Anne de Beauriv. They will be at home to their friends at 71 Billings street in two weeks. Present at the wedding from out-of-town were Mrs. Pierre Pratte of Dorchester and Mrs. Maher of Boston.

SIMARD-LABRIE

Henri Simard, a popular member of the C. M. A. C. and Miss Marie Blanche Labrie, a well known clerk at the A. L. C. M. A. C. were married this morning at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Joseph's rectory at 2 o'clock by Rev. Augustus G. O'Meara. The bride wore the traditional white and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her father, J. B. Labrie, while the bridegroom's witness was also his father, Edouard Simard. At the close of the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Labrie, 21 Billings street. The happy couple left on the 10.10 o'clock train for Montreal. III Fate Overtakes German Sea Raiders

ONE by one Germany's fleet of auxiliary cruisers that have been roaming the seas has been destroyed by the battle-ships of the allies, which have been chasing them practically since the opening of the war. In their raiding careers the German ships led their pursuers thousands of miles. But it was an uneven battle. The story of the careers of the different raiding cruisers and their thrilling fights and pursuits all over the world would fill many volumes.

Every lover of sea romance, every collector of piratical lore, every worshiper of Jean Lafitte, "Blackbeard" Lathrobe, Morgan the buccaneer and Captain Kidd and other pirates, as well as of John Paul Jones and Admiral Nelson, was given new and added interest in the great war when on the morning of Nov. 11 he read that the German cruiser Emden, which had destroyed more than a score of British ships in eastern waters, had been driven ashore and burned on Cocos Island.

The Emden was not a pirate ship, but a small cruiser of the navy of a big world power, perfectly accredited, and in its actions and the actions of its heroic commander something for every one with a drop of the old Teutonic blood in him to be proud of. But in its desperate cruises, its daring attacks, its sailing of the high seas without fear and without let from the mighty power of England's navy, there was a suggestion of John Paul Jones—and there was something of the old, free, devil may care spirit of the buccaneer days.

Island Suggests Buried Treasure.

In the name of the islands where she was finally driven ashore there was a wealth of historic suggestion of the years when the pirates Lathrobe, Morgan, Kidd and Lafitte sailed wherever they listed, battled under the flag of the Jolly Roger and took what prizes they cared to in spite of the navies of the civilized world arrayed against them.

It was on Cocos Island—another Cocos Island—that the greatest of pirate hoards was supposed to have been secreted, and in the years since hundreds of thousands of dollars and hundreds of human lives have been sacrificed in the attempt to find the treasure. All down the years men have plotted, starved, fought, murdered and have been murdered to find and carry away the treasure from Cocos Island—the other Cocos.

But the fact that the Cocos Island, in the Indian ocean, where the Australian cruiser Sydney did for the brave little Emden and Cocos Island in the Pacific ocean, about 550 miles southwest of Panama, where the old time pirates were believed to have hidden their treasure and where every few years an expedition arrives from some world city to hunt for it were not the same, did not detract from the glamour that hung around the daring seaman-ship and the heroic warfare of the modern day sea scourge Emden.

Sympathizers with Germany heaved a sigh for the brave young Teuton sailors and fighters and remembered the Vikings of old. The impartial, neutral reader of sea yarns must have wished that Stevenson had lived to write that story and read over again how the Emden destroyed twenty-two ships in fourteen weeks.

The gallant little 3,500 ton cruiser, knowing the whole time that she was inexorably doomed to destruction, gallantly held the seas for three months against fully forty warships of the allies.

Career of Eitel Friedrich.

The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, after a commerce destroying cruise over Pacific and Atlantic oceans, which culminated in the sinking of an American sailing ship in the south Atlantic on Jan. 23 last, came into Newport News, Va., and anchored for supplies and repairs. She brought with her rescued crews and passengers of American, British, French and Russian ships.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich arrived off

Cape Henry after dark, but did not enter until the morning, when she came to anchor off Quarantine. The United States coast guard ship Onondaga immediately went alongside to preserve the neutrality of the United States. The German vessel was scared and rusty from her long voyage. She was painted white on one side and black on the other, but she came into the roads without any attempt at deception as to her nationality.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich began her scouting for the ships of enemies of the fatherland at Tsingtao, China, last November under Commander Thierichens, who admitted sinking eleven merchant ships—five British, four French, one Russian and one American. The sinking of the American ship, the William P. Frye, a sailing vessel, bound from Seattle to Queenstown with 5,200 tons of wheat, most concerned story over a dinner table in Montevideo, where the cruiser put in to refuel, and Mrs. Pope retold it, with all its vivid detail, in her letter. Her version of Captain Luce's story is as follows:

"The Leipzig fired her last shot and was ablaze inside. Her captain then ordered all hands on deck with their life belts on. They gathered in the waist of the ship, expecting an explosion any moment. The hatchway of the ensign was cut by a shot and the deck below was burning; also a storeroom directly under and around the mast. They could not haul down their ensign, and one man who volunteered to climb the mast was burned to death.

"The signal room was afire also, and the three green lights were discovered at the last moment in a box on deck.

"So there they stood, packed solid on the deck, and the Glasgow's last two rounds just moved them down by fifties and sixties and strewn the bits far and wide. The captain sat in the midst of them, as calm as though they were at anchor at home. He sat and talked and smiled and helped them to keep steady; and just at the end his cabin boy found a big box of cigarettes. He passed them himself to crew and officers. He was alive to the last when they were standing on the up side of the ship as she heeled over and jumped with them, but went down and couldn't be found."

Portland's Marvelous Rose Display

Roses in Bloom in Portland, Ore.

ONE HUNDRED miles of roses of wondrous beauty—a floral display that would reach from Portland, Ore., to the Pacific ocean, along the shore line of the mighty Columbia river—a floral display alone that would prove a world-wide attraction!

This is just the very thing Portland long famed as the Rose City, will accomplish this year through the city beautiful committee of the Rose Festival association.

Portland has long talked roses, and when Portland or a Portlander talks roses he seldom talks varieties. With him it is the Portland rose, and the slogan adopted for the 1915 festival is "The Whole World Knows the Portland Rose."

City beautification is a question that is being given much thought and attention by the leading cities of the United States. For the last eight years Portland has continually beautified the streets in the residence districts by the setting out of rosebushes. With a climate admirably adapted to the growing of roses and with many rosarians interested in the creation of new varieties from year to year and the importation of varieties, the creation of rosarians in foreign lands, Portland is now a city where more than 25,000,000 rose flowers are grown each year. This figure is very conservative, and some rosarians assert that if the rose flowers in bloom from May until September, and often throughout the winter months, were counted the annual display would be not far from 50,000,000 flowers.

The production of roses in Portland by the millions led to the festival idea in 1907, when the first carnival was held. Each succeeding year the features calling for the rose as the central idea in decoration have been improved upon until now it requires more than 5,000,000 rose flowers for the decorated automobile parade. Millions more are used in street and other decorations, and for three days each year, June 9, 10 and 11, beautiful rose flowers of many varieties are required to carry out the spirit of the rose festival.

While Portland already produces millions of roses annually, many residence streets in new districts were without floral decorations, so one of the functions of the 1915 association was the beautifying of the city.

Co-operating with the rose festival at Portland are representatives of every commercial, business, fraternal, religious and social organization in the city. A canvass was recently made, and it was found Portland florists had on hand 250,000 rosebushes which, if planted this year, would bear flowers by June. The festival offered more than 20,000 bushes at sale much below the catalogue price to call attention to the task of city beautification. The bushes were easily disposed of in less than a week. Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, was selected as rose planting day, when Portland residents set out rosebushes covering fifty miles of parking strips. The stock of two-year-old rosebushes in Portland is exhausted with the result that the city has beautified more than 3,000 residence blocks, or 100 miles of additional rosebushes.

One of Portland's great floral features is the four acre rose garden at Peninsula park, where more than 1,000,000 roses are in bloom at one time in June. The expositions in San Francisco and San Diego are bringing thousands of tourists through Portland to and from the fair, and Portland has put the city in the best possible appearance to receive the guests.

The citizens are doing all in their power to make the city otherwise attractive for visitors. It is regarded as certain that thousands from the middle western and Atlantic states on their way to the expositions will put in at least a day at this wonder city and view the remarkable flower exhibit. Besides, there is sure to be other thousands from cities and towns in the immediate vicinity of Portland. While the exhibit is sure to be fine all summer it will be seen at its best in the month of June, but the display will not be confined to the summer months. Often the roses are in bloom during the entire year in this beautiful garden.

War Shows Effectiveness of Big Guns

GREAT execution has been done on the eastern battle front in the European war by the 30.5 centimeter guns of the Austro-German army. These guns rank next to the tremendous death dealing 42 centimeter guns of the German army and might be compared with the 12 inch guns of the navy, but are much more effective.

British experts in comparing the artillery of the Germans and the allies agree that the present European strife has transformed big gun practice. They emphasize the use of the howitzer, formerly a bombardment weapon for man killing purposes, and also in the open field, which hitherto was unknown.

Frank admission is made that the Austro-German forces have larger howitzers, but it also is claimed that in light and heavy artillery the allies are as well provided. Doubt is expressed as to a sufficient supply of 11 inch howitzers by the Austro-German forces. Of the 42 centimeter howitzer one writer says that there is little doubt as to its existence, but questions if there are more than two pieces of this large caliber weapon in the field. If they were used at all, he believes it was at the siege of Liege.

Speaking of the change in artillery practice forced by the present war, Colonel A. M. Murray, late of the Royal artillery, says:

"The gun is a long range, high velocity, man killing weapon. The higher its velocity and flatter its trajectory the longer its range and the greater its man killing capacity before the enemy can approach within infantry distance.

"The howitzer, as distinct from the gun, is a short range weapon designed originally to throw a heavy, high explosive shell with low velocity and high trajectory.

"The howitzer was originally conceived for bombardment purposes and for the destruction of material, but recently its use has been extended for man killing purposes, and field howitzers, light and heavy, are now provided with shrapnel as well as high explosive shells. When not wanted for howitzer purposes they can now be used as guns for fighting in the open.

"As the howitzer shrapnel shell reaches its target with a low velocity, in order to increase its man killing effect, the shell has a high driving charge inside it amounting to as much as three-quarters of a pound or more. This driving charge increases the velocity of the bullets when they have been released by the bursting of shell, led troops even on the offensive to seek cover to escape rapid annihilation, so deadly is the power of modern weapons of defense."

MAN SAYS HEATE CALL GERMAN ROOTS 14 DAYS NOTE INSULT

Roland A. Russell of All Washington Stirred Hudson Found in by German Neutral-Woods Protest to U. S.

FRAMINGHAM, April 12.—A well-dressed man who says he has lived and slept in the open for 14 days and nights in the woods near the metropolitan water basin, with water and roots as his only nourishment, was found yesterday morning by Robt. Hessel of Worcester street, who was attracted to a pine grove half a mile from his home by the man's shouts. The man, weak from hunger and exposure, told the police that he is Roland A. Russell of Hudson, aged 25, unmarried, and a third-class stationery engineer out of employment. He is now at the Framingham hospital, where they say he will probably recover his strength soon.

Russell says that he left his lodging in Hudson three weeks ago to look for work in Saugus, but found no job there and started to walk home, as he had no money. He was three days en route from Saugus to Framingham, he says, and two weeks ago he went into the woods, footsore, to sleep. He stayed until yesterday, he told Mr. Hessel.

Hessel and his son, Robert C. Hessel, were starting out in their automobile yesterday morning toward Southboro, when they heard shouts in the woods. They followed the sound and found Russell standing on the south side of a hill near a spring. He was fully dressed, wearing an overcoat and a derby. His feet were so swollen that he could not wear his shoes, which were found nearby on the ground. He talked rationally, telling the Hesses of his sojourn in the forest for 14 days, even through the storm of last Saturday and Sunday.

Chief of Police William W. Holbrook took the man to the hospital.

Mrs. Hessel thinks Russell could not have been in that locality all the time for two weeks, because employees of the metropolitan water commission were working in the section for two days last week.

MISSING THREE WEEKS

HUDSON, April 12.—Roland Russell, the son of Mrs. Emma Russell of 83 Everett street, left Hudson three weeks ago on the early morning train, ostensibly to go to work at Saugus. A week later the Hudson police were asked to assist in finding him. It was said at that time that Russell's suit case was in Saugus, but that he was not there.

Nothing more was heard from him until yesterday afternoon when news that he was found reached the police. The Russell family at once went to Framingham in an automobile, intending to bring the man home if his condition permitted.

BROADWAY CLUB

The Broadway Social and Athletic club held a very important meeting at their rooms in Broadway yesterday. Considerable business of importance was transacted. Mrs. McGowan of 231 Broadway, who had been suspended from membership, was received and admitted. The dance committee reported that everything was in shape for the dance to be held on the 14th of the month. The 4th celebration came up and a committee of 15 was appointed to look into the matter. The club will not take any part in the contest for the most popular social club president in the city at its coming dance. Remarks for the good of the club were made by Thomas Smith, Peter Brady, John Thomas, Albert Curtis and Denis Donovan.

"THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH"

In recent years a most decided change has come about in the relationship existing between companies engaged in the business of supplying illumination and the lighting corporations referred to only as "thieves and robbers." Not infrequently is heard the remark, "I can't get a light." And in compensation of the efforts of his lighting company toward the rendering of improved service.

In this connection it may not be amiss to mention a plan now several months in operation, by which the Lowell Gas Light company undertakes the free inspection and adjustment of all gas ranges in the city and adjoining suburbs. These inspections are made by a man experienced in the work, who will call at your door, ready to render aid to the gas stove requiring it. The services of this man will cost you nothing.

In connection with the improvement of the condition of cooking appliances alone, the Gas Co. has formulated a plan soon to be put in operation, whereby a free and efficient adjustment of residence lighting burners will be made.

Every man employed by the company in making and inspection work is provided with a Lowell Gas Light Co. badge, which he will exhibit should any doubt arise as to his authority.

When the Gas Co. man calls—let him in—his mission is to help you secure the maximum benefit from the gas you burn.

GUNNER MCPHEE DEAD

Gunner Robert McPhee, formerly employed in the Saco-Lowell shops in this city, died while on duty at Sydney mines recently and the funeral took place with military honors at Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. There were delegations of artillery, mounted rifles and infantry, including the men who will soon leave Charlottetown for Halifax, Annapolis and St. John. Gunner McPhee was the third Prince Edward Islander to die in military service since the war began.

SMUGGLED INTO TURKEY

CHARGE THAT EXPLOSIVES ARE BEING CARRIED IN THROUGH RUMANIA

PARIS, April 12.—The charge that explosives and spare parts of guns are being carried into Turkey through Rumania by German and Austrian diplomatic couriers is made in a despatch to the Journal from Bucharest. It is said that the size and increasing number of parcels carried by these couriers recently has attracted the attention of Rumanian customs officials.

These embassy "pouches" which are exempt from customs examinations the despatch says, sometimes weigh as much as 8,000 pounds and never less than 5,000 pounds. The number of couriers also is considerably larger than usual. A discreet inquiry is reported to have revealed the nature of the "pouches" contents. It is believed that by this method a considerable quantity of ammunition has been smuggled into Turkey during the past few weeks. The most severe measures have been taken by the Rumanian government to put an end to the practice.

WELL-KNOWN ACTOR

Eben Bradless, Known On Stage As Eben Plymton, Died in New York Hotel Today

NEW YORK, April 12.—Eben Bradless, known on the stage as Eben Plymton, one time leading man with Mary Anderson, died in a hotel here today of pneumonia. He had been ill nine days and in poor health a long time.

He was born in Boston sixteen years ago, graduated from the amateur to the professional stage and made his debut in Sacramento, Cal., with a stock company. After several years he came east. He played leading roles with many stars, including the Booths, Clara Morris and Mme. Modjeska.

NEW AMERICAN INDUSTRY

In the present war, with the exception of the United States, all the countries capable of a noteworthy production of war material are either at war themselves or completing their preparation for war. Therefore the United States of America is the only country in a position to export war material. This fact ought to give a new meaning to the idea of neutrality, independent of the formal law.

"Instead of that, and in contradiction with the real spirit of neutrality, an enormous new industry of war material of every kind is being built up in the United States, inasmuch as not only the existing plants are kept busy and enlarged, but also new ones are continually founded.

"The international agreements for the protection of the rights of neutrals originated in the necessity of protecting the existing industries of the neutral countries. They were never intended to encourage the creation of entirely new industries in a neutral country, as, for instance, the new war industries in the United States, which supplies only one party of the belligerents.

"In reality the American industry is supplying only Germany's enemies, a fact which is in no way modified by the purely theoretical willingness to furnish Germany as well, if it were possible.

"If the American people desire to observe true neutrality, they will find means to stop the exclusive exportation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as a means to uphold the legitimate trade with Germany, especially the trade in foodstuffs. This spirit of neutrality should appear the more justified to the United States as it has been maintained toward Mexico.

"According to the declaration of a congressional committee in the house committee for foreign relations, Dec. 30, 1914, President Wilson is quoted as having said on Feb. 1, 1914, when the embargo on arms for Mexico was lifted:

"We should stand for genuine neutrality, considering the surrounding facts of the case. . . . He then held in that case that because Carranza had no power, while Huerta had them and was able to impose their materials, that it was our duty as a nation to treat them (Carranza and Huerta) upon an equality if we wished to observe the true spirit of neutrality as compared with a mere paper neutrality."

"This conception of the true spirit of neutrality, if applied to the present case, would lead to an embargo on arms."

LOCAL PARISH MISSIONS AIDS READING WAR NEWS

SEVERAL TO BE HELD HERE IN THE NEAR FUTURE—YESTERDAY'S SERVICES

The celebrant of the parish mass at St. Michael's church was Rev. Francis J. Mullin, while the sermon on the gospel of the day was delivered by Rev. J. J. Lynch. The annual retreat for the women at this church will open on Sunday, April 25 with Dominican fathers in charge. The retreat will last one week and the following week the men's mission will take place.

St. Peter's

A meeting of the members of the Holy Name society was held last evening, a brief instruction being given by the spiritual director, Rev. Dr. Kehler. The meeting closed with benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

At all the masses an announcement was made that the annual mission will open on Sunday, May 3. The first week will be devoted to the women and the second to the men. On the fathers will be in charge of the mission.

ST. MARGARET'S

At St. Margaret's church the members of the Children's sodality received communion in a body at the 9 o'clock mass. The members of the parish will be held at the parish hall tonight for the purpose of making preliminary arrangements for the May party to be held under the auspices of the parish.

St. Columba's

It was announced yesterday at St. Columba's church that the sacrament of confirmation will be conferred on a large class of children in June and instructions will be given on each Sunday to the boys and girls who expect to receive this sacrament. At the 7 o'clock mass the members of the Holy Name society received communion in a body, while the monthly communion of the members of the Children's sodality took place at the 8.30 o'clock mass.

TAKE TRAFFIC CENSUS

HIGHWAY COMMISSION OUTLINING PLANS TO TAKE TRAFFIC CENSUS OF STATE

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 12.—The members of the Massachusetts highway commission are outlining plans for taking the 1915 traffic census of the state. This will be the third census of its kind taken in Massachusetts and will probably be conducted along lines similar to those followed in 1909 and 1912.

The results of the two previous censuses have been of tremendous importance and a great aid to the commission in the laying out of new roads and the reconstruction of damaged thoroughfares. The traffic census is taken by the commission in order to secure information regarding the character, weight and distribution of the traffic which uses the various roads throughout the commonwealth, so that the commission may determine what kind of roads are needed for each section, which highways need the most repairing and the best places to build new roads.

The traffic census is distinctly a Massachusetts institution. The census of 1909 was the first ever taken in this country and probably the first in the whole world. It is believed now that the census this year will be taken one week in August and another one week in October, and that the results will be ready for the first of the year.

Chairman William D. Sohler of the highway commission expects this year's census to be more complete than the previous ones. In 1912 and 1909, in view of the fact that nearly twice as many automobiles are expected to be registered this year, the motor traffic is expected to increase accordingly.

Interest begins Saturday, May 1, at the Central Savings bank.

Victims Are Young Children

WORCESTER, April 12.—Worcester experienced the worst dog scare in a long time yesterday when a frenzied mongrel injured 12 persons and killed more than a dozen hens as it raced through the Providence Hill section. Those bitten and their injuries:

Lloyd Mahan, aged 21, 31 South Stovell street, right wrist and hand torn, fingers of right hand.

Oliver Hebert, aged 12, 163 Washington street, left leg.

Chester Laforce, aged 11, 165 Washington street, left hand.

George McInerney, aged 11, 60 Coral street, right hand.

Timothy McInerney, aged 10, 60 Coral street, right hand.

Fred Niederberg, aged 3, 15 Harrison street, right leg.

Joseph Zinkivitch, aged 10, 6 Foyle street, right leg.

John Annerchiesky, aged 8, 16 Foyle street, right hand.

Vincent Seaton, aged 8, 39 Granite street, right wrist.

John Shinnahan, aged 12, 12 Foyle street, right arm.

Bernard Zindian, aged 9, 10 Taylor street, right arm.

They were given emergency treatment by Dr. Charles H. Little at the city hospital. The dog killed 12 hens on the Stovell farm and seven at the McInerney residence.

The dog was captured on the Stovell farm, 48 Granite street, and killed by Patrolmen Cold and O'Brien. In attempting to hold the dog, which had been trapped between a gate and a post, Mahan received severe bites on his right hand and wrist. The dog's teeth laid bare the tendons.

The police have received nearly 100 telephone calls from people saying their children were bitten. Many fear symptoms of rabies would develop at once wanted to know what they should do. Last night the police and ambulance surgeons had difficulty in securing enough serum for treating persons who were bitten.

The police, according to Dr. Charles H. Little, superintendent of the city hospital, must be injected every day for 21 consecutive days. At present there is none at the hospital, and under present regulations only small quantities are sent to District Inspector Valcott at Natick. It has not been decided whether yesterday's victims will be attended in Worcester or taken to Natick for daily treatment.

Just what will be done rests partly on the result of an examination of the dog's head by Dr. Charles H. Perry, Worcester veterinary, Assistant Medical Officer. Dr. Perry has volunteered to assist in determining whether or not the dog was suffering from rabies.

SCHOONER WENT ASHORE

KIT CARSON PROBABLY WILL BE A TOTAL LOSS—CREW REACHED SHORE SAFELY

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., April 12.—The two masted schooner Kit Carson, coal laden from New York for Narragansett, went ashore two miles south of the Narragansett Pier coast guard station early today and probably will be a total loss. The members of the crew reached shore safely in their own boats.

The Kit Carson registered 175 tons and was built at Bucksport, Me. in 1877. Her home port was Bangor.

THE FLYING SQUADRON

At a meeting of the Flying Squadron committee held yesterday afternoon in the Y. M. C. A., recent events in the temperance field were discussed and subscriptions to temperance papers were entered for the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and City Library. The matter of mass meetings and open-air stereopticon lectures was talked over and the method of securing signatures for the prohibition registration cards was also discussed.

WOMAN DROWNS

Mrs. Ward of Natick Lost Life in Charles River

NATICK, April 12.—Josephine, wife of Samuel Ward, Elliot street, South Natick, was drowned while canoeing this afternoon on the Charles river. Her husband and Richard Turple, a lodger in the Ward house, were able to save themselves.

The party had reached a point about 200 yards below the Farm street bridge when the canoe was overturned as the men tried to change positions. The police will search for Mrs. Ward's body today. She was 26 years old and is survived by her husband and three children. She has relatives in Somerville.

REV. DR. LITTLE IS DEAD

WAS FOR 23 YEARS PASTOR OF DORCHESTER CHURCH—REFUSED TO MARRY DIVORCEES

BOSTON, April 12.—The Rev. Dr. Arthur Little, retired Congregational clergyman, for 23 years pastor of the Second church in Dorchester, died yesterday morning after an illness of several days at his residence in Newtonville, where he has lived since his retirement from the active ministry. He was 78 years old.

Born May 24, 1837, in Webster, N. H., the son of Simon B. and Harriet (Boyd) Little, Dr. Little obtained his degree of A. B. from Dartmouth college in 1860. Later he studied at the Andover and Princeton seminaries, and in 1868 was granted the degree of D. D. by Dartmouth.

His first marriage in Washington, August 15, 1863, was to Miss L. Elizabeth (Boyd) Little, who died 26 years later, in 1889. Dr. Little was wedded to Elizabeth A. Wales of Boston.

Ordained to the Congregational ministry in 1869, Dr. Little was for two years chaplain to the 1st Vermont heavy artillery during the Civil war, and has since then spoken at many camp meetings of Grand Army men. After serving for three years as pastor of the Presbyterian church of Hallowell, Me., Dr. Little gave the other 40 or 45 years of his ministry to three churches, of 19 years he was pastor of the First Congregational church at Fond du Lac, Wis.; for 10 years pastor of the New England church in Chicago and for the last 10 years an active years pastor of the Second Congregational church of Dorchester.

Dr. Little was prominent in his labors for elvive righteousness, and was a familiar figure before the legislature against a secular Sabbath. At the time of the Astor-Eclectic marriage, he took a firm stand before the Congregational ministers' meeting in Boston on the question of remarrying divorced persons, declaring that if he was ever faced with the proposition of performing such a ceremony, he would refuse to act.

Serving from 1893 to 1895 as trustee of Ripon College, Wisconsin, Dr. Little was elected president of the board of trustees of Bradford academy and president of the board of visitors of the Andover Theological seminary. He was also corporate member, A. B. G. H. M., vice-president of the American National society, and moderator of national churches in 1893. He was sent as a delegate to the international council in London, 1891.

HARD TO GET RECRUITS

NO WILLING BELLIGERES, WRITES RECRUITING OFFICER IN REPORT TO LONDON

LONDON, March 29 (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—There are virtually no willing eligible men left to be recruited in those parts of the country which I have visited," writes an army recruiting officer to the Times. Those who remain, he states, are either in the employ of the state; doing work which is essential for the defense of the state; under hindling obligations to parents, wives, children, employers or employees or religious principles from which the state alone can release them; or, as he says, "so good men that they are dead to all other considerations or ignorant or stultified."

The officer believes that if any considerable additional number of men is required, conscription will be necessary.
